Defend sewer repair method

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
A supplemental report to a U. S. government-directed survey of sanitary sewer break repairs may open the way for Granite City to recover $13,000 in flood disaster aid funds that had been denied on recommendation of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Mayor Paul Schuler told the City Council Monday night.

The supplemental report was made by Dr. James Kanipe, professional engineer of Limbaugh Engineers, Inc., of Albuquerque, N. M., who upheld the methods and costs of dewatering Granite City sewer breaks in sanitary lines by the Fins P. Ernest Contracting Co., of East St. Louis which made $1.6 million worth of repairs to sewer breaks here between July 1973 and July this year.

At the same time, Schuler told council members that the survey ordered by the federal government to determine a "cut-off date" for payment of disaster aid funds to assist in repairing sewer breaks in municipalities in the Madison-St. Clair County area has resulted in allocation of only $67,000 in additional funds to Granite City.

Schuler said that of 16 Granite City sewer breaks inspected in the survey by the Bovay Engineers, Inc., of Houston, Tex., at the request of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration, all but one was recommended by the engineers as ineligible for additional funds.

The full text of the reports by Dr. Kanipe and by Bovay Engineers, Inc., are published on page 16 of this issue.

The exception, for which the $67,000 allotment was recommended, is for repair of a sewer break at 4106 Stearns Ave., described by city officials as one of the worst of 17 breaks that still remain unrepaired.

The mayor said he will appeal immediately the earlier rejection of $313,000 in payments that have been made by the city to the Ernest contracting firm for dewatering work at sewer breaks where the firm made repairs. Schuler said the Corps of Engineers had overruled these costs on grounds that the dewatering methods did not follow procedures approved by the corps. As a result, disaster aid for this work claimed by the city was turned down.

The appeal will be made to the FDAA on the basis of Dr. Kanipe's report which said that dewatering processes in repairing the Granite City sewer breaks "were both Ruling ends city ban on town homes

Based on its action on a legal opinion by Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott, the Land Use committee of the Madison County Board Tuesday approved a proposal for development of the Fourth Addition to Town and Country East, a project that had been stalled earlier by the Granite City Plan Commission's refusal to approve the project.

The Land Use committee, which in the past has refused to accept plats for subdivision developments unless the projects were approved by the plan commission in a mile-and-a-half zone surrounding Granite City, said it will continue to act hereafter on such projects without Granite City action because of the attorney general's opinion.

Louis Whitsell, County Board member of Nameoki District 26 and a member of the committee, said the opinion holds that "a municipality has no specific or general authority to exercise continuing jurisdiction over petitions for a variance by a city. The only authority a municipality has after a county has adopted a zoning ordinance is to protest any proposed variance."

On this basis, Whitsell said, the Land Use committee felt it has the authority to proceed with approval of petitions for plat acceptance without first obtaining approval of Granite City when the property is located within the mile-and-a-half belt.

In the past, all petitions for development within the area were accepted by the county only after they had been approved by Granite City.

The Town and Country East project, acceptance of a plat for which had been turned down both by the Granite City Plan Commission and the Granite City Council, involves plans for construction of six new homes restricted to the $30,000 to $40,000 price range.

Developer is the Morris Realty Co., 1907 Edison Ave., a pioneer Granite City firm and developer of many of the area's major subdivisions.

The new tract is south of Stratford Lane and north of Westmoreland Drive, and is bounded on the east by Town and Country East First Addition (31 residences) and Third Addition (19 homes and sites).

After plats are approved the developer applies for construction permits through the county's building department. Whitsell noted that in accordance with Scott's legal opinion Granite City will have the right to object to proposals for development within the mile-and-a-half area surrounding Granite City.

AERATION SYSTEM for Granite City's secondary sewage treatment plant. The system will include a 250x300-foot aeration tank, pictured here, plus four activated sludge treatment tanks. Five 500-horsepower air blowers are part of the aeration system, automatically adjusted for output capacity by continuous monitoring of oxygen in the aeration tanks. A plant monitor computer will continuously check operation of all plant systems and provide maintenance schedules. (Press-Record Photo)

Plant one-third done

Granite City's mammoth $12 million secondary sewage treatment plant is about 33 percent done.

The facility will serve a wide area in further purifying wastewater before it is deposited into the Mississippi River. A primary plant already is in operation.

Progress on the big construction project is traced in a photograph on this page and in other pictures on Page 46.

Other pictorial reports presented in today's issue of the Press-Record include scenes at several farms in the large agricultural area between the Quad-Cities and Edwardsville, on Page 45, and a view of the Golden Eagle paddle-wheel ferry, on Page 44.

The fiftieth anniversary of the Drusilla Andrews Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, is reported on Page 42 today. Mrs. Louis (Dorothy) Buenger also received 50-year DAR honors.

What's ahead for Illinois schools in the next decade is discussed on Page 3.

Reservations can still be made for the "I Do, I Do" dinner theater presentation at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church this weekend.

On Friday and Saturday, the dinner will be at 7 p.m. and the play at 8:15. On Sunday, the times will be an hour earlier—6 p.m. and 7:15 p.m.

Tickets cost $6.50 per person. They can be reserved by telephoning the church office at 877-4555 or the State residence at 931-2591 or the Pennell residence at 877-5537.

Venice may try a fourth school vote

A new attempt to secure voter approval of a tax rate increase in the educational fund of Venice School District 3 will be discussed by the Venice School Board in a special meeting tonight.

Should the board decide to proceed with another referendum, it would be the fourth public vote on a tax rate increase proposal within the past year and a half.

A proposal to raise the educational fund rate by $1.20 per $100 assessed valuation was defeated on June 30, 1973, and an 80-cent proposal was defeated in December. The third referendum on March 1 this year again ended in defeat of an 80-cent rise.

The district's present educational fund rate is limited to $2.05 and school officials say the district will encounter a critical financial condition later this year unless additional revenue becomes available.

The district this month approved a new budget reflecting a $298,000 deficit.

Found dead in refrigerator

Leo Battreal, 34, of 1937 Benton St., was found without signs of life inside a closed refrigerator in his apartment at 7:05 a.m. yesterday.

A friend of Battreal, Jene Stevens of Valley Park, Mo., found him in the refrigerator after she went to his apartment looking for him. She said he had failed to attend competition in St. Louis with his bowling league at 9 p.m. Tuesday, so she came to his home to see if he was ill.

When she entered the apartment, she had to force the kitchen door open. It had been secured by a chair propped against it from inside the kitchen, she said.

She noticed that all of the shelves of the refrigerator had been removed and all of the food was scattered on the table and stove. She opened the refrigerator and saw Mr. Battreal inside, and then ran downstairs to the apartment of the landlady, Mrs. Emma Cavness.

She recalls telling Mrs.

Cavness, "I think he's dead. I found him in the ice box." Mrs. Cavness called police.

Officers found him sealed inside the refrigerator, covered with insulation from the inside of the door. His hands were scratched from apparent attempts to get out. The door also had been dented in several places from the inside.

A necktie had been tied to the outside handle and the ends were inside the refrigerator. The tie could have been used to pull the door closed from inside, authorities said.

A team of investigators from the National Crime Prevention Bureau office at Fairview Heights was called to the scene to assist Granite City detectives with the investigation.

Two points which police say they are investigating are that the kitchen window was not locked—someone may have left through the window after barricading the door—and there was blood from Mr. Battreal's

Nameoki attorney quits in pay dispute

Nick D. Vasileff resigned Monday night as township attorney for Nameoki Township, but has said he is giving "serious consideration" to pleas from several persons that he retain the post.

The resignation came during Monday night's Nameoki Town Board meeting, a short time after an angry exchange of words between he and Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell concerning the means of paying him.

At the last town board meeting Sept. 9, Vasileff requested that his pay be changed to $50 per hour, not to exceed $4,000 per year. Formerly he received $3,000 per year as attorney for the township and $1,000 per year as highway department attorney. It was noted the change in method of payment could not increase the amount of money he would receive.

Vasileff said if his pay was changed to an hourly wage, rather than a salary, he could retire and begin to collect his Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund money.

Temper flared when Whitsell suggested Vasileff's plan may be legal, but that he felt Vasileff should not be employed and collecting his retirement money.

"I don't think it's right. IMRF is supported by taxpayers. How should one be allowed to work and still draw his retirement?" Whitsell queried.

Others indicated they felt if Vasileff was permitted to draw his retirement in this way, most of the street department workers also would qualify to retire, but keep on working.

The group voted on changing Vasileff's pay with Norman Hessler, Eugene Gargac and W. Lee Adams voting in favor of granting him the change, and Kenneth Gieson and Whitsell voting against.

Despite his victory, Vasileff, later in the meeting, said he was resigning. At the end of the meeting, he was asked to reconsider by Adams, Highway Commissioner Albert Bell, and Mrs. Helen Hawkins, an opponent of Whitsell in the District 26, Madison County Board election this November.

Vasileff then told them he would give it "serious consideration."

Bell asked the board if he had any control over the secretaries in the town hall. Whitsell said a former township attorney, William Schooley, gave an opinion to the board several years ago that the town clerk, Douglas Teeter, is the highway commissioner's secretary.

The town clerk then may hire as much help as he needs, with approval by the town board. The opinion indicates that Bell has no direct control over the secretaries in the town hall office. Whitsell contended, since they are assistants to he and Teeter.

Bell said one secretary is paid from road and bridge funds, and therefore should be under his control. The board asked Whitsell to find Schooley's legal opinion and bring it to the board for its next meeting Oct. 12.

Toll-free number for bus schedule

The Bi-State Transit System has announced a toll-free telephone number at which Quad City residents may obtain bus route information seven days a week. The number is 875-4144.

Information clerks will be on duty from 6:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. At all other hours, questions from callers will be recorded on special telephone equipment and the answer will be given in a return call the following day.

Illinois school outlook includes fund squeeze, teacher surplus and individualized instruction

"Perhaps the most significant new reality we face in education today is that we are entering a period of 'retrenchment' while at the same time we continue to seek purposeful school renewal. This unique condition will require educators to mobilize their resources with a sophistication and awareness not required in our recent past."

This comment on the future of education in Illinois for the next decade appears in the third annual State of Education Message, issued Monday by Superintendent of Public Instruction Michael J. Bakalis. The coming period of retrenchment for education has its roots in declining student populations, Dr. Bakalis said. His third yearly report on education showed that kindergarten enrollments between the 1969-70 school year and 1973-74 dropped eight per cent while first grade enrollment dropped 15 per cent for the same period in the state's schools.

"The end to the boom in education has serious implications for private citizens and educators as well," Bakalis said. "Tax and bond referenda are likely to be defeated more frequently and state and federal appropriations will probably level off and may eventually decline."

For teachers also, the implications are ominous, the report said. The teacher shortage of 20 years past has ended and there are two or three teachers for every current teaching position, it is asserted. Retrenchment will be a time "during which educational planners will be forced to adjust their strategies, machinery and diminishing revenues to perform more effectively and efficiently," he said. But this is potentially a healthy development, according to Bakalis.

Frivolous and unworkable school programs will be phased out and proven ones will be preserved and enlarged," he said. "In the process, we will begin to learn how to operate our schools and other public institutions within the now more clearly understood limitations of our abundance."

To meet the demands of technology and change, educators are finding it necessary to explore new ways of providing options and alternatives for each child to realize his or her educational potential.

Individualized instruction, the 12-month school concept, and an experiment in career education that strives to build career awareness and skills, are among the alternatives the state office has been involved in, Bakalis related.

The Educational Alternatives Section, a newly established department within the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI), searches for alternative approaches to education to meet the needs of diverse publics. The State of Education report listed programs made in the following areas:

—In December 1973, the state office issued the second edition of "Action Goals for the Seventies: An Agenda for Illinois Education." This document specifies goals and objectives for the state's education system.

—The state education office revised the "Illinois Program for Evaluation, Supervision and Recognition of Schools," to require every school district to develop and submit a written program plan. The plan will be used in recognition and supervision visits by OSPI's School Approval Section. Evaluation will be keyed to the district's goals.

—In the area of equal educational opportunity, the state has taken steps to eliminate segregation. Of the 1,064 school districts in the state, only three continue actively to resist compliance with the Rules and Regulations for the Elimination and Prevention of Segregation in Schools," issued by the state office in 1971, Bakalis asserted.

—The state office has recognized the needs of non-English speaking students through bilingual programs. State funding for bilingual education has increased from $200,000 to $6 million since 1971. The number of students involved in such programs has increased from 14 per cent of the 100,000 non-English speaking children to nearly 17 per cent.

The number of bilingual-bicultural teachers has increased from 35 in 1971 to almost 500 in 1974. Bilingual education service centers have been opened in Chicago and Mount Prospect to provide training and consultative services to districts having students of limited English speaking capabilities.

—The state coordinated development of the "Manual of Procedures for Approving Illinois Teacher Education Institutions and Programs." It is designed to facilitate a uniform range of quality programs within a diverse range of institutional settings.

—Increased teacher representation on the State Teacher Certification Board was realized through legislation enacted in 1972.

—The state is studying the establishment of cooperative teacher centers for better use of human and financial resources in teacher preparation. If the findings of this inquiry are positive, the state office will draft legislation to establish teacher centers.

—In the area of federal funds for schools, the most significant development was the freeing of $21 million in impounded U.S. funds.

The state submitted a reduced budget for operation for the fiscal year of 1974-75. The request is smaller than the appropriation requests for the three preceding years, including that of the previous administration.

While this reduced budget request was made during a time of rising prices, new services were initiated, including programs related to bilingual education, urban education, teacher preparation and certification, educational assessment testing and the Illinois Network for School Development.

The state education office took steps to further professionalize the agency, it is related. Professional employees were offered one-year individual contracts. The contracts contain an ethics statement, a grievance procedure, and a management employee agreement containing the employee's work plan for one year.

Bakalis stressed the importance of the new State Board of Education defining its role with great care, and with full understanding of the potential of its power. Because of the nature of the

North's band parents to meet

The Granite City High School North Band Parents Association will hold a monthly meeting Tuesday, Oct. 1, in the Library at North High at 8 p.m. Plans will be formulated for events in the future. Robert D. Todoroff, band director, will explain activities of the band at sports events and other performances.

Attendance is being encouraged for all parents of band units—the band, Pom-pom squad and majorettes.

The State Board, the public will no longer have a direct voice either to the board or the superintendent, he said. It will, therefore, become necessary for the board to go into committees and to the people, "let the board become a distant and anonymous body," Bakalis warned.

Marshall programs reviewed

Marshall School PTA heard a review of the new Learning Center at the school from Mrs. Mary Schwab, upper primary teacher, and the kindergarten program with its changes during the past years by Mrs. Gail Cooper, at its September meeting.

President William Schreiber was in charge of the meeting and presented a past-president's pin to Richard Ault who served in the office last year.

Other officers introduced were Dennis Sturman, vice-president; Mrs. Rose Arnold, secretary; and Mrs. Due Reading, treasurer.

Committee chairmen introduced included: ways and means, Marilyn Smith and Nancy Wickham; hospitality, Rose Marie Ortiz; membership, Margaret Pitters and Doris Zigler; picnic, Rose Arnold and Jackie Dillard; carnival, Adelbert Ambuehl. Schreiber reported the PTA will publish a monthly newsletter in lieu of the yearbook normally prepared for the parents.

Refreshments were served by the executive board to 80 parents and members in the school cafeteria after the meeting. Decorations using the school theme for the year, "A Whale of a Year," in the school colors of blue and white, were arranged by Mrs. Mary Jo Akeman.

Better nutrition goal of more detailed food labels

The new look in food labels goes into full effect Jan. 1, 1975.

Changes that you see on labels at the supermarket came about because of a Food and Drug Administration program to promote better nutrition by making food labeling more informative.

Nutrition labeling is voluntary for most foods. But the product's label must contain full information on nutritional content, if a nutrient is added to any product, or if a nutritional claim is made in the labeling or in an advertisement.

For instance, if the label or an ad makes any references to protein, fat, carbohydrate, calories, vitamins, minerals, or use in dieting, the label must contain complete nutrition information.

Products normally sold as "enriched" or "fortified" require full nutrition labeling.

The new food labels must list the levels of vitamins and minerals as a percentage of the U. S. Recommended Daily Allowances (U. S. RDA). These levels replace the outmoded

FDA Minimum Daily Requirements.

The U.S. RDA is an average that takes into account the various sex and age groupings.

In general, the standard established for each nutrient is the highest recommended allowance set by the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council, National Academy of Sciences. It includes a safety margin to allow for differences in individual nutritional needs.

A listing of seven important vitamins and minerals must ordinarily be included on the label. They are vitamin A, vitamin C, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, calcium and iron. Another 12 vitamins and minerals may also be listed.

Whenever a food is labeled with nutrition information, the label must follow this standard format:

"Nutrition Information Per Serving."

1. Serving size.
2. Servings per container.
3. Calories.
4. Protein.

5. Carbohydrate.
6. Fat.

7. Percentage of U. S. Recommended Daily Allowances for seven vitamins and minerals.

Next time you shop for groceries, read the information provided on food labels to identify and select nutritious foods.

New Hope 432 initiates one

New Hope 432, Order of Eastern Star, conducted an initiation ceremony for Teresa McGovern at a meeting during the weekend at the Masonic Temple.

Escorted and introduced were Dorothy Edwards of New Hope and Mrs. Hazel Woods of Granite Chapter 650, both grand lecturers and grand chapter committee members.

Mrs. Thelma Prewett, worthy matron, and Howard Prewett, worthy patron, presided at the meeting. They announced officers and members have been invited to attend guest night hosted by Granite Chapter on Friday night.

Plans also were reported for New Hope to observe past matron and past patron night at the Oct. 1 meeting. Mrs. Charlotte Robinson was named chairman of the planning committee.

Logan PTA plan candy sale

A candy sale to begin on Wednesday, Oct. 2, was discussed at the first meeting of Logan School PTA meeting held last week.

The district president, Mrs. Vernice Wortman, called the convention to order and introduced the following state and national officers: Viola Allen, Illinois Department president, of Springfield; Mary Fritz, Illinois Department secretary, of Springfield; Marie Robinson, national treasurer, of Springfield; Jane Riley, national council member, Chicago; Gertrude McCarthy, member of national board of directors, Chicago; and Edith Mitchell, co-chairman, Illinois Committee, Chicago.

A luncheon was held at the Burns Cafeteria. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Joyce Moran, president; Golda Mohrman, senior vice president; Vivian Rowden, junior vice president; Louise Thompson, chaplain; Arlene Fox, treasurer; Patricia, instructor; Augusta Munsterman, council members; Vernice Wortman, Pearl Ward and Kathryn Fellers; and secretary, Irma Taylor.

One of the highlights of the convention was the showing of

HOUSE IS LOOTED

A radio, lantern, watch, aspirin, books and photos were stolen from the home of Pate Becerra, 229 Delmar Ave., it was reported during the weekend. A screen was removed to gain entry, Becerra said.

Lambda convention planned for April

The State Planning committee of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society met during the weekend in Bloomington, Ill. to complete arrangements for the Lambda State convention.

The convention will be held April 11 to 13 at the Peoria Hilton Hotel in Peoria. Members of Beta Eta Chapter who attended the meetings were Mrs. Josephine O'Neill of Edwardsville, state recording secretary, and Mrs. Valerie Stevens, member of the state planning group.

800 in local baton contest

Eight hundred competitors representing seven states participated in an all-trophy and baton contest at Grigsby Junior High School. The event was sponsored by the Sharold Young School of Baton.

Ten high-point trophies were awarded to contestants who won the highest number of events. Winners in the 7-10 year-old group were Charme Rogers of Maryville, Tenn., 11-14, Debbie Buckholz of Cudahy, Wis., 15 and older, Karen Overholt of Maryville, Tenn. who also won the travel trophy. Intermediate high point winners were Michelle Orr, Golconda, Ill.; Laura Behle, Hazelwood, Mo.; Jackie Puhaski, Granite City. Advanced high point winners, Michelle Pruneau, Memphis, Tenn.; Victoria Huff, Cahokia, Ill.; Connie Ward, Carrollton, Mo.; Pam Foppe, St. Louis. Highlighting the weekend event was the Miss Majorette pageant that attracted 70 girls, who were required to model, strut and twirl to accumulate one third of their top scores.

First place winners in various age categories were, Laurie Norris, Granite City; Charme Rogers, Maryville, Tenn.; Lisa Armour, Madison, Ill.; Kara Wellandich, Overland, Mo.; Debbie Buckholz, Cudahy, Wis.; Sharon Irvin, Ballwin, Mo.; Karen Overholt, Maryville, Tenn.

Advanced winners taking first places were Michelle Pruneau, Memphis; Raquel Runyan, Indianapolis, Ind.; Shelly Evans, St. Louis; Brenda Owsley, Columbia; Connie Ward, Carrollton, Mo.; Diane Melton, Decatur, Ill.; Ann Strait, St. Louis.

Mrs. Yount will give her third annual Miss Sweetheart all-trophy contest on Feb. 8. Interested contestants may call 931-4742.

Mrs. Moran leads district Daughters of Union Veterans

The 47th annual District Eight convention of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, 1861-65, Inc., was held during the weekend at the National Headquarters Museum in Chicago.

It was noted that the National Headquarters Museum is at 503 S. Walnut St., Springfield, Ill., and is open daily to the public. Admission is free. Civil War mementos can be purchased at the museum.

Gifts were presented to the department and district presidents. The retiring president, Mrs. Wortman, presented gifts to her officers. The newly-elected president, Mrs. Moran, invited the district to meet in Granite City in 1975.

Mother Study Club resumes meetings

The Mothers Study Club resumed meetings Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Vivian Rowden, 1608 Lindell Blvd.

Program for the evening entitled "Broken Children," a subject relating to child abuse, was presented by Mrs. Helen McGarrath.

After the meeting, games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Delores Harizal and Mrs. Marie Planitz. Refreshments were served by the hostess to those named and to Mesdames Marian Ropac, Frances Letz, Crystal Slack, Helen Toncoff and Peggy Crnkovich.

High groundwater called a top priority problem

Proposals to address the specific problem of groundwater and to form a committee of technical experts to identify flood control and stormwater runoff problems and causes were considered Tuesday by the Metro Study Interagency Coordinating Committee.

The 24-member committee of water-related agency representatives, which meets monthly, is guiding study efforts to meet water resource needs throughout Bi-State St. Louis.

The Metro Study, a comprehensive investigation of bi-state St. Louis water resources, is being coordinated by the St. Louis District Corps of Engineers.

The 1972 Congressional resolutions which authorized the Metro Study specified eight categories, but did not limit the investigation to flood control, flood plain development, wastewater management, water supply and quality, recreation, fish and wildlife conservation and environmental protection and enhancement.

The high groundwater levels in the American Bottoms technical committees will meet within the next month to begin addressing the problems.

Reports of the two groups will be presented at the Oct. 29 Metro Study Interagency Coordinating Committee meeting.

As problems, causes, and alternatives are identified, further reports will be given to the committee for action and recommendations.

The stormwater runoff problem plagues all sections of metropolitan St. Louis but St. Louis County is a primary example. It is estimated that $1.6 billion would be required in St. Louis County alone to solve flood control and stormwater runoff problems.

The Metro Study will focus on identification and solution of specific causes of existing and future groundwater and stormwater runoff problems.

St. Louis County already is undertaking programs to solve its problems, but Robert Hagel, director of public works and the county's ITC representative, stressed the importance of a coordinated effort on the part of all counties in the study area.

"We need a comprehensive plan, rather than each of us doing our own thing, so we can head off similar problems in the future," Hagel told the committee. "I would like to give others the benefit of some of the mistakes we have made so they don't have the same thing happen to them."

He has reported that St. Louis County's problems are a result of building development over the past 20 years without a coordinated plan for properly handling stormwater discharge.

Ninety-nine per cent of the county's residents do not live adjacent to a drainage channel. The one per cent who do are faced with flooded basements and streets, swampy backyards, and eroded ditches each time there is a heavy rain, it is contended.

Although major efforts to solve the high groundwater problem will be concentrated in the American Bottoms, it will be addressed in other areas, too.

To prevent a duplication of efforts and to insure a comprehensive approach to identifying and solving the causes and problems, work will be coordinated through the Corps, Illinois Water Survey, and western Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission and other appropriate agencies.

GC park board ok's bid call

The Granite City Park Board gave its approval last night to bid call for construction of tennis and basketball courts at West Granite Park at an estimated cost of $9,000.

Excavating work is to start immediately and construction will begin early next year.

The board originally was approved for recreational construction, the remaining $4,000 for the construction of building two additional tennis courts adjacent to the north end of the present courts at Wilson Park on Fendig Road.

The board also agreed not to fill the board vacancy caused by the resignation last month of Park Commissioner Paul Thompson until the next regular election.

Two injured as train derailed

Two men were injured when three cars of a 40-car Illinois Terminal Railroad freight train left the tracks at the Center Grove Road crossing near Highway 159, south of Edwardsville, Monday.

Officials said one car left the tracks and pulled two other cars off with it. Two of the cars were empty and the third was carrying paper rolls.

Injured were the train's conductor, August Stankoven, 55, Gillespie, and a brakeman, Casper, 21, East St. Louis. They were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Stankoven was treated for swelling in his forehead and Casper was treated for injuries to his left foot and his back. X-rays were taken and both men were released from the hospital.

The St. Louis to Illinois Route 159 was rerouted to Route 157 for four hours.

George Miller dies at 86

George "Dutch" Miller, 86, of 2949 E. 25th St., former owner of a tavern near Sixth street and Madison Ave., for 50 years, was announced dead at home at 10:55 a.m. today.

He had been ill for some time. There will be no funeral.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Catherine Miller; one son, Illinois State Trooper Leonard Miller of Granite City, and a daughter, Mrs. Irene Stokes of Florissant, Mo.

Arrangements are pending at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 N. Niedringhaus Ave., Call 876-4321.

Hits parked car

Robert Duncan, 22, of Rural Route One, Box 345, Granite City, was injured when he lost control of his southbound car in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue, and it struck the parked car of Jack Whitlock, 1427 Madison Ave. Duncan was charged with reckless driving.

Duncan was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with abrasions to the right side of his chest. A series of x-rays was taken and he was admitted.

WHEELS HITS CAR

The front left wheel of the truck of Melvin Hanks, Edwardsville, came off his southbound truck on Route 151 and crossed into the Parktowne West Mobile Home park. The tire careened off the side of a trailer and struck the car of Jerald Kent, 8 Parktowne West, damaging the car.

WEST PONTON BURGULARY

Items worth about $580 were stolen from the home of Hermon Gross, 1488 W. Ponton Road, it was reported at 11 p.m. yesterday. A rear door was pried open to gain entry. Taken were a television, a tool box and tools, two chain saws and an undetermined quantity of pennies.

TILL TAPPING

Lynn Townsend, manager of Jim's Standard Service, 180 Madison Ave., Madison, reported to police at 4:15 p.m. Wednesday that someone had stolen a $20 bill and several one dollar bills from the cash register. The manager said he did not know who took the money.

Mrs. Spillers, 66, dies

Mrs. Irene Spillers, 66, of 89 Shirlwin Drive, suffered an apparent heart attack Tuesday while on a bus tour of the New England states and died at 4 p.m. Wednesday at St. Joseph Hospital, Syracuse, N.Y.

Mrs. Spillers was the former executive secretary to Granite City Steel Chairman N. P. Voecker. She was employed at the local steel plant 24 years and retired Jan. 31, 1973.

A member of the First United Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Spillers also belonged to New Hope Chapter 432, Order of Eastern Star, and Gabriel Shrine 78, White Shrine of Jerusalem.

News Notes

Fire at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday badly damaged the Mississippi Club, located on the west side of the Mississippi River, while it was moored at Wharf Street in St. Louis.

President Ford attended a reception given by the Illinois State Society Tuesday evening honoring three retiring Illinois Congressmen—Leslie Arendt, Kenneth Gray and Harold Collier.

Spokesmen for trade groups opposing possible regulations on shipping and storing hazardous toxic materials during an Illinois Pollution Control Board hearing Tuesday. They said the proposed rules would duplicate other standards, cause much paperwork and add little to present systems for dealing with chemical emergencies.

William C. Harris, Illinois Senate president, said Tuesday the state's new campaign finance law would lead to private contributions, forcing campaigns to be financed entirely with public funds. He said the law would be continued by citizens.

A new newspaper price increases is being predicted.

Recurfacing and patching of the deck of the Interstate 270 bridge over the Mississippi River is expected to be half completed by Nov. 1. The project has been under way for more than a year. Under plans call for one lane in each direction to be closed for 14 days, leaving the remaining two lanes next spring.

The Terminal Railroad Association this week proposed to remove freight trains from the St. Louis to Illinois River, improving access to floating restaurants. The city may seek federal or other funds to build a spur track near MacArthur Bridge.

It was determined Wednesday that former President Nixon has a potentially dangerous blood clot in his right lung.

Charles Merritt Sr., East St. Louis School Board president, resigned yesterday with Donald Hodges, a former East St. Louis city employee, on federal charges of conspiracy to murder Clyde Jordan, a member of the school board. Jordan is a frequent critic of purchasing and hiring policies of the majority board faction. The two allegedly sought to hire a "hit man" to kill Jordan.

Firemen conduct benefit roadblock

Volunteers from the Granite City Fire Department will offer their day off, conducted a road block during the weekend and collected a total of $1,201 for the cystic fibrosis fund-raising campaign.

The men stationed collectors at the Johnson-Namecki intersection in the morning and again on Friday evening for the one-day project.

Purse snatching

Mrs. Barbara Dudak, 1714 Sixth St., and Mrs. Theresa Brzostowski, 1800 Fifth St., Madison, were victims of a purse snatching in the 1400 block of Third Street Monday.

Two teenage boys grabbed the purses and ran. The handle of Mrs. Brzostowski's purse broke, spilling the contents and causing the thief to drop the purse.

Mrs. Dudak's purse contained a blank check, one for $140, and $3 in cash.

Fencing class

Registration for a fencing class to be offered at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. today in Room 0033 of Lovejoy Library. Instruction will begin Oct. 1.

The class is sponsored by the SIUE Fencing Club and the co-sponsor is the local fencing office. It is open to the public without charge.

Clauses will meet Tuesdays from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. for ten weeks.

Certificates will be awarded after successful completion of the class, or proficiency credit for physical education may be arranged.

Robert Schopp, chairman of the physiology department at the SIUE School of Dental Medicine, will teach the class. He is also coach of the Fencing Club.

Canal cleared of coal barge

A barge carrying about 1,500 tons of coal that partially sank in the Chain of Rocks Canal on Tuesday was reported cleared at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Colen said the tug boat master told that the tug boat Alton reported the upper canal clear and the barge was taken to St. Louis for repair, passing under the local Lock and Dam No. 27 here at 10:45 p.m. Wednesday.

The barge apparently buckled in the middle and began taking on water about 9 a.m. Tuesday, according to Colen. He said the really hamper river traffic because it was stopped very near the Illinois bank.

Girl missing from home

Cheryl Ann Walton, 16, daughter of Albert Walton, 18 Lakeview Dr., Ponton Beach, was reported to police this week as missing since Monday, Sept. 16. Police said she last was seen at home and later was found in Fulton County, Mo., with several other teenagers.

She is described as being five feet, three inches tall, has brown hair and hazel eyes. She last was seen wearing a brown coat with lamb trim collar and brown and white shoes.

Anyone knowing her whereabouts are requested to call her father at 931-3561 or the Ponton Beach Police at 931-6902.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY OF ROBERT HAGNAUERS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hagnauer, 2331 Iowa St., observed their 25th wedding anniversary at an open house reception given at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall by their children for guests.

Among those attending were the entire wedding party and children, the honoree's children, Kathleen, Robert and Mary Ellen Hagnauer.

Mr. Battreal was pronounced dead in the refrigerator at 7:25 a.m. Wednesday by Madison County Deputy Coroner William H. Stenberg.

Mr. Battreal was last seen alive Sunday, but the landlady reported hearing noises from the apartment about 7 p.m. Tuesday and said she believed he was there then.

An autopsy was held Wednesday and an inquest is pending to establish the cause of death.

He was born in Missouri and resided in Granite City for five years. He was a self-employed musician and played with the Sound of Country band.

Survivors include a son, Don Battreal and daughter, Miss Rebecca Battreal, both of Granite City; his mother, Mrs. Essie Battreal of Cadet, Mo.; one brother, Jack Battreal of St. Louis; and a sister, Donna, of St. Louis. His father Leo Battreal, died in 1968.

Arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Gray, Collinsville, Sept. 22, Donald James, seven pounds, five ounces.

Illinois state police with leaving the scene of an accident and improper lane usage.

Police alleged Carreras' eastbound auto crossed the center line on Route 162 about one mile west of Route 161, sideswiped the pickup truck of Randy Lawson, Agenda, Kan., and left the scene of the accident.

Carreras then was believed to have turned around and driven west on Route 162.

Rule comment was well behind him, he encountered the tractor-trailer of James Young, Washington, Pa., stopped in the eastbound lanes behind another pickup truck. Carreras' car allegedly crossed the center line and struck the side of the truck.

Again it is alleged that the car left the scene and went toward Granite City on Route 162.

A state trooper answered the call to the second accident and was told the hit-and-run vehicle had left moments ago. He drove west to try and find the car and came across the third accident at Nameeki Road.

Both cars were disabled in that crash. A Madison County Sheriff's Department car, which also had responded to the calls on the first two accidents, arrived moments later and an ambulance was summoned.

Carreras and the driver of the other 208 auto, Douglas Hommert, 19, of 408 Melrose Ave., were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where both were admitted.

Carreras suffered cuts to his chin and his forehead and abrasions to the top of his head and both knees. Hommert was treated for abrasions to his left shoulder and an injury to his right arm.

Neither Lawson nor Young was injured.

practical and well-founded from an engineering standpoint."

The Bovay engineering firm was retained by FDAA to make a survey of sewer breaks in the "East St. Louis Vicinity" which embraced Granite City, Venice, Madison and a number of other communities whose officials had protested a Dec. 31, 1973, cut-off date for paying broken pipe on the repair of broken sewers.

In the report received this week by Mayor Schuler, the engineers recommended the city pay for the cost of $170,100 for five sewer breaks in Venice and $190,500 to the City of Madison for the major break in its sanitary line leading to the pumping station on the Army Installation grounds.

Because of Granite City's protest over rejection of the funds for dewatering activities, the government retained Dr. Kanpe specifically to inspect the Granite City repair work and report on the methods and cost of the dewatering process.

Dewatering was necessary at virtually all breaks because of the high water table which prevented excavations by which workmen could reach the broken sanitary lines. Under the contract with the Ernest firm, Granite City paid $2,500 for dewatering at each break.

Swallowing, along with Byrum, was pumping, represented about 75 per cent of the total repair cost.

Granite City thus far has received $226,000 of federal disaster aid funds, and has an additional $325,000 in aid claims on the approved list. The additional $67,000 approved by the Bovay report would give the city about $717,000, compared with the $6 million spent for sanitary sewer repairs.

Trojans confident for grid game at Columbia

Madison High School gridgers will seek Saturday to break into the win column and improve their 0-3 record when the Trojans travel to Columbia for a 2 p.m. first-ever meeting with the gridiron Eagles.

The clash between Madison and undefeated Columbia (3-0) will not only mark the first meeting of the two schools, but may also provide area fans with a preview of competition expected in next year's Cahokia Conference.

Last week, the Madison Board of Education gave its approval for Madison High to join, next year, for other schools in comprising a Cahokia Football Conference. The others are Columbia, Dupu, Freeburg and Westlin (Trenton-New Baden).

Madison Coach Al Vonder Haar views the approval to participate in a conference as "a step in the right direction for placing a small-enrollment school in the state playoffs."

Citing his school's record several years ago of 15-3 during a three-year period when Madison was a member of the Midwestern Conference, Vonder Haar said, "We would have to win only three games to take the conference title and earn the right to compete at the state level."

This will be the first year in which there is a post-season statewide grid tournament. The head coach commented that Madison's sports program this year has been enhanced by the interest of Norman Richard Corbin, the school's new principal, who is in the process of seeking approval from the Illinois High School Association for the Trojans to join the Cahokia Conference.

Madison's season thus far has seen losses to schools with student enrollments nearly three times that of Madison High. "Saturday," said Vonder Haar, "marks the first of our six small school games. Barring additional injuries, we have a good chance of posting six wins."

The Trojan's 34-6 loss to St. Louis Central this past weekend may have been due partly to the absence of senior Quarterback Emmett Timmons, a key performer for the past three years.

"With Timmons missing," said Vonder Haar, "it's like removing the wheel from a bicycle. You can coast without pedals but, without a wheel, you can't go anywhere."

Timmons received sidelining injuries last Thursday during a practice session and had to be hospitalized. He was released Sunday and returned to school yesterday.

Filling in for him are a junior, Mike Woods, and a senior, Darryl Franklin. Woods against Central completed four of 12 passes for 78 yards.

"There is a ten per cent chance," added the Trojan coach, "that Timmons will see action Saturday."

"With our entire offense geared around him, we will stay mainly on the ground until he returns fulltime."

TROJAN OFFENSIVE ENGINEER. Madison Quarterback Emmett Timmons (right) was released this week from hospital care after being treated for a bruised kidney. Timmons, described by Coach Al Vonder Haar as a key element of the school's football program, had been injured in a practice scrimmage last week when tackled by a teammate. For the past three years, Madison has geared its offense around the senior letterman. There is a chance Timmons will see limited action Saturday against Columbia. He is shown here with Joe Young (left), who ran back last weekend's opening kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown.

record of 282 yards gained this far in the air without a touch-down, and 280 yards rushing netting the touchdowns, the Madison mentor commented, "Statistics are for losers."

"We would take to the air more, and probably score, if we were a couple of TD's ahead of our opponent."

"The way it is now, the other side has been forcing us to throw the ball because we haven't been getting the first downs to sustain a drive."

"If you can pick up five yards passing and get your running game going at the same time, it is almost impossible to be a loser."

Columbia's Eagles are working on their second straight winning season, having thus far defeated Fredericktown 22-14, Elvado 12-0 and, this past weekend, Orchard Farm (Mo.) 24-8.

Columbia broke an 8-8 half-time score against the Missouri team with a 24-yard TD pass.

Steelers harriers upped their triangular meet record to 1-1 Monday when they defeated Breese Mater Dei and O'Fallon on the 2.8 mile cross-country race at O'Fallon. GCHS North had a low score of 25, Mater Dei 47 and the hosts 55.

North's Dave Futch, a junior, and Mike Baker, a freshman, made the event a race between themselves. They crossed the finish line in a dead heat with a time of 15 minutes and 11 seconds.

Merced needs 2nd win to earn trophy

The 1974 Illinois Inter-City Baseball League title chase will go down to the wire, and will be decided here Sunday.

The Merced nine, defending champion, forced a third and final series game by defeating East Alton 17-5 early this week. The deciding contest will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday at Wilson Park's Diamond No. One.

Repeating last year's feat, which led to a Merced championship, the local squad entered its second game against East Alton in danger of being eliminated, having lost 9-5 to the Vans.

"We lost our first game last year against Piasa," recalls Merced Manager Wendell Corey, "and then swept the next two contests."

"Our hope is that we can repeat that performance."

Rallying behind the pitching of Mark Boone Sunday, Merced batters, led by Bob Scott's three home runs and seven RBIs, scored two runs in the first inning, nine in the third, one in the fourth, four in the sixth and one in the seventh.

"We still need to polish up our defense," said Corey. "We have made some errors, such as dropping flyballs, that could have cost us the game."

East Alton's Ron Middleton, a former SIUC pitcher, will be on the mound Sunday for the Vans to challenge the pitching of Merced's Boone, who struck out 17 East Alton batters in the second game of the series.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schmeier will be on hand to present the governor's trophy in behalf of Governor Dan Walker and a plaque from State Senator Sam Vadalabene to the champion team.

The 17-5 victory, Merced began the assault with Scott singling in two runners after David Huddleston had singled and Jack Scarborough had doubled.

Included in the third-inning barrage were walks to Scarborough and Larry Corey, Scott being hit by a pitch, a two-run single by Steve Schardan, a wild pitch, a walk to Rich Schardan, singles by Boone and Dave Huddleston, a walk to Jack Scarborough, a hit by Larry Corey and Scott's three-run double.

In the fourth, Rich Schardan walked, Hank Scott singled and Boone was safe on a fielder's choice.

The four-run sixth saw Bill Campbell and Rich Schardan single, Hank Scott walk, Boone gain first base on a fielder's choice with Campbell thrown out at second.

Scarborough forcing in a run, Bob Scott's two-run single and a later run tallied by Scarborough.

Victory Reznack walked in the seventh. A pitch hit Campbell, and Rich Schardan singled, setting the stage for Reznack to score on a wild pitch.

Joe Furt of the Vans hit a two-run homer in the seventh.

Of the six high school football teams remain undefeated after three weeks of competition and among them are the second-year Stealers of Granite City North with a 3-0 record.

Victory No. 4 is possible here Friday night, but it will be far from automatic.

Having defeated two Southwestern Conference clubs, GCHS North and Collinsville, and then Wood River of the Mississippi Valley Conference, the Stealers will next oppose defending MVC champion Roxana at the South stadium on Felling Road.

"I'm pleased with our performance," commented North mentor Tom Wyrostek this week. "Our victories haven't been just luck; the boys have worked hard and earned them."

Wyrostek noted that the Stealer defense has not been scored against thus far, while North's offense has racked up 50 points against opponents.

Only 13 points were scored on Granite City last weekend at North's home game.

"Usually," commented the coach, "my team will have one or two really outstanding backfield players that a quarterback has to depend on."

"But in our case," he added, "we are blessed with many who can do the job and do it well."

Wyrostek feels his Stealers have an advantage over other schools because of this, and "we will force Roxana to play our type of game if we can. If they should win, then it will be because of our own mistakes."

The Shells, with only seven starting lettermen, have a 2-1 record going into tomorrow's clash. Roxana defeated Southwestern of Piasa 26-0, lost 14-10 to Mascoutah and this past weekend overcame a 14-6 deficit to outpoint Triad 28-22.

Roxana kept the ball on the ground much of the time. The team picked up 220 yards rushing, with carries mainly by sophomores Kerry Duckworth and Tom Vogt, in its most recent outing.

Against Triad, Shell Quarterback Bill Vinyard went to the air four times for 62 yards and one TD but lost the ball with three fumbles.

In Roxana's line are lettermen Rick Colecausar, a 165-pound senior, Mike Allen, a 175-pound senior, Allen Radtke, 175-pound senior, Brad Bailey, 175-pound junior, Jim Lovell, 195-pound senior, and Mark Blasa, 170-pound senior.

Regardless of who wins, tomorrow's contest is likely to be a far cry from the 24-9 stomping the Shells inflicted on the Stealers last year.

Quarterback Gene Logas and backup QB Greg Corey combined their talents to complete seven of 11 passes and help amass 14 first downs.

The Stealers' all-around attack is attributed by Wyrostek to the variety of players capable of filling the backfield spots—Mike Donnelly, Jerry Schiele, Dave Kwiatkowski, John Scott, Lemmy Wright and Bill Carr.

Fall stirs thoughts of goose hunting taught him much about geese and their habits.

By ART SCHUMANN

Granite City's Hunting Club is no fancy. It's like most clubs. There is no formality, and it's not uncommon to see hunters walking around in the middle of the night.

Those visiting the club sleep on cots placed wherever room is available. There are no fancy stoves for warming food, and no fancy stoves for warming food.

Greenley's has several pit blinds placed strategically along the surrounding grain fields. These pits are large enough to accommodate two hunters. The tops are covered with corn stalks to conceal the hunters from the air.

The Canadian honker is a wary bird with sharp eyesight. It takes a lot of doing to outsmart them.

This is especially true of the old geese that usually leads the passing flock. There is nothing more beautiful than the sight of a flock of geese in close formation, against the sky, noiseless.

It is a pleasant experience to awaken early in the morning to the order of trying back and rolling coffee.

The large family-style breakfast consists of bacon, sausage, eggs, toast and coffee. After breakfast, hunters are transported to the fields before the first light of day.

There are no guarantees with goose hunting. On some of my hunts at Greenley's I have enjoyed great success, and on others, I haven't even fired a shot. Even so, every hunt was a complete success.

Visits to southern Illinois goose hunting locations can be at the top of the list of enlightening experiences for any outdoorsman.

Steeler sops win with 5 TDs

Granite City North football sophomores posted their third consecutive victory Monday, blanking Wood River 34-0 at home.

"Defense," beamed Coach Chuck Chappell, "has not been scored on in two outings. It did its job again Monday, holding the enemy in its own territory."

While the Steeler defense held North's offense, led by Quarterback Greg Corey, penetrated enemy lines for five downs—Rickey Smith and Jim Simpson each tallied two touchdowns and Joe O'Gara one. Corey provided a two-point conversion and kicked two extra points.

Valencia and Spiroff score as South wins

The soccer Warriors of GCHS South improved their record, thus far to 6-2-1 Tuesday with a 2-0 victory over St. John's of St. Louis at the Southfield, Senior Goals Mark Mason held the St. Louis squad scoreless.

In the first of two 35-minute halves, first-year player Teno Valencia put the ball in the net after 10:56 of play on an assist by Charlie Bennington. Bennington, a chief cog in the wheel of South's striking power, had helped give the Warriors six goals during the weekend as St. Louis took top honors in the four-team Jacksonville tournament.

Sophomores Mark Spiroff scored and Rick Fernandez scored the second in the second half against St. John's.

South outshot the enemy 16-3 at the goal and led 8-1 in corner kicks. The committed 16 fouls to 13 by St. John's.

Madison may join new school grid conference

Tentative plans to include Madison High School in the Cahokia Football Conference, which now is being formed, were given the approval of the Madison Board of Education. The new conference, if formed, would include Madison, Columbia, Duplo and Freeburg.

and next year Westlin of Trenton would join.

The board also gave its approval to begin planning for a Madison Booster Club to involve citizens and faculty members in backing Madison High School athletics.

South harriers edged out

Granite City South varsity harriers lost 30-26 Tuesday at Cahokia but South's Jayvee and home teams posted victories, 29-29 and 25-23, respectively.

Senior Dwayne Perry led the field of varsity runners around Cahokia's three-mile course with a first-place finish in 15 minutes and nine seconds.

Placing behind him were: Jim Hall fourth, 15:52; Sam Nesbitt eighth, 15:57; Frank Holmes ninth, 16:09; and Dave Brown 11th, 16:23.

The Warrior Jayvee victory was spearheaded by the third-place finish of Garth Weid in 17:36. Glen Ahlers was fourth in 18:01, Lynn Decker sixth, 18:03, and Frank Lauer eighth, 18:10.

James Dumont led the frosh squad, capturing first place in 11:48 on a two-mile course. Aiding him were Larry Hagley fourth, 12:14; Ken Ramsbottom fifth, 12:20; and Harry Harris seventh, 12:29; and Dwayne Page eighth, 12:38.

Hunting with a bow takes skill

It isn't a mere coincidence that some bowhunters see more game, get more shots and are more successful with their weapons than others. The sportsman who is successful on a bow hunt is the sportsman who has learned his hunting lessons. He knows the habits and instincts of the game and the uses of his bow and arrows.

And because the bowhunter must be close to his target, he also needs patience to methodically hunt his game. Preparations for a bow hunt start well in advance of the hunting season and require attention to the slightest details.

Some bowhunters, of course, are meat hunters and merely hunt along roadsides. But the hunters who put the hunting experience first generally spend several pre-season days looking for well-used deer trails, attempting to discover where the trails go and why they are used.

Hunters prefer to locate cover adjacent to trails where they can construct a deerstand for the upcoming season. Care is taken to enhance the cover and prevent detection by the game.

When the hunter develops a stand, he tries to keep the area looking as natural as possible. The ground is carefully cleared of brush and branches are removed to allow the hunter to change positions in the stand with a minimum amount of noise.

Most bowhunters will decide upon two or three areas of stand and use the one best suited for the circumstances on the day of the hunt.

Experts with the bow also practice regularly prior to the season, working within the limits of the bow. If the hunter's effectiveness is 30 yards or less, he practices at ranges within that limit. Some of the closest shots are often missed and the prepared hunter does not fail to work on shots as close as 10 yards.

Practice also includes work at level, uphill, downhill and angle targets.

Some hunters make deer silhouettes and rig them in front of three bales of straw. The seasoned hunter doesn't practice to just hit the deer, he practices hitting the vital area of its vital areas to make a clean kill.

To help make a clean kill, the hunter also takes extreme care with his bow and arrows. He makes certain a full draw is made with the bowing to insure maximum thrust.

The bow is also well-maintained and the string is always well-waxed. The arrows are selected to complement the bow and broadheads are sharpened to insure maximum penetration.

The dedicated bow hunter spends a great deal of time making sure he sees the game before the game sees him.

Hunters often wear camouflage clothing, hats and boots. Some hunters rub camouflage paint on their faces or use head netting.

Bows are also camouflaged with special colors like cotton that is liberally sprayed with scent. Once in the field, the hunter uncoils the bow and places them upright of his stand.

Some hunters carry wide-mouthed bottles filled with cotton that is liberally sprayed with scent. Once in the field, the hunter uncoils the bow and places them upright of his stand.

The best scents appeal to the mating instinct and the taste for apples.

The seasoned bowhunter knows his best ally is patience. He must be content to stay put for hours, keeping motion and noise at a minimum. He must wait until the deer is within good bow range and in position for a lethal shot.

The hunter, when a deer comes within range, must be observant of the cover between himself and the deer. The slightest twig can deflect an arrow and cause a complete miss or a hit in a non-vital area.

After the deer has been hit the hunter must fight his instinct to pursue. However, if the deer bounds off, the hunter must fight his instinct to pursue.

Let alone, a wounded deer is not likely to cover a great distance. If pursued, however, the deer will cover a maxi-

Madison tops Venice in cross-country run

Madison High School harriers captured their second consecutive cross-country meet Monday with a 15-50 victory over visiting Venice High.

Trojan Coach Larry Graham attributes Madison's about face from last season's 0-6 season record to a new schedule with schools which are more equal in enrollment.

Madison runners sped over the two-mile course to sweep the top ten finishing positions in the following order: Willie Mayes, Rudolph Bradley, Mike Terrell, Joe Gulash, Tyrone Burt, Nathaniel Pryor, Ron Jones, Don Long, Robert DeLoach and Mike Arnes.

Venice, with Coach Richard Easington directing the harrier program, participated in this year in a limited schedule of two meets.

Placing for the Red Devils were Shawn Byrd 12th, Chris Salomon 15th and Carl Brown, 16th.

Venice will compete in one other meet, with Brooklyn at Madison, on the Trojans' home course today at 4:15 p.m.

Close tennis loss for girls

The GCHS South girls' tennis team played well in a seven-match meet with Belleville Tuesday, losing a 3-2 decision.

South posted wins in three of four singles matches—Theresa Hayes 6-3, 6-3; Carol Makarewicz 6-4, 6-1 and Carl Deterding 6-3, 6-3.

4 Rascals grid games scheduled

The Granite City Little Rascals boys' football program resumes competition this weekend with three games at home (South High field) this Sunday and one on the road Saturday.

Undefeated (3-0) Jr. Pee Wees travel to Belleville at 1:30 p.m. Saturday to meet the Belleville Knights.

On Sunday, the 2-1 Pee Wees host Bethalto at 2 p.m.; undefeated (3-0) Midget North welcomes O'Fallon at 3 p.m.; and winless (0-3) Midget Central hosts the Belleville Knights at 4 p.m.

Scoreless tie

The soccer Jayvee squads of GCHS North and North County Technical High of Missouri played to a scoreless tie Tuesday here at Steeler Field.

Volleyball meet

The Granite City Park District will hold a meeting Tuesday, Oct. 1, at 7:30 p.m. at the Lincoln Community Center and membership chairman of playing women's and mixed volleyball.

With competition to begin the first week of November at Lincoln Plaza, rules will be discussed, rosters distributed, and the schedule of dues announced.

Competition is open only to athletes of high school age or older.

Gresco beats par

Warrior golfer Don Gresco scored a one-under-par 34 on the last hole of the 203-hole tour to Collinsville at the Camelot Golf Course.

Scoring also for South were: Jim Kelly 40, Jim Kelly 40, James Fedora and Terry Ravanelli each a 46.

University seminar will open Tuesday

The second year of the University Seminar at Edwardsville begins Tuesday, Oct. 1, with Dr. Robert Coles, an internationally known social psychologist, as keynote speaker. The seminar is sponsored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Topic for the year-long series is "Ethnic Identity and Cultural Integrity."

Faculty representatives from each of the university's schools, assisted by students selected as resident scholars, will make presentations on the subject from the perspective of their academic disciplines.

Coles, a Harvard professor, is the author of 13 books and more than 350 articles on psychiatry and social psychology.

The most recent books are "Migrants, Sharecroppers, Mountaineers," and "The South Goes North." The first is about poverty in rural backwaters and the second is about destitution in urban slums.

Coles spent a decade studying sharecroppers, migrants, mountaineers, poor blacks and working-class whites, and is best known for his opposition to the use of stereotypes in classifying people.

The opening seminar session will be held in the Communications Building theater, beginning at 8 p.m.

Garage for AAA

The Auto Club of Missouri, serving territories in Missouri, Illinois and Kansas, has announced the appointment of Zimmerman's Auto and Truck in Granite City as a new official AAA garage.

Zimmerman's, 2101 E. 24th St., becomes one of a nationwide chain of more than 24,000 garages rendering emergency road service to 15 million AAA members throughout the country.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY

Adams to be honored

Donald G. Adams of Granite City last night was nominated to receive the 32nd degree of the Scottish Rite, a branch of Freemasonry. It was announced in Atlantic City, N.J.

The announcement was made during the annual meeting of the Supreme Council by George E. Newberry, sovereign grand commander of Lexington, Mass., by Myron K. Lingle, deputy for Illinois, of Springfield, and by Harold G. Baker Jr., commander of the Southern Illinois Scottish Rite Bodies, of Belleville.

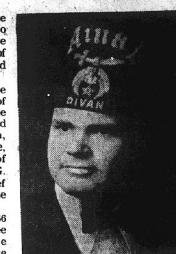

Adams, who resides at 4066 Vesel Ave., was one of three members of the Belleville Scottish Rite Bodies who were nominated. The others are Cecil Bond of Benton and Dean Kamper of Belleville.

They will be formally initiated into the degree next September in Boston.

The degree, an honorary one and the highest conferred in Scottish Rite Freemasonry, is conferred for service to Freemasonry or humanity or both.

Adams is president of the Granite City Glass Co. He is an elected officer of the St. Clair Lodge of Perfection of Belleville and is a member of the advisory board of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Adams is a director of the State Loan and Savings Association and a member and elder of the Nameokii Presbyterian Church. He is married and has four children.

Mind development, awareness lecture

An introductory lecture on the scientific exploration of the human brain and the functioning of the mind "which can lead to being able to consciously control the altered states of consciousness" is to be offered at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

On Friday, Sept. 27, at 7 p.m. in the "Y" auditorium, Myron and Jerry Wright of Gateway Seminars of St. Louis will present "a way to discover the greatness within you."

"Mind development is an exciting release of power within a person," declared Harold Rudolph, "Y" executive director, who has attended a weekend workshop on the subject. Gateway Seminars offers methods and techniques intended to help a person develop physical and mental relaxation in seconds to induce sleep quickly and naturally; overcome habits of overeating, smoking and negative thinking; learn facts more quickly, and recall them; develop better health and health habits; increase intuitive powers to make problem-solving easier; turn to inner consciousness, using the mind rather than drugs; develop greater powers of concentration and communication; and expand the power of effective sensory perception, Rudolph said. "If you are not as happy or as productive as you would like to be, then this introductory lecture could be a first step to greater personal growth for you. Call the YMCA at 876-7200 for more information. There is a fee for the lecture," he concluded.

PATROLMAN CASEY CARTER of the St. Louis Police Department scores a competitor's target during the weekend Granite City Police Department's combat pistol match at the John Marshall Gun Club.

128 compete in pistol match

Two Granite City officers placed third in their classes during the weekend police combat pistol match, it was announced as tabulations were completed Wednesday.

Patrolman Jim Lengyel was third in the sharpshooter class with 1,399 points out of a possible 1,500, and Patrolman Kip Pomeroy was third in the marksman class with 1,345 points.

The top shooter of 128 competitors in the weekend event was C. D. Smith of the St. Louis Police Department who shot a 1,477, only seven points under the national record. He was accompanied here by Patrolman Casey Carter of the St. Louis force, one of the few women policemen on active criminal duty in this area.

The security representatives of McDonnell Douglas Corp. won team honors with 5,800 points of a possible 6,000. They were followed by the St. Louis Police Department with 5,798, and the Overland, Mo., police with 5,467.

Competitors to the event came from as far away as California, and many had to be denied entry after the capacity of 128 shooters was filled. The competition was held Saturday at the John Marshall Gun Club here, and was the third combat pistol match hosted by the Granite City Police Department. Lt. Col.

George Teller was executive officer for the event. Five Granite City patrolmen have entered the National Rifle Association national police competition which opens Monday, Sept. 30, and continues through Oct. 3 in Jackson, Miss. They are: the team captain Lengyel, Sgt. Kelly Hodges and Patrolmen Glenn Wright, Roy Koberna and Kerry Pomeroy.

last year the number increased to 820. The club held a picnic Sunday at Conrad Bauer's farm and raised funds to assist needy children in the Quad-Cities area. Druggist is robbed

A young robber who was seeking only drugs took two bottles of prescription medication from Sheridan's Drug Store, 2301 State St., at 8:25 p.m. yesterday.

Phil Sheridan, owner, said he was working behind the prescription counter and was locking everything to close when he saw a young man wearing a stocking over his head and holding a short shotgun.

The robber asked Sheridan for all his "Class A" drugs and the owner replied he no longer stocked those drugs. Sheridan then was asked for another kind of drug which he no longer carries. Finally, the man asked for a third kind of medicine and Sheridan gave him the two bottles he had.

The robber fled through the front door, Sheridan looked out the side door and saw the robber run into the alley between State Street and Edison Avenue.

Sheridan followed him, but lost sight of him near 22nd Street.

The young man was described as 5 feet, 8 inches tall, having long blond hair and wearing a brown jacket and blue denim pants.

Madison Ladies Club discusses projects

Mrs. Minnie Brown, chairman of the annual August fish fry sponsored by the Madison Ladies Democratic Club, gave a final report on the project at a meeting of the club at the Sportsman's Club.

Mrs. Georgia Graham and Mrs. Mary Rogenski, co-chairmen of the fund-raising project held in conjunction with the fish fry, submitted their report.

Members agreed to donate to the Cystic Fibrosis campaign.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Rogenski, vice-president, conducted the meeting. She appointed Elizabeth Wisniewski, LaVerne Harris and Josephine Knevezich to serve as the October hostesses. Seventeen members were present.

MITCHELL FIRE CALL

Mitchell firemen were called shortly after midnight Tuesday to extinguish a fire in a vacant building on Morrison Road near the Alton & Southern tracks, and were recalled to the scene at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday. Only damage was to the floor. Cause of the fire was unknown.

CHEVROLETS FOR 1975 are to be officially placed on display tomorrow at Matthews Chevrolet, Niedringhaus and Madison Avenues, Granite City.

Chires clean air engineer

Employment of Robert Schieringhausen of Belleville as an engineer for the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board was authorized by the City Council Monday night.

Schieringhausen will assume his duties Oct. 7. His salary was set at $11,500 annually.

The new engineer succeeds Reid Sutton, former air board engineer who resigned earlier this year.

Salary of the new engineer will be paid 25 per cent by the city and 75 per cent from a federal grant.

Schieringhausen's employment was authorized on a motion by Alderman Frank Greenwald after Henry Bielecki, chairman of the city's clean air board, said the council the board had interviewed, between 25 and 30 applicants before selecting Schieringhausen as the most qualified.

The council Monday night also authorized payment of $5,000 for the police department's participation in the formation of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois to work undercover against narcotics traffic in Madison, St. Clair, Bond and Monroe Counties.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer was reappointed by Mayor Paul Schuler.

The aldermen authorized Mayor Schuler to enter into an agreement with the city's regular audit firm, Curry, Lehardt & Co. of St. Louis, for an audit of project costs in the repair of sewer breaks in the Nameoki area. The audit is required by the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration in handling claims for flood disaster aid.

Withheld action on an excavation application by the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. at 27th Street and the former Casting Division of General Steel Industries facility, at 41:50 a.m. yesterday. Nothing of value was damaged and firemen were on the scene 25 minutes.

Firemen received three calls this week to the rear of McDonald's Restaurant, 1315 Johnson Road, where yokes were believed to have set fire to a clump of bushes in a lot adjoining the restaurant parking lot.

Fire calls to McDonald were at 10:25 p.m. Tuesday, and at 9 p.m. and again at 10 p.m. yesterday. A neighbor residing next to the restaurant told firemen he has to extinguish a fire in the lot hourly every night.

A natural gas leak was believed ignited by a spark from welding operation at the Granite City Steel South Plant.

Scott acts to block nuclear power plant

Attorney General William J. Scott yesterday filed an emergency action in the U.S. Court of Appeals to challenge an Atomic Energy Commission decision allowing a giant nuclear power plant to be located at Bailey Harbor adjacent to the Indiana Dunes National Park.

Scott said he is not opposed to atomic power, but is opposed to the plant's proposed location, which he said is one of the area's prime recreation facilities and is less than 20 miles from city limits of Chicago.

Scott said the construction of a massive nuclear facility, scheduled to begin Oct. 18, would create the permanent prospect of irreversible environmental damage to the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore.

"Of particular concern is potential damage to Cowles Bog, a national landmark, from construction activities which would lower the water level under the dunes."

Scott also said a nuclear accident at the plant could contaminate and force closure of the Dunes National Park. The Dunes National Lakeshore serves as a year-round recreation site for thousands of Illinois residents.

Scott asserted that the new nuclear plant would have the same type cooling pipes which have recently developed cracks at other nuclear plants in Illinois and in the U.S. The cracks have permitted leaks of radioactive water, he said.

Illinois and Indiana share a mutual aquatic ecology, Scott concluded.

Wm. Schooley on airport authority

William Schooley, a Granite City lawyer, and Jack Giannini, a Belleville attorney, have been named to the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority by Illinois Governor Dan Walker.

Both attended yesterday's authority meeting at Edwardsville. Schooley replaces Owen A. Hankamer, who term expired, and Giannini replaces Howard Kaseberg of Granite City who resigned earlier this year.

A letter from Walker, confirming the new appointments, was read at yesterday's meeting.

The authority accepted a staff report which indicated no effective losses of time have been found for reducing noise around airports. Adequate buffer zones, such as have been planned for a new major airport at Columbia-Waterloo in Illinois, are the only feasible answers, the report said.

A motion to discontinue the individual bond on the authority's executive director, Arven Saunders, and to cover all authority members and employees under a state fidelity bond, costing only $12 per year from the entire group, was approved.

Dewatering methods upheld

The supplemental report on a study of dewatering procedures in the repair of sewer breaks in Granite City was as follows:

Dr. James Kanipe, P. E. of Limbaugh Engineers, Inc., Chicago, N. M., stated that the three-man team in the review of the dewatering problem in Granite City.

A field reconnaissance was made of the damaged area and information obtained from the State of Illinois on the ground water table and geology of the "American Bottoms" area. The methods used and the time taken to dewater the damaged areas appear reasonable based on the investigation made.

Costs of well point dewatering the Granite City area, assuming a typical 100 feet header, raised at least 15 times, is in the order of $2,000 to $4,000 per day, depending on number and depth of well points required for the particular area.

It is apparent from on-site field inspections together with reviews of geological data and soil boring logs that the stratigraphy of the East St. Louis and vicinity area is a development of river alluvium composed of a 15 to 20 feet thick stratum of silt and fine sands immediately underlain by a relatively thick structure of medium to coarse sand.

Since the sanitary sewer lines in the area are generally 12 to 18 feet deep, it can be seen that these lines are bedded in the silt-sand layer. The silt-sand layer inherently has a very low permeability, which results in very slow flows when the water is attempted to be drawn out by a dewatering system.

As a result, the vertical collection of a wellpoint system would have to be at a relatively close spacing and would require encasement in sand filters in order to operate in a satisfactory manner. Even with a system such as this, it could be expected that the excavation would not be "dry" due to upward percolation of the easily flowing water in the rather close layer of coarse sand below.

The physical aspect of the subsurface conditions as well as the wellpoint system design that would incorporate vertical collectors which would penetrate into the free-flowing aquifer below the silt-sand stratum. Although this may result in a "crash" involving the volume of water to be pumped, this procedure appears to be the most economical way to achieve a drawdown condition which would result in a "dry" excavation.

The above analysis agrees essentially in all respects with the comments furnished in the Nov. 3, 1973, letter from Stang Hydrostatics, Inc., to Fina P. Ernest Construction Co. The reasons for this is that it is considered that the Stang recommendation represents logical, straightforward, good engineering evaluation and design. The validity of this analysis is backed up by the experience and expertise of the Stang Company.

In addition to a substantiation of the design analysis of the dewatering procedures, no "irregularities" involving the dewatering operation were detected from a review of the daily work logs from the Granite City Engineer's office. There were perhaps some "inefficiencies," but these must be expected in a "crash" operation. In some locations this was reflected by extended pumping times such as at Franklin Street. However, any problem encountered there appeared to have been eliminated in subsequent dewatering efforts.

From the information obtained, it appears that the methods and procedures employed were sound, practical and well founded from an engineering standpoint.

Engineers turn down sewer break claims

A report by the Bovay Engineers, Inc., of Houston, Tex., recommended an additional allotment of $67,000 in flood disaster aid to Granite City for repair of broken sanitary sewer lines.

The summary of the report, presented to the City Council Monday night, is as follows:

By contract agreement dated June 30, 1974, Bovay Engineers, Inc., was requested to make a study of damaged sewers in greater East St. Louis, Illinois, and prepare Damage Survey Reports on approximately 100 sewer breaks in St. Clair and Madison Counties, Illinois selected by FEMA and review the "dewatering" problem in Granite City.

During the period of July 8 to August 16, 1974, a team of three engineers made field investigations of each of the damaged sewers, including contacts with the responsible official of each local governing body obtaining all available relevant information to the damaged sewers. In addition, Mississippi River data was obtained from the St. Louis District Corps of Engineers and ground water table information was obtained from the Illinois State Water Survey Division.

This information was then compiled and Damage Survey Reports prepared for each damaged sewer item. Estimates of costs were developed for the items recommended as eligible for flood related damage.

The results of the investigation and study show a trend where the damages located near the river have sufficient relationship to river level changes to be considered eligible as flood related damage. Where the damages are located four or more miles from the river, the relationship to river level changes do not appear sufficient to be considered eligible as flood related damage.

There were a number of exceptions to this trend when other evidence indicated eligibility or ineligibility of the particular item.

Damage Survey Reports have been prepared for each damage claim and are submitted under separate cover. A summary tabulation of the damage claims, 30 claims are recommended as eligible for flood related damage, showing Bovay's recommendation of eligibility for each item is attached. Also, attached is a discussion of the criteria and procedures used in this work.

To establish a recommended cutoff date for sewer damages related to the 1973 flood, reference is made to the Hydrographs Phases I, II and III curves on river level and ground water table elevations indicates that both river and ground water levels receded to low elevations by October 1973. It would seem reasonable that all flood related damages would be associated time wise to the period of May 1973 flood crest to October 1973.

Considering that frequently, damage to buried lines does not materialize until sometime after the damage occurs, it appears that the damages discovered in flood related areas during a period after the river levels recede could well be related to the flood. Any damages that were found during the period of October 1973 to January 1974 could be considered in this category as the ground water level remained at relative low elevations.

January 1974 could be considered as a cut-off date for damage claims, however, a condition pointed out in the next paragraph appears to have started to occur in January 1974, and continued to progress to about the first of June 1974. This condition of increased river water levels with accompanying high ground water levels subjects some of the sewer lines again to a "wet condition," and could result in infiltration and possible sewer damage.

The damage area observed during this period could be the acceleration of damage started during the 1973 flood, or the possible creation of new damage. In our presentation of DSR's we have called damages that have occurred as flood related during this period eligible. We feel that June 1, 1974, should be the latest date for damages to be considered for the suspension of flood related damages.

A condition shown by the Hydrographs, should also be considered. The period included in the hydrographs is from January 1968 to July 1974. During this period the averages of highs and lows of river and ground water levels have been steadily increasing in elevation. If this trend continues to the point where previously existing "dry" sewer systems become "wet" sewer systems as a result of the water table elevations becoming higher than the sewer systems, infiltration and possible sewer damage can be expected to continue.

During our stay in the East St. Louis area, we were received by state and local officials with whom we relied upon for the information needed for this study. We also appreciated the cooperation of the St. Louis District Corps of Engineers who supplied us with their time, office space and facilities.

Gus and Luke at Madison Rotary

A demonstration on flushing, pointing and retrieving by Gus and Luke, two German Shepherd retrievers belonging to Rotarian Harvey Miller was given at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison Rotary Club at the Madison Recreation Center.

Rotarian Miller referred to his two dogs as "a poor man's hunting dog," as they can be trained to flush, point and retrieve. The dogs were accompanied by Elie Lewis and Myron Mitchell, under the leadership of Mrs. Valerie Stevens, sang for the Rotarians during the noon meal.

The Madison Rotary will hold a sporting shoe sale at Schermer's Market, 12th Street and Madison Avenue Saturday between 9 a.m. and noon. The shoes were described as new and at greatly reduced prices with a wide selection of sizes and types.

New Rotarians introduced were Al Hudzik, John Lee, James Perdue, Charles Foley, and Tony Amelino.

Prospective members visiting the club were Willie Walker, Chester McManaway, John Janco, Harry Johnson, Wayne Melvov and Father Sylvester.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasysk will present the program next Wednesday.

Wife charged in stabbing

Merritt Manning, 54, of 1234 Iowa St., Madison was treated at St. Elizabeth hospital at 10:20 p.m. for cuts to the left thigh, left arm and stomach and was transferred to Firms DeLoe Hospital, St. Louis, in good condition.

His wife, Mrs. Juanita H. Manning, 50, was charged with aggravated battery.

Police reported they found Manning on the porch of his home with a stomach wound. A knife believed to have been used was found by police in the kitchen sink.

Mrs. Manning appeared before Judge William Johnson Wednesday afternoon who set bond at $8,000.

She was held in the Madison city jail pending posting of bond.

2 RINGS TAKEN

A dinner ring and a wedding band, worth a total of $250, were stolen from the home of Mary Sampson, 2105 rear Ohio Ave., it was reported at 2:10 p.m. Monday.

ILLINOIS' OUTDOOR HERITAGE

IOWA CRABAPPLE
(Malus ioensis)

The Iowa crabapple is a small tree which grows about 25 feet high and is found throughout Illinois. It develops a broad open crown with rigid, contorted branches bearing many short spur-like branchlets. Bark is reddish brown and scaly, and its leaves are alternate with blades elliptic to oval growing up to 4 1/2 inches long. The wood is heavy, close-grained brown. The Iowa crabapple is distinguished from other crabapples by the greater frequency of lobed leaves and by its hairy flowers. The tree is generally found along the edges of prairies and fields and the fruits are used in making jelly. The largest known Illinois tree is in Cook County and is 24 feet high.

Junior Service plans show

The regular monthly meeting of the Granite City Junior Service Club was held Monday at the Civil Defense Building with Mrs. Carolyn Thornburg, president, presiding.

Reports were given by Mrs. Marilyn Bodnum and correspondence read by Mrs. Louis Wade. Mrs. Mary Lou Richardson, first vice-president, reported that two children had been aided through the club's charity program.

Mrs. Danna Atkins, treasurer, gave the final report on "Fiddler on the Roof" presented as a joint effort by the Junior Service Club and Masquers, Inc., at the new GCHS South auditorium in June.

Mrs. Mary Lou Worthen, immediate past president, reported on the club's party for Coronades residents Aug. 26. Twelve birthdays were celebrated and refreshments were served to all who attended.

The club will present a "Fur and Jewelry Fashion Show" at the new Holiday Inn on I-70 and Route 159 at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 21. Music will be by Mr. Valerie Stevens and Armand Kachigian; the furs will be provided by "Mr. Spiro" of St. Louis and the jewelry will be from Hudson's. Tickets may be obtained from any Junior Service Club member at a cost of $3 each.

'Check and balance' system is sought for township bills

A disagreement over bookkeeping in Nameoki Township, discussed briefly by the town auditors at their last meeting Sept. 9, developed into a detailed discussion of the issue Monday night between Supervisor Louis Whitsell and Highway Commissioner Albert Bell.

Whitsell has been alleging that Bell is not meeting a "moral obligation" to fully explain the purpose of every bill the highway department submits to the auditors for approval.

Bell says he will be glad to cooperate with the auditors, but not with Whitsell.

Bell told the supervisor Monday night, "If the auditors want to ask me exactly what (a bill is) for, I'll tell them."

"You've been picking on me all this time. You have not been trying to work with me, so I don't see why I should answer questions to you, just because you want to know."

The issue first arose when Whitsell submitted a letter to the town board Sept. 9, saying he did not feel Bell was meeting the requirements of a 1969 or 1970 resolution or motion which, he said, outlined exactly what the commissioner should list on bills to explain their purposes.

The supervisor was unable to attend that meeting.

The auditors discussed the letter briefly and then approved all bills, including the highway commissioner's bills. Bell pledged after the meeting the issue would be brought up again before the auditors when Whitsell was present.

Whitsell brought the subject up at Monday night's meeting, saying, "We've been having a little controversy here on how we've handled our bills."

The supervisor showed the auditors a handbook he had received which recommended methods of handling bills. He suggested that guidelines in the handbook be followed by the township.

He said the highway commissioner's bills should be discussed jointly by the commissioner and the town clerk, Douglas Teator, and then both should sign the bills and submit them to the road district treasurer (Whitsell).

Whitsell next should record the bills and submit them to the town auditors for approval. The clerk also should keep a record of the highway commissioner's bills, Whitsell indicated.

"I could present (bills) them without all this controversy," he added. Formerly the bills were opened, warrants were drafted which the board approved, and then the commissioner signed the bills, he alleged. "It really is a little bit backwards," Whitsell said.

Bell responded, "The objection that I have (is that) on the bills that are coming in, I don't get to see them until after the supervisor has already seen them and stamps the date received."

"I feel that since I made the bills, I should go over them first to see what they are," Bell explained. "I knew we were doing it backwards, but we've always done it this way."

When I received the bills, to let you know the date I received them, I stamped the date on them."

Whitsell said he does not open mail addressed to the highway department, but that many of the highway bills come addressed only to Nameoki Township; these are opened before it is determined they are highway department bills.

"Those are dated and placed in the basket for the highway commissioner," the supervisor said.

Bell continued, "There were times I'd look for a bill and couldn't find it. I found it later and it might be stuck with something else. If I open all the mail, then I'll know that I've received it."

That brought a response from Whitsell: "I don't get a thrill out of opening bills, but I have put time into trying to have these vouchers ready for you."

"If I have to make an annual report, I've got to know myself what (each bill) was for," Whitsell said.

He continued, "I fully trust Al Bell and I don't think he'd do anything to hurt us. But when we are sitting here to audit bills and we don't know what they are about, I would rather see the clerk present a warrant showing what the bill is for."

"Without warrants, it's a hardship on me if I don't know what I'm doing," Whitsell concluded.

Discussion centered on the type of bookkeeping Whitsell wanted and what is required by law. Bell commented that "the whole thing could get out of hand" if he had to explain where each gallon of gasoline went.

"We could keep a gasoline log for each truck, if I'm not trusted, but you still have to trust me to say, 'Well, I put that in my truck.' So what's the difference?" Bell asked.

Whitsell responded, "You're using the word untrusting, Al. I think."

Bell cut in, saying, "That's the way you're making it appear. You didn't say that you didn't trust me, but you're making it appear that way."

The highway commissioner continued, "I'm staying within the law. I don't believe in bending it or anything like that. But we're going to have a lot of bookkeeping if you're going into this."

During Bell's statement, Whitsell interjected, "I think you have a moral obligation to do more than just the law."

Bell responded, "I have a logbook and I can go back and I can dig it out. I've got it."

"I'm not trying to pull anything shady on anybody, I try to keep everything aboveboard. I try to buy where I can buy the cheapest. I try to run it like I would run my own

Whitsell told the auditors, "I'm not trying to say anyone is dishonest. Our government is set up with checks and balances. You're here as a checks and balances."

"You audit my bills and Al Bell's bills. As a moral obligation, we should let the people know what we are spending their money for at all times."

Attorney Nick D. Vasiloff suggested the auditors set up guidelines for how they want bills paid in the future.

Whitsell commented, "Draft a resolution for payment of bills

Indict Venice man

William Thaxton Jr., 34, of 1218 Douglas St., Venice, was indicted by a Madison County grand jury Thursday on two charges of theft.

Thaxton allegedly stole the auto of Melvin Bullard Jr., Arcadia, Okla., Aug. 19, and brought it to Venice, and stole the car of Antonia Avila, 1507 Market St., Venice, Aug. 27. He was arrested Sept. 3 by Venice police in one of the cars, it is alleged.

any way you like, and bring it back."

The board is expected to discuss the issue further at its next meeting, Saturday, Oct. 12.

Landfill gas test approved

The Madison City Council approved Tuesday night an agreement with the NuFuel Co. of California to allow the company to run tests at the Madison-owned landfill to determine if there is enough underground gases at the site to be commercially developed. The landfill formerly was known as the MAL landfill. The company has a new process for taking gas formed by refuse, cleaning the gas of impurities and then distributing it commercially. The agreement allows the company to make tests to determine if the gases are there in sufficient quantity, and allows an 18-month period in which to conduct tests and begin construction of a processing plant if it proves feasible. If the company decides to develop a processing facility, the city would receive one eighth of the gross sales which could range as high as $50,000 to $40,000 a year.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

It was noted by Mayor Mike Sasey that even though the company would be processing gas at the landfill the city still could use the land at a later date for a development, such as a truck stop, without upsetting the gas processing.

The council also discussed ways to continue to improve the appearance of property in the city. It was felt that much progress had been made in recent months due largely to the efforts of John Duko, city building inspector, and Gene Robertson and Curtis King, city health inspectors.

The council agreed that if people fail to cooperate in repairing and cleaning up their property, legal action would be taken.

Police Officers Charles Brink and Bob were granted permission to attend a police convention Sept. 29 to Oct. 1, in Quincy, Ill., and approved $200 expenses for each officer.

In other action, the council approved plans of the First National Bank in Madison to build an entrance drive 35 feet wide on Madison Avenue, and approved a request by the Illinois Power Co. to install a gas main in the alley between Seventh Street and Lee Avenue.

Mayor Sasey informed the aldermen that police have instructions to stop any children walking through the alleys and question them as to why they are there, where they are going and to keep a record of anyone in alleys outside their own neighborhood.

The Mayor said that he is sending a letter to all school principals so that they can inform the school children. Alderman Donald Broyles told the council that things have become quiet in the Second Ward and that he has not been receiving complaints about children or teenagers.

City bills from Sept. 11 to Sept. 24 in the amount of $31,023 were approved.

Six from area on grand jury
Six Quad-City area residents are among the 23 members of a new Madison County grand jury which has been sworn in by Chief Criminal Judge John Gilchiff in Madison County Circuit Court.

Granite City residents include the foreman, Carl J. Grove, 3317 Princeton Drive, and Robert J. Hagen, 2720 Michigan Ave., Gladys Nelson, 2120 Jill Ave., and Jean E. Petras, 3236 Edgewood Ave.

Pontoon Beach residents on the grand jury are Paul Fuller, 49 Kaseberg Park, and Boyd L. Butler, 3801 Lake Drive, lot 215.

J. B. Lanterman to address Chamber on 'Our Heritage'

Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman of the board of Amsted Industries, Inc., Prudential Plaza, Chicago, will be the featured speaker at the annual Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting at Granite City High School North, Maryville Road and Highway 203, Thursday, Oct. 10 at 7 p.m. Quad-Cityans were reminded today.

American Steel Foundries is a division of Amsted Industries. M. B. Miloski, works manager of the ASP plant in Granite City, will introduce the speaker.

Chairman Lanterman was born in Elkhart, Ill., completed his education at Northwestern University and started with Amsted in 1936 as a trainee.

He advanced to the positions of controller, vice president, president, chairman and chief executive officer, and chairman of the board.

Some of the companies on which he serves as a director besides Amsted are Intercontinental Harvester, Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Peoples Gas Co., Illinois Central Gulf Railroad Co., Illinois Bell Telephone, University Patents, Inc., and the Kemper Corp.

In addition, he is active in civic, health, welfare, educational, business-industrial and political action groups.

His address here will be entitled "Our Heritage." The public is being invited. Reservations may be made at the Chamber of Commerce office at a cost of $8.50 per person.

Nine arrested in theft probe

Nine persons, including two from Granite City, were arrested Monday in connection with a theft ring which the Illinois Bureau of Investigation says it has broken after a seven-month investigation.

An FBI spokesman said the Madison and St. Clair county state's attorney's offices assisted in the investigation of the theft ring, which allegedly stole items on order. Persons wearing a television, a gun or narcotics could place an order for the items or items wanted and the ring then would steal the items. It was alleged that many of the thefts were from trucks.

All operations were conducted in Illinois, officers said they believe.

An FBI spokesman said no arrests were made in connection with the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville. Carroll's bond was set at $10,000.

Three other Madison County men were held in the Madison County Jail for a period, all charged with theft. Sherman Lamere, 37, Alton, was released after posting $1,000 bond. Howard Ashbury, 43, of Alton, was released on a $10,000 recognizance bond and Michael R. Banks, 23, of Alton, was being held in jail this week in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Five men were arrested in St. Clair County Jail at Belleville. All are charged with theft.

Arrested were three brothers, John, Adam and James Rose Jr., and Freddie Miller, all of East St. Louis, and Harvey Frazier, State Park Place.

John Rose, 24, was held this week in jail with two other theft warrants pending against him from St. Clair cases and a hold placed on him from Madison County authorities on a warrant.

Adam, 23, and James Rose Jr., 29, were released after posting $250 cash bond each. Miller, 35, also posted $250 bond and Frazier, 32, was released on $200 bond.

Miller was released on his own recognizance by Judge Robert Matosian. Billich also was released on his own recognizance on the disorderly conduct and resisting arrest charges, and posted his drivers license as bond on the traffic charge. Both are to appear in court at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 9.

Miller was released on his own recognizance by Judge Robert Matosian. Billich also was released on his own recognizance on the disorderly conduct and resisting arrest charges, and posted his drivers license as bond on the traffic charge. Both are to appear in court at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 9.

Venice woman shot

Mrs. Cheryl Billich, 17, of 639 Jefferson Ave., Venice, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:30 p.m. Monday suffering a gunshot wound in the right thigh and superficial bruises of the left ankle and forearm.

Tank Turret weapon course

At Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., Private Alan E. Buckingham, 19, son of Albert Buckingham, 2437 Roney Drive, Granite City, has completed a tank turret artillery repair course. The course was conducted at the U.S. Army Ordnance Center and School.

Pvt. Buckingham learned to repair the mechanical, electrical and hydraulic components of the weapons installed in tank turrets.

Patrick enrolls

Donald D. Patrick, juvenile officer of the Pontoon Beach Police Department, has begun classes at the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

Patrick received his associate degree in criminal justice and law enforcement from Belleville Area College in May and enrolled at UMSL as a junior. At UMSL, he is studying toward a bachelor of science degree in administration of justice and criminal law.

He will continue to serve as the village juvenile officer during the schooling.

"FOOD BULLETIN"

When we started in this business in 1914 (60 years ago), it cost the average family about 25% of their wages for food. Today it is about 18%. Why? Partly because of increased efficiency in the food distribution system, partly because growers and packers are increasing yields per acre, more growth on live stock with improved methods. Wherever the food situation might be in India, China or Africa, it's not so bad in the U.S. We're glad we are here.

24 boys join Cub Pack 22

Cub Pack 22 of Frohardt School held its first meeting of the year last week.

Lew Frazar, cubmaster, gave the welcome, followed by a flag ceremony by Den 8. Frazar introduced Mrs. Janet Wilson, vice regent of Druella Anderson, Chapter of DAR, who presented an American flag to Pack 22 in commemoration of DAR's 50th year. Flag poles were donated by last year's Cubmaster, Gail Buenger.

Frazar introduced special guests of the evening, Mrs. Mary Tarpoif, who serves on the executive board of the Cahokia Mount Council, and John Schroeder, Uniwah District Commissioner.

The Cubmaster then welcomed new Cub applicants and their parents as follows, Mike Jones, Lloyd Green, Joey Robinson, Bill Russell, Paul Smith, Craig Gavins, Brian Mayo, Billy Forrest, Dennis Morgan.

Duane Huddleston, Jeffrey Sharp, David Briggs, Todd Cleigoi, Rodney Galbraith, Herve Jones, Jonathan Lamb, Randy Markarian.

Darren Montgomery, Jeffrey Pare, Herman Schoeber, Todd Seam, Mike Stengel, Keith Young, Joel Donley.

Frazar welcomed each new boy and talked to him about the parents about the importance of scouting.

John Schroeder conducted a "Bear Hunt", with of the audience participating. He stressed the importance of scouting, the activity of boy and parent and boy understanding between father and son that perhaps was not there before.

lots of fun for father, mother and most important, the boy. Mrs. Mary Tarpoif and Schroeder showed the parents a filmstrip on "Cub Scouting" in the cafeteria and solicited adult help for Pack 22 for the new year.

The three new Den Mothers will be Mrs. Linda Sharp, Mrs. Trudy Mayo, and Mrs. Betty Huddleston. New Webelos Leader will be Jim Schieber. Don McAlister, committee chairman, spoke briefly to the parents' group of the proposed 1974-75 schedule for Pack 22, and invited all den mothers, Webelos leaders, and committee members to committee meetings held monthly at his home.

A pinewood derby demonstration was held for the boys under the supervision of committee member Ralph Wilson.

The closing ceremony, with Cubmaster Frazar wearing his hand-made Indian headdress, conducted the "Grand Howl" honoring special guests. Following was a reading by Schroeder, "Open Door."

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Den 8, supervised by Mrs. Sue Moss and Mrs. Karen Frazar.

Sr. Citizens food plan

The Golden Age Circle Senior Citizen Club discussed a budget co-op plan to be formed jointly with an Edwardsville club whereby the senior citizens may purchase food at a lower cost and to promote the opening of a food stamp distributing office in Granite City.

Thirty-two members attended the meeting on Tuesday at Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center. Mrs. Ruby Corbitt, president, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer.

The president announced the DuQuoin, Ill., Folk Festival will be held on Oct. 6 and the park district is offering bus service at a nominal cost to attend the all-day event.

Those honored on their birthdays were Grace Paddock, Pearl Giffin, Peggy Gibbons, Ida Rankin, Jewel Patterson, Ruby Corbitt, Daisy Worthen, and Lillian Widel.

Games were played and prizes awarded to Ida Rankin, Orville Reese, Edna Young, Ethel Stark and Pearl Giffin.

RICHARD BARTLINGS NAME SON CARY

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee Bartling, 308 Village Lane, are announcing the birth of a son on Sept. 17 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He has been named Cary Thomas and weighed seven pounds, eight ounces.

The Bartlings also have another son, Christopher Lee. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Maroun Mefford and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bartling Jr., all of Granite City, and great-grandparents, Mrs. Anna Sternberg, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bartling Sr., Mrs. Etta Mefford and Mrs. Mable Clowen.

Nameoki Church Bazaar

Plans for the annual church bazaar held by Nameoki United Methodist Church highlighted a meeting Tuesday night of the Every Member Busy Circle of the church.

Mrs. Ruth Hancock, bazaar chairman, announced the event will be held from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 26, at the church. Luncheon will be served at noon and a ham dinner will be served from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Donations are set at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

Workshop sessions to prepare items for the bazaar will be conducted on Oct. 2, 7, 15 and 22 at 7 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Helene Bischoff, 1883 Amos Ave.

Mrs. Joyce Tracey who has been in charge of preparing a cook book, reported the book has been compiled by circle members and will be available at the bazaar.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Tracey, 3028 Amos Ave., with Mrs. Judy Maxson serving as co-hostess. The meeting was opened with prayer offered by Mrs. Fran Holt.

Mrs. Faith Holsinger gave a book review on "A Hiding Place" by Carrie Ten Boom. Refreshments were served, a guest, Mrs. Sandra Devaney, and to Mesdames Dorothy Ashford, Virginia Carroll, Mary Jane Foster, Cindy Keen, Beverly Meng, Mildred Nane, Jane Patton, Beulah Rensing, Alta Stewart and Miss Jane Elkins.

Circle was formed and closing prayer was given by Mrs. Alice Beck.

Black Cat Dance Oct. 10

Mrs. Julia Voloski, president of the Madison Ladies City Organization, led a discussion on the forthcoming Black Cat Dance to be held at the Croatian Home on Oct. 10 at a meeting of the club last week.

Eight tickets were purchased by the club for members to attend the Madison County Democratic Central Committee annual JPK memorial dinner on Oct. 13. The affair will take place in Meridian Hall at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville. Dinner will be followed by dancing.

A contribution to the cystic fibrosis campaign for funds was also approved.

Hostesses for the evening were Maxine Costoff, Mary Kerkovich and Rose Rodgers.

The Oct. 21 meeting will be held at 6 p.m. at Arlington Golf Club with a pot luck dinner to precede the business session. All members are invited and asked to bring a new member.

For more information members may call Mrs. Voloski.

Prize for the evening was won by Mrs. Dollie Smith. Others present were Eileen Scrum, Ida Dant, Kathryn Study expected to aid United Way in obtaining 'most, best services'

As the Tri-Cities Area United Way gears up for the annual fund campaign, which will begin Wednesday, Oct. 1, Executive Director S. T. "Pete" Nasir has expressed keen interest in a "priorities planning" analysis of the local United Way and its agencies being made by a study team from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"One gift works many wonders" is a justified claim of the United Way, but even so, Nasir notes, he and the UW board of directors are on the alert for ways to see if the wonders can be increased or magnified.

"The most and best service for the funds available is what we are after, of course," said Nasir.

"That is crucial in this time of high inflation, with dollar value shrinking and the needs for community-sponsored services expanding."

He noted that preliminary observations made in the study indicate that ideas may be developed which, if adopted, could be helpful to the Tri-Cities United Way in making the greatest use of its resources.

While the study is just that—a study—and the United Way is not obligated with respect to its findings or suggestions, Nasir indicated that he feels it is helpful to have "outsiders" take a look. "Sometimes, you can learn some valuable lessons," he remarked.

Most of the United Way agency executive directors in this area have been interviewed by the SIUE team during the study process.

One matter under consideration in the study is that of setting up centralized purchasing and accounting systems for the agencies, with a resultant potential for saving money.

Coincidentally, in a move early this year—unrelated to the SIUE analysis—Nasir made available to member agencies the duplicating (copier) facilities located in the UW executive offices in Granite City. "This is one small example of consolidation which illustrates how savings can be made," he commented.

The analysis suggests serious exploration of one of the broad aspects of the United Way program—the method of allocation of funds to the various agencies—with a view toward a possible new approach.

Also being reviewed are the possible need for additional training and orientation of agency personnel, agency evaluation of services and other matters.

See Illinois House leadership changes

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Regardless of the overall outcome of the November election, it already appears probable there will be major changes in the leadership of the Illinois House when the 1975 legislative session opens next January.

Likely to be dumped are Republican W. Robert Blair of Park Forest, House speaker, and possibly Democrat Clyde Choate of Anna, House minority leader.

Both became targets of widespread discontent among individual House members for what was regarded as poor leadership during most of the 1974 session, marked by a freeze windup.

Maneuvering is already well under way by would-be successors to both Blair and Choate.

The past few weeks have seen the development of a major drive for the Republican leadership by Richard Walsh, Oak Park attorney, who claims he has lined up about 30 solid commitments, with Downstate meetings expected to swell the total.

Walsh claims support from some influential House members, including Rep. Fred J. Tuero of Peoria and Rep. Frank "Pat" North of Rockford.

Despite a prevailing belief beneath the Statehouse Dome that Democrats will seize control of the House in November, wiping away the current seven-vote GOP edge, Walsh remains confident the Republicans can hold on.

"I'm confident we can make it," he says and points to several Chicago-suburban area House districts where he feels tenuous situations produced Democratic members in the past and that the Republican party with good candidates can gain the edge this year.

Walsh sees the possibility of Republicans increasing their House membership from the present 80 to 92.

The Walsh candidacy for speaker is unique in that his brother, Rep. William Walsh, LaGrange Park, is currently assistant majority leader in the House and has been considered an ally of Blair's.

However, the Walsh brothers have frequently disagreed on legislative issues. Development of a possible inter-family fight on the leadership matter would cause little surprise at the Statehouse.

Richard Walsh is not the only Republican who would like to replace Blair as GOP leader, although he appears to be the most active at this stage.

Rep. Tom Rose of Jacksonville, considered as one of the most able younger members of the House, is a possibility and is reported to be taking soundings.

Rep. Brian Duff of Wilmette, also young and able, aspires to a leadership role and may make a major push if Blair continues to falter.

Rep. Jacob "Jake" Wolf of Chicago is another possible contender, as is Rep. Ron Hoffman of Westchester.

On the Democratic side, Rep. Gerald Shea of Chicago, an assistant minority leader, is considered at the Capitol as an active if unofficial candidate to succeed Choate.

Shea's big problem is that he is considered the House spokesman for Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, which automatically brings him in opposition from Gov. Dan Walker.

The Walker forces tried to beat Shea in the March primary, but failed.

However, Gov. Walker is active in the fall legislative races and will probably exert major influence in determining Democratic House leadership.

Rep. Paul Stone of Sullivan and Rep. William Redmond of Bensenville are two more possible contenders. Stone, with no serious enemies, could possibly bring the Democrats together.

Area College forms chorus

A new community service offered this fall at Belleville Area College is the Community Chorus.

Organized to perform large-scale works by the great masters, the chorus is now preparing for a performance of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah."

The program is scheduled for Dec. 1 and will include a full Baroque orchestra and professional soloists. The chorus already numbers 60 members and additional singers are being accepted.

The Community Chorus is conducted by A. Dennis Sparger, director of choral activities at Belleville Area College since 1966. This past year, Sparger spent a sabbatical leave at the University of Illinois, where he completed course work for a doctor of musical arts degree in choral conducting.

Rehearsals are held on Tuesday evenings, 7 to 9:30, in Room 132 at the main campus. Members are not auditioned but are expected to have previous experience in school or church choral groups.

While college students may register for credit, the chorus is offered without charge to members of the local community.

MICHAEL STOFFLER RETURNS HOME

Michael Stoffler has returned to his home in Greeley, Colo., after spending two and a half years with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Michaels, 2686 Iowa St.

Capt. Toffant retires, becomes baseball scout

Illinois State Police Capt. Emil Toffant, 5344 Fourth St., Madison, retired today from a 30-year career in law enforcement and became a baseball scout for the Cincinnati Reds.

Capt. Toffant, commander of District 11 since December 1960, began his career in law enforcement when he joined the Madison police department in 1944, where he rose to the rank of sergeant. He was promoted to captain in 1954, and received an appointment to the Illinois State Police Training Academy in January 1959.

He was appointed to former Gov. Adlai Stevenson's gambling squad and during the early 1950's was involved in gambling operations investigations and was paid throughout the state which led to the destruction of more than $1 million worth of slot machines.

Toffant was uncompromising in his attack on organized crime and did much to halt the activities in the East St. Louis area of a gang headed by the late Frank "Buster" Wortman, heavily involved in prostitution and gambling.

The raids conducted under Toffant's leadership were instrumental in the successful closing of organized gambling and prostitution in the entire Madison-St. Clair county area.

In 1957, Toffant was transferred from District 11 to the Central Office staff in Springfield as an investigator and promoted to lieutenant. Toffant related.

In 1959, I was then assigned to organize and direct a detective section for the State police which was known then as the Bureau of Special Investigation, and which is known as the detective section of District 28 at the present time.

"During my tenure as commander of the detective section, I was involved in the investigation of a number of major crimes. Probably the most important was the investigation of and solution of the triple slaying at Starved Rock State Park in LaSalle County in early 1960."

Toffant, during his tenure with the State Police, has received numerous letters of commendation including one from the President of the United States and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He holds 30 special commendations for outstanding police work.

Toffant signed his scouting contract in April. "I will be looking for good young ball talent basically in the southern Illinois area. I will be checking high schools, legion teams and about any sandlot I come across," Toffant commented.

Always interested in baseball he played semi-professional baseball in Wisconsin and had offers from the former New York Giants and the Boston Braves.

"I wanted to play for the Reds, but they never made me an offer," he said. "I made contact with them through my good friend Pete Rose. Rose is the Reds left fielder."

"I hate to leave police work, but I am looking forward to a second career and my second love, baseball," Toffant said.

United Way agency operates center, attempts rehabilitation of alcoholics

Agencies aided by the Tri-Cities Area United Way fund campaign opening Oct. 2 include one of the newer local programs, the Alcohol Rehabilitation Community House (ARCH).

Wesley Tobin, house manager, is convinced that it is one of the most vital services, and has figures to document this belief. Alcoholism is one of the most widespread of all the ills that have affected modern man and woman.

Tobin relates that "literally hundreds of definitions of alcoholism have been offered. Because of the complexity of the illness, it seems unlikely that any one of them will ever be endorsed completely by everyone interested in the subject."

Nevertheless, enough agreement exists to support the accuracy of the following broad definition:

"Alcoholism is an illness characterized by preoccupation with alcohol and loss of control over its consumption, such as to lead usually to intoxication if drinking is begun; if chronicity; by progression; and by tendency toward relapse."

"It is typically associated with physical disability and impaired emotional, occupational and/or social adjustment as a direct consequence of persistent and excessive use of alcohol."

Tobin continued, "In short, alcoholism is regarded as a type of drug dependence of pathological extent and pattern, which ordinarily interferes with the person's total health and his adaptation to his environment."

"One can say with accuracy how many alcoholics there are in Madison County or in the United States."

"But alcoholism is by no means limited to any particular class, group or area."

"Alcoholics are treatable people. Because their illness is a chronic disorder with tendency toward relapse, it should be approached in much the same manner as other chronic and relapsing medical conditions."

"The aim of treatment is then viewed more as one of control, rather than cure."

"Abstinence is sought as a primary objective. But additional considerations, such as improved social or occupational adjustments, may be for better guides in evaluating the success or failure of a treatment effort."

"Grantee City is one of the fortunate cities to have a treatment program. The Alcohol Rehabilitation Community House (ARCH) is located at 2049 State St."

"It is a halfway house for those suffering from alcoholism."

"ARCH is a United Way agency and it depends on its funding from the community. It is governed by a board of directors consisting of community-minded people from many walks of life."

"ARCH's staff consists of the house manager and his assistant. It can accommodate ten residents and presently is 90 per cent full."

"ARCH provides a sheltered residential environment. "This facility provides transitional care between the in-patient treatment facility and the return of the client to the community, although a few have come directly from the community without prior treatment."

"Referrals to ARCH are made by physicians, health agencies, social agencies, alcoholism treatment services, Alcoholics Anonymous and religious organizations. Self-referrals are also common."

"Each person who is admitted to ARCH is interviewed by the house manager and two board members. This is to insure that the client has a sincere desire to stop drinking."

"Once admitted to ARCH, the resident is required to help in the maintenance of the house."

"If the resident does drink during his stay, he is requested to leave."

"Counseling is made available to each resident by the house manager and the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency. The house manager assists all residents in obtaining employment or other assistance."

"The door at ARCH is always open to those who seek advice or help in dealing with alcoholism."

"ARCH has working agreements with other agencies in the community and will make the appropriate referral if it is unable to help."

"On further questions about ARCH, please feel free to call me," Tobin concluded.

Chouteau garage dedication Oct. 5

The newly completed Chouteau Township highway department garage was paid for and a date to dedicate the building was set by the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors, meeting Monday night.

The board set Saturday, Oct. 5, for the dedication with ceremonies beginning at 2 p.m. Discussion Monday night centered on minor alterations the board wanted made to the building. Despite the needed changes, the board voted to make the final payment to Ed Moore Construction Co., Granite City.

Robert Zoeller, certified public accountant, a partner in the R. C. Scheffel & Co., Auditors, Alton, personally presented copies of the annual township audit results to the board members.

Zoeller discussed the audit findings and some bookkeeping changes he is recommending. The board voted to accept the audit report.

Mrs. Patricia Polley, town clerk, told the board a check for nearly $12,000 had been received from the county treasurer as part of the taxes for the town collected by the county. She said she distributed the money to the appropriate funds.

A $625 check in motor fuel tax funds was received for the general road and bridge fund, she added. She also reported that the township had gained $110 from interest on a general assistance fund savings certificate.

She reminded the board that a public hearing for Chouteau Township residents on the proposed county land use plan will be held at 11 a.m. Monday, Oct. 21, at the Operating Engineers' hall in Mitchell.

Mitchell man charged in shooting at restaurant

Edward L. Osborn, 28, of 14 Veronica Court, Mitchell, was being held this week in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville in lieu of $100,000 bond on a charge of attempted murder.

Robert Muckenstrum, 31, Belleville, was critically injured when shot three times in the parking lot of the Round Table Restaurant, Route 157, at 1:15 a.m. Tuesday.

The shooter struck his head and chest, one damaging his spine. He was in critical condition today in the intensive care unit of the F. M. Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Muckenstrum contended robbery was the motive for the shooting. He said a man approached him and demanded his ring and his wallet. He refused and the man shot him. Muckenstrum told police. He was found near his car by a Collinsville patrolman.

Officers found inside Muckenstrum's auto two slugs which they believe had passed through his body.

Witnesses gave police a description of the assailant which led to the arrest of Osborn, police said. He was arrested at his home by Madison County sheriff's deputies.

Team One includes Mrs. Linda Pickett and Mrs. Sara Houba; team two, Mrs. Pat Howard and Mrs. Pat Golden; and team three, Mrs. Priscilla Mikuleza and Mrs. Omita Sipes.

Each team will provide room mothers for specific grades and anyone interested in assisting are to contact Fran Taylor or a team chairman by calling the school.

Also announced were plans for the Area Council PTA meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at Johnson School. A 6:30 p.m. pot luck dinner will precede the meeting.

Al Wilson conducts speaking tour

Al Wilson, principal of Emerson School, spoke on the use of newspapers in the classrooms, a program that he initiated at Emerson, at a meeting of the Illinois Association of Supervisors and Curriculum Directors in Mount Vernon.

In an effort to inform other school officials of the scope of using newspapers in classrooms, Wilson has had extended speaking engagements during the summer.

He has accepted requests for one-day presentations at workshops and conventions at various colleges and universities, including the University of Nebraska, Omaha, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale; Bradley University, Peoria; University of Houston, Texas; Texas Technical, Lubbock, Texas.

Deadline for license plate reassignment

Secretary of State Michael J. Hewlett is reminding motorists that Monday is the deadline for accepting reassignment and special number requests for 1975 passenger car license plates.

Reassignment of present license numbers is guaranteed under state law if application is made by the specified date. The first date the new 1975 plates may be displayed on passenger cars is Dec. 1.

Requests for reassignment of present numbers are being accepted at Quad-City area banks. Pre-printed application forms must accompany the fee. Banks are not accepting requests for special license number assignments which must be mailed directly to the Secretary of State's Office.

Three named to library board

Alderman Ronald Coleman, George Filcoff Sr. and Haig Nighossian were named to three year terms as members of the Public Library Board by Mayor Paul Schuler last week.

Coleman and Filcoff were reappointed as board members to terms ending June 30, 1977, and Nighossian was named a board member to replace Mrs. Vivian Rich, whose term has expired. Nighossian's term also will run to June 30, 1977.

The City Council last week also concurred in a recommendation by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners to advance three members of the Fire Department from probationary to First Class Firefighters rank.

Those advanced from probationary status were Raymond Schultz, George Nesbit and Harrison Mullen.

Mothers Club plans projects

The Madison Schools Mothers' Club completed plans for a bake sale and carnival, with Mrs. Georgia Stawar, president, in charge of a business session.

Mrs. Carol Harlan was named chairman of the bake sale set for Oct. 18 at Schermer's Market. All proceeds will be used to provide candy and prizes for Halloween observances at Harris and Louis Baer Schools.

Tentative plans were discussed for a carnival at the schools. The president also announced the club will provide a Christmas film to be shown at the schools during the holiday season.

The officers, Mrs. Stawar and Vice-President Marilyn Schaffner, Secretary Mary Anna Kaminski and Treasurer Lonnie Layton, served as hostesses for the meeting.

Mrs. Laverna Harris and Mrs. Janet Shultz will serve at the next meeting on Oct. 15.

Those present included Betty Cromer, Bettie Green, Edith Miller, Bernadine Weidner, Mary Yeager, Rita Ford, Rose Lawrence, Evelyn Holt, Carol Pursell and Patricia Myers.

Party honors John Svezias

Mr. and Mrs. John Svezia were honored this week with a surprise 25th wedding anniversary party at their home, 1247 Oriole St. given by their daughters Jean and Lynn, and brothers and sisters of the couple.

They were married Sept. 24, 1949 at St. Mary's Church in Madison. Attendants were Richard Shambro and the late Bernice (Smith) Baran.

Mr. and Mrs. Svezia received many gifts. A buffet supper was served to Mr. and Mrs. Hank Svezia and Elaine, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Svezia, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Svezia, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Svezia, Mrs. Agnes Shambro and Jim, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ponce, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kromraj, Mary and Steve, Mrs. Veronica Nizinski and Jerry Mrs. Cecelia Kaleta, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kromraj, Mr. and Mrs. Greg Puszek, Miss Debbie Kierski, Ken Marti and Duane Kruse.

Mr. Svezia is owner and operator of Tony's Restaurant, 1504 Madison Ave., Granite City, Ill.

Kitchen Band names officers

The Eagles Auxiliary Kitchen Band met at the Eagles Home, 2600 Madison Ave., to appoint officers who will serve for the ensuing year.

Those named were Mrs. Angie Buehler, leader; Mrs. Bernice Johannigmeier, arrangements; Mrs. Delores Klesh, program chairman; and Mrs. Billie Schuler, treasurer.

Approximately 18 attended and agreed to donate money to the Granite City Retarded Children group at Christmas.

Mrs. Schuler, president of the auxiliary, reported on the annual state conference and workshop held in Galesburg, Ill., earlier this month.

Local members who attended the state meet included Mrs. Schuler, Helen Frazier, Florence Hagnauer, Angie Buehler and Delores Klesh.

Mrs. Harlow hosts meeting

The Good News Sunday school class of Suburban Baptist Church was entertained in the home of Mrs. Georgia Harlow, 2109 Johnson Road, Monday night.

Elections of officers was held, with Mrs. Harlow named president; Mrs. Lucille Veach, vice-president; Mrs. Evelyn Mohorn, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Hildreth Lewis and Mrs. Ella Mae Watts, social chairmen; Mrs. Wanda Lyerla and Mrs. Wanda Bradford, group captain.

Class projects also were discussed and members agreed to hold class meetings on the first Monday of each month. The Oct. 7 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Lewis.

Mrs. Harlow gave the devotional lesson entitled, "If Jesus Came to Your Home." Those present were Mesdames Alta Mae Cochrill, Wanda Lyerla, Hildreth Lewis, Lucille Veach, Evelyn Mohorn, Wanda Bradford and Ella Mae Watts.

BPW hears Edward Reiske

Edward Reiske, executive vice-president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, was the featured speaker at a meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club in the Media Room of Laclede Gas Building, St. Louis.

Eighty members attended the dinner meeting planned by chairman Ann Graklanoff, using a theme of "Community Affairs."

Reiske's topic was "Get Involved With Your Community." Commenting on Equal Rights he said "It seems to me that it is time for us to start looking at women as equals... We have been using only one-half of the brain power in this country."

He commented that women are ready to take their place in the various careers including politics and told the ladies how BPW clubs and other organizations can help better the community by "getting involved" in what is going on. His wife, Loretta, was introduced to the members of the club.

First vice president Sylvia Wright conducted the business meeting and introduced Lois Wetton, membership chairman, who inducted 11 new members. They are Mesdames Betty Roberson, Mary Jean Dirksmeyer, Nancy R. Benson, Hazel Rollins, Eileen Duffield, Karen Schuur, Majorie A. Storck, Jacqueline C. Carrell, Irene Votoupal, Adrienne Warchol, and Deborah J. Jolly.

The Sunburst Award was presented to Gertrude Ashford and Lorraine Sadrakula. This award is received when a member brings three new members a year into the club. A report was given on the Style Show to be held Oct. 29 at St. Peter's United Church of Christ in Granite City. Models will be chosen from the various clubs in the area and a commentator will be announced at a later date.

The next dinner meeting will be held Oct. 16, with Edith Kohlbrecker in charge of the program, which will be on "Legislation."

Shower fetes Lynn Dyer

Miss Lynn Dyer, an October bride-elect, was guest of honor at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Jane Laule in her home, 3 Patricia Lane.

Green and white table appointments were complimented with silver and crystal centerpieces for the buffet supper served by the hostess.

Assisting the honoree in opening her gifts was Laura Dyer, a niece.

Guests attending were Mesdames Dale Brackett, Carl Thomas, Jack Hill, Chester Ashley, Cecil Burgess, Virginia Conklin, Edward Kneztovich, William Kincaid, John Plieck, Bob Long, William Dyer, mother of the bride-to-be.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Paul George, St. Louis, Mrs. Marshall Dyer of St. Charles, Mrs. Jack R. Dyer and daughter Laura of Fairport, N. Y., and Miss Carol Luer of Edwardsville.

Miss Dyer and Bill Ogden will be married Oct. 4 at St. John United Church of Christ.

Pack 4 holds first meeting

Cub Pack 4, sponsored by Logan School PTA, held its roundup, last week with Den 2 giving the opening flag ceremony and pledge of allegiance.

Cubmaster Gary Miller welcomed the group and announced the scouts will participate in a Halloween parade in October followed by a winter roast.

A hike to Lewis and Clark is set for the end of the month. Named as winners in the physical fitness program were John Powers and Richard Johnston. They will compete with other scouts on Oct. 5 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

A skit on being a Cub Scout was performed by Edna Kitzman and Wilfred Brooks. Mrs. Pat Shabel spoke on the duties of den leaders and committee members prior to the registration.

Awards were given to Ricky Filer, silver arrows; Steve Candier, round-up patch, and the remainder of the scouts received presidential summertime activity awards. Refreshments were served by Den 2.

FITNESS WINNERS

Cub Scout Pack 141 met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Franko during the weekend for a physical fitness championship meet. Three winners of the 8, 9 and 10-year-old groups will go to SIUE on Oct. 5 to compete in the scout council event.

Those who won and will attend are 8-year-old Dan Whitsell, 9-year-old Cliff Bladnick and 10-year-old Joe Price.

Others attending were Tim Bladnick, Dino Wallace, John Fetter, Jim Franko, Paul Moore, Cubmaster and Mrs. Charles Buford and the den mothers, Mrs. Ann Fetter, Mrs. Faye Wallace, Mrs. Jo Ann Franko, Mrs. Eunice Whitsell and Mrs. Joe Bladnick, plus Jim Franko and Joe Bladnick.

Apples picked by local 'Y' Sr. Citizens

Tri-City Area YMCA Senior Citizens held a pot luck dinner in place of their regular meeting during the weekend. Their guest speaker was the Rev. C. Dale Edwards, pastor of First Assembly of God Church, who delivered an inspirational message on "Keeping in Tune with God."

The group went by bus last week to Eckert's orchard in Grafton, picked apples and then lunched at the Pere Marquette, State Park lodge.

The group on Oct. 4 will hold a bazaar, open to the public, at the YMCA from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. there will be a number of things for sale, including all types of handwork, and lunch will be sold.

At the next meeting Friday, Sept. 27, the group will quilt, play games and make items for the bazaar.

ENLISTED IN NAVY

Robert L. Schodroski, son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Schodroski, 819 Lincoln St., Venice, has enlisted at the Navy Recruiting Station in St. Louis. He is undergoing basic military training at the Recruit Training Center in Great Lakes, Ill. He is a 1974 graduate of Venice High School.

Calvary Baptist Revival

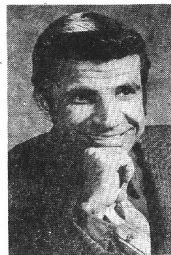

The Rev. Anis Shorosh, a Palestinian Arab and Baptist evangelist, will be the guest speaker at a revival at Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave., beginning Sunday and continuing through Friday, according to the Rev. Al Slayter, host pastor.

Daily services will be held at 10 a.m. each day and the evening worship services will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Dale Perkins of Longview, Tex., will serve as music evangelist for the week-long observance, Rev. Slayter announced.

Rev. Shorosh was born in Nazareth and is a world renown evangelist, having conducted tours around the world on three occasions.

An open invitation to the public was extended by Rev. Slayter.

REV. ANIS SHOROSH

Presbyterian women elect

The Rev. David Maxton reviewed two books entitled, "A Time Like This," by Ted Johnson, and "Go Free" by Elliott Rice, at a meeting of the United Presbyterian Women Tuesday evening at the church.

Miss Lily Dod presented a slate of officers for the 1974-75 year. They were accepted and elected. They are Mrs. Gladys Pope, president; Mrs. Kathryn Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Ethel Beeler, secretary; Mrs. Helen Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. Virginia Rickert, mission interpretation; Mrs. Peg Worley, study; Mrs. Peg Worley, involvement and action; and Mrs. Hazel Pellett, UPW nomination delegate.

Mrs. Pope presided at the meeting and the World Book of Prayer was given by Mrs. Dee Roberts. Officer reports were read and accepted.

A discussion was held on the group adopting a child. They agreed on a 10-year-old girl living in New Mexico and will send donations to the child on specific occasions.

Mrs. Beeler reported an invitation received from Concordia Lutheran Women's Country Store and luncheon project on Oct. 17.

Mrs. Helen Johnson, treasurer, submitted the budget for the forthcoming year and it was accepted.

Members made plans to send a contribution to the women of the Moro, Ill., Presbyterian Church to assist them in rebuilding their church which was burned recently.

Bethel 43 guest night

Jobs Daughters from Bethel 72, Edwardsville, filled the following stations for Bethel 43's guest night Tuesday at the Masonic Temple.

During introductions the following were escorted and introduced:

Diane Wallace, honored queen Bethel 91 Highland; Terri Floyd, past honored queen Bethel 89; Becky Burke grand representative to Kentucky and Marshall of Bethel 43; Dr. Amos Rode associate guardian of Bethel 43, and other visiting Jobs Daughters from Edwardsville and Wood River.

Miss Kathleen Lane, queen of Bethel 43 presided during the business session, announcing there will be a candy sale Oct. 15 to Nov. 15 and the annual sausage supper Oct. 29 from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. Tickets are now on sale and can be purchased from any Jobs Daughter.

Refreshments and a cake walk followed the meeting.

Decorations were in keeping with Raggedy Ann and Andy, Miss Lane's mascots.

During the meeting Miss Lane announced a group from Bethel 43 had attended Friends Night in Edwardsville last week. Those attending were Miss Lane, Leslie Houser, Lisa Smith, Marsha Clutts, Michelle Root, Charla Rainwater, Mrs. Rebecca Slate, guardian; Dr. Amos Rode, associate guardian, and Mrs. Shirley Lane and Mrs. Charlotte Root.

Percy hopes revived

By KEN WATSON
Springfield Bureau

U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy, 53, has returned from a fact-finding trip through the Mediterranean area, the Middle East and India to find resurgences for a 1976 bid for the Republican nomination for President.

On Aug. 13, Percy had publicly conceded that his large campaign effort had been placed in "the deep freeze" as a result of the succession of Vice President Gerald Ford to the White House.

Like many other hopefuls, Percy took it for granted that Ford would be the party's nominee for a full term in 1976. But then came the Nixon pardon and subsequent anti-Ford reaction, not only from Democrats and independents, but from some Republican leaders as well.

Percy's Springfield office reports a steady flow of letters urging that he not abandon his 1976 hopes.

On Aug. 29 Percy offered to refund campaign contributions for his exploratory committee for the 1976 bid.

But up to several days ago only five persons had written in requesting refunds, out of several thousand who had contributed amounts of $5, $10, $25 to $500 since the committee was formed last spring.

As of mid-July, the group had collected more than $100,000. Instead of asking for refunds, most donors have sent letters saying they don't want their money back and for Percy to keep his drive going.

There have been no resignations from the original 200-member committee. Each of these individuals had pledged to raise $2,000 for the Presidential try.

Although plans made before the Nixon resignation for a busy schedule of speaking appearances across the U.S. remain "on the back burner," Percy still retains a substantial number of engagements that will keep him before the public eye and in contact with influential Republicans across the country.

He also retains a following among younger people and independents.

Percy, however, must tread with caution. He must avoid any open criticism of Mr. Ford and be content to let Democrats, disgruntled Republicans and newsmen do that.

The senator's role will be to keep himself before party workers hoping for victory in 1976, and before the general public as a possible alternative to Ford — should the new President continue to lose his early and high popularity.

There is always the possibility that President Ford will come back strong and then Percy as well as other GOP hopefuls would be out of the 1976 picture.

But from an Illinois vantage point, Percy seems to be as good a bet as anyone to be nominated in 1976 should Ford be ruled out. Vice President Nelson Rockefeller would be a rival, but if the party turned its

Room for more Tri-Hi-Y girls

The Tri-City Area YMCA has started the Tri-Hi-Y program on Monday nights from 6 to 8 o'clock. A full night of activities has been planned each week; members may attend club meetings and then swim, work out in the weight rooms, or take part in gymnastics activities until 10 p.m. each Monday.

The Tri-Hi-Y schedule began last week with five clubs and there is room for three more. Any girls in high school—9th, 10th, 11th or 12th grade, and both the North and South schools — may attend tonight and help start a new club.

Mrs. Norma Mendoza, club coordinator, will be present to show how to establish new clubs. Girls may purchase a "Y" membership of $30 for a full year or a $1 day pass.

Polish dance in Madison

A dance will be held beginning at 9 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28 in the Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood St., Madison, sponsored by St. Stanislaus Lodge No. 1094.

(Music will be provided by the Terry Dukto Quintet. Refreshments will be available. Admission to the dance is $1.75.

HOME FROM VACATION
Mr. and Mrs. James L. Doyle, 2245 Washington Ave., returned during the weekend from a week's vacation to the Pennsylvania Dutch country and to the Finger Lake resort area in upper New York State. Among points of interest they visited the Corning Glass Works at Corning, N.Y., and toured the Taylor Winery at Hammondsport, N.Y.

Bicycling, recreation and camping offered

A special schedule of recreation activities will highlight opening weeks of the fall quarter at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Ann Schonlau, campus recreation program coordinator, said free bicycles will be provided through Friday this week for students to explore the 2,000-acre campus, which has several new trails open for cycling and hiking.

Bicycles will be available at the University Geology and trails and places of interest will be pointed out for the convenience of new students.

A bicycle trip of 10 miles is scheduled to begin Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Tower Lake entrance. Guides will be available to familiarize newcomers with recently completed bikeways, including the Delyte Morris Bikeway and the Madison County Nature Trail.

Cyclists should take their own bikes, or bikes will be available for rent at 50 cents per hour at the Tower Lake recreation office, it was explained.

Free recreation workshops are scheduled for persons wanting to learn canoeing, sailing, bicycle repair, exercising and fishing. Recreation specialists will be available at each workshop to teach techniques and demonstrate ways to enhance knowledge and enjoyment of the activity.

The schedule is: canoeing—1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28, at Tower Lake; exercising—12 noon to 1 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 2, at the bubble gymnasium; sailing—1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 5, at Tower Lake; bicycle repair—1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 6, at Tower Lake recreation entrance point; and fishing—1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 6, at Tower Lake.

An exercise session is scheduled at noon Monday, Sept. 7, and beginning Oct. 16, the noon sessions will be continued.

each Wednesday through October at the bubble gym. Instructors will be available for group and individual exercise in weight control and toning exercises. Sauna and tanning facilities are available at the gym.

Two recreation trips off campus are planned during October. Miss Schonlau said an Elsie to Brussels bike trip is scheduled Saturday, Oct. 12. A bus will be available to transport cyclists and their bikes to the ferry at Grafton, where they will cross to the Brussels area, ending at the Whitcomb Hotel for a family style meal.

The bus will cost $2 and the optional meal will be $3.50. All participants will be brought back to the SIUE campus by bus.

A bus trip also is planned for Saturday, Oct. 26, to provide opportunities to see fall colors. The terminal point will be the Tower Lake recreation office, it was explained.

Free recreation workshops are scheduled for persons wanting to learn canoeing, sailing, bicycle repair, exercising and fishing. Recreation specialists will be available at each workshop to teach techniques and demonstrate ways to enhance knowledge and enjoyment of the activity.

Students, faculty and staff personnel and their families are being encouraged to use the natural habitat that surrounds Tower Lake, providing a lush environment for family and individual outings, she commented. Tables and barbeque pits are provided, and canoes, rowboats and sailboats are available for rent.

Miss Schonlau said workshops will be scheduled on campus. There are plans to create camping areas on the SIUE campus, and Campus Recreation rents backpacks, tents and other camping gear. Additional information about any of the trips or activities may be obtained by calling Campus Recreation at 892-2920.

Eldon M. Bigham is program director.

FEDERAL RESERVE NOTES, a barber shop quartet of the Mississippi Valley Barber Shop Chorus, who won first place in the St. Louis Area Contest in Belleville. Entered in the contest were eight quartets and six choruses. Left to right are Al Mueller of Oakville, Dennis McCann of Granite City, Hal Maples of St. Charles, Mo., and Rich Pich of Granite City. The group will compete in another contest in Bloomington, Ill., this weekend.

Trailriders show winners

Eighty-five entries participated in this week's show by the Trailriders Saddle Club at the club's arena in Chouteau Township. The next show will be held Oct. 6 at 1 p.m.

First place winners this week were: Pony pleasure, Janetta Bowman riding Sam. Pony poles, Mike Bowman riding Charlie. Pony barrels, Pam Weldon riding Washbone. Halter (mares), Diane Lamew Junior western pleasure was won by Guy Jackson on Miss King Stacy. Ricky Miller won a double-header in junior poles and junior barrels riding Copperhead. Bill Brown won the senior poles on his horse Smokey. Patty Bravary was the fastest in the flag race on Rumpus Pete. John Schilling took two first places in senior barrels and the flag race on his horse Pokey.

Grants to students

Any needy student attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville who can meet the qualifications can receive up to $100 in a student-to-student grant. The grant is made up of funds supplied by SIUE students at the beginning of the quarter.

"All students are assessed $1.50 which is added to their normal tuition fees. During the first 10 days of the quarter, the student can request and receive a refund," Elwood Buchanan, staff assistant in Student Work and Financial Assistance at the university, said. The remaining funds are matched by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

To be eligible for the Student-to-Student Grant Program, a student must show a documented need and be enrolled for six or more hours at SIUE during the quarter he plans to be a recipient.

All recipients of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission (ISSC) monetary award for the current academic year are eligible. All Illinois resident undergraduate students, who are not now receiving ISSC awards, must either file a parent's confidential statement if they are dependents or file the student financial statement if they are independent.

Graduate students, both in-state and out-of-state, are also eligible but must file the FCS or SFS with the Student Work and Financial Assistance office.

The student-to-student grant program, in progress at the university for seven quarters, has made an average of 750 grants each quarter to students in need.

Mitchell PTA plans car wash

Mitchell PTA will sponsor a car wash from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday at Terry's Bellemore Motel Service Station, it was announced today by the president, Mrs. Viva Elliott.

Tickets costing $1 for an outside wash are available from any member or on the day of the project at the service station. Mrs. Elliott added an inside vacuum cleaning will be an additional 50 cents.

All proceeds are used for the planned activities of the Parent Teacher Unit of the school and students.

Park district to issue ID cards

The Granite City Park District will issue identification cards on four separate dates for park district residents to be used at both the ice rink and during the summer at the swimming pool.

The dates are Monday, Sept. 30, from 7 to 9 p.m.; Thursday, Oct. 3, from 7 to 9 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 12, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and Saturday, Oct. 26, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Fee for the cards is 75 cents per person. Applicants must show proof of residence that they live within the park district. The cards are valid for a 3-year period and only three persons with expired cards or new residents are required to apply for new cards.

For information residents may call the park office at 877-3059.

ENTER BREAD STORE

Eighteen loaves of bread, six packages of rolls and a tool box and tools were stolen in a burglary at the Dolly Madison Cake Co., 1509 Madison Ave., reported at 7:55 a.m. Saturday. A garage window was broken and the door opened to gain entry, officials believed.

Teacher group assails lawsuit

The Illinois Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, released a statement this week assailing the Illinois Education Association, a rival teachers' organization, because of a suit filed by IEA president Wood Lee against an IFT member, David McLwaine of Alton.

The IEA filed suit Sept. 18 in an effort to block the appointment of McLwaine to the State Teachers Certification Board. McLwaine was appointed to the board by State Instruction Supt. Michael J. Bakalis as a representative of the IFT.

The law provides that a teachers' organization may recommend a representative to serve on the board if it has in excess of 10,000 and up to 20,000 members, and may nominate a representative for each additional 20,000 members.

The IEA suit says the IFT does not have sufficient members with teaching certificates issued by the certification board. It contends that over 20,000 members of the IFT who teach in Chicago are not under the jurisdiction of the board.

Oscar Weil, executive director of the IFT, replied, "They could surely find out easily that we have over 20,000 members in Chicago public schools alone, and that we represent over 45,000 teachers. All teachers in the state are affected by regulations of the certification board."

School lunch prices go up Monday

The price of school lunch in Granite City public schools will increase Monday under a new price schedule which has been approved by the Board of Education and by the state Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Elementary school lunches will increase 5 cents, from 40 cents to 45 cents, while the lunches in junior high schools and the high schools will increase from 45 cents to 50 cents.

Weekly lunch passes also will reflect the increases with elementary passes increasing from $2 to $2.25 and junior and senior high school passes increasing from $2.25 to $2.75.

Lunches for teachers and employees also will increase from 75 cents to $1 each.

Cafeteria Director O. L. Overhuler announced that the reduced price lunch program is available to many families who do not qualify for free lunches.

Tickets costing $1 per week are available to children who qualify for the reduced price lunches.

Teacher group assails lawsuit

The Illinois Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, released a statement this week assailing the Illinois Education Association, a rival teachers' organization, because of a suit filed by IEA president Wood Lee against an IFT member, David McLwaine of Alton.

The IEA filed suit Sept. 18 in an effort to block the appointment of McLwaine to the State Teachers Certification Board. McLwaine was appointed to the board by State Instruction Supt. Michael J. Bakalis as a representative of the IFT.

The law provides that a teachers' organization may recommend a representative to serve on the board if it has in excess of 10,000 and up to 20,000 members, and may nominate a representative for each additional 20,000 members.

The IEA suit says the IFT does not have sufficient members with teaching certificates issued by the certification board. It contends that over 20,000 members of the IFT who teach in Chicago are not under the jurisdiction of the board.

Oscar Weil, executive director of the IFT, replied, "They could surely find out easily that we have over 20,000 members in Chicago public schools alone, and that we represent over 45,000 teachers. All teachers in the state are affected by regulations of the certification board."

Suggests crime deterrents

Glen Wright, Granite City's "Officer Friendly" was the featured speaker at a Jaycee and Jaycee wives dinner meeting, and discussed the effect of crime on the community. He gave suggestions to help in deterring crime.

Wright said that everyone in the community suffers from crime in the form of increased insurance cost, higher taxes and higher prices. He said there are 5.75 million crime victims at an annual cost of $36 billion. Out of every dollar spent, 25 cents goes to cover the cost of shoplifting, he added.

Officer Wright suggested that citizens make it difficult for criminals to victimize them in the following ways: Home defense: update locks, doors and windows; use outside lights and by keeping lights on inside the house during the evening, even while away.

He prepared: use operation ID (engraving your valuables with a driver's license number so valuables, if stolen, can be readily identified and returned—obtain ID kit from the police department), ask a neighbor to watch the house while you are gone.

Personal and family protection: know your children, who their friends are, and where they are at all times. Call the police if you are suspicious—don't investigate yourself.

Auto: lock it and pocket the key, store any items in the car out of sight. Help the police: know your police and report any and all crimes.

Do your part: obey the law yourself, participate in government, cooperate with officials. Officer Wright concluded his presentation with a film on crime prevention.

Farm leasing explanation

An educational program on farm leasing will be held Monday, Sept. 30, at 7:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau auditorium, Edwardsville, according to Harley Willard, chairman of the Madison County Agriculture Extension Council.

Franklin J. Reiss, University of Illinois extension farm management and tenancy specialist, will be the speaker.

The program will include a discussion of farm leasing. Specific topics will include cash leases, crop share leases, and the value of having a written lease.

Reiss is a graduate of the University of Illinois, receiving a bachelor degree in agriculture in 1940, a master degree in agriculture economics in 1942 and the doctor of philosophy degree in agriculture economics in 1952. A native of Freeburg, he has been on the University of Illinois staff since 1940.

All interested persons in Madison County are invited to attend.

Price backs revision of 'Black Lung' program

Cong. Melvin Price of this 23rd district is sponsoring legislation to revise provisions of the current Black Lung benefit program.

Under the legislation Rep. Price proposes, any miner or widow would automatically qualify for benefits if the miner had worked for at least 15 years in underground mines. In addition, widows' claims will be considered even if their husbands were employed at the time of death. Cong. Price also has proposed to make legal the use of lay evidence to support Black Lung claims when sufficient medical evidence does not exist.

"The present Black Lung program has many inequalities and, in short, provides too little for too few. This new legislation will equalize the program for all miners and widows, and most importantly it will make the benefit program permanent,"

Cong. Price said.

Speaker of the House Carl Albert (Dem., Okla.) has appointed Cong. Price as Congressional Advisor to the U.S. delegation at the 18th session of the General Conference of the International Atomic Energy Agency. Rep. Price, currently serving as Chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, has served on the U.S. delegation to the Vienna conference several times since 1957 when the IAEA was founded to discuss the peaceful uses of international atomic energy.

Rep. Price announced that on Tuesday, Sept. 17, the Postal Service began advertising for construction bids on Phase I of the new East St. Louis postal facility. Cong. Price explained that Phase I consists of site development, driving of structural piling and related preliminary work. The contract should be finalized in mid-October.

The contract for Phase II will be awarded on Dec. 31, according to the latest Post Office Department schedule. Phase II includes the actual construction of the 30,000 sq. ft. building, to be located on a 188,000 square-foot site on Missouri Avenue, between 9th and 10th streets. Completion is scheduled for mid-December, 1975.

In supporting the Consumer Product Warranties Act, Cong. Price acted to "continue the fight for the protection of consumers' rights for all Americans." This legislation provides for the Federal Trade Commission to act as the regulatory and administrative agency in the protection of minimum standards for consumer warranties.

"Unclear and uncertain warranties have long been a way of life for the American consumer," Rep. Price said. "This legislation goes a long way toward stripping away the uncertainty the American consumer faces daily."

Cong. Price supported legislation of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy on the licensing of nuclear power plants. Voicing his concern for the necessity of licensing legislation to protect the safety of the country as well as to alleviate the energy crisis, Rep. Price introduced new material for study by the Joint Committee, culled from the bills earlier introduced by Rep. Mike McCormack (Dem., Wash.) and Senator Edward Kennedy (Dem., Mass.).

J. E. Meyer enlists in U.S. Air Force

James Edward Meyer, Granite City, has enlisted in the U.S. Air Force. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Meyer, Collinsville. Airman Meyer was guaranteed the job of munitions maintenance specialist prior to enlistment under the Air Force guaranteed jobs program.

A 1970 graduate of Collinsville High School, Airman Meyer departed for Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Tex., for basic military training after the enlistment ceremonies. Following completion of basic, he will attend a technical training school in the mechanical field.

Airman Meyer is married to the former Rita A. Shrum of Granite City. They have two children.

Information about enlistment in the United States Air Force may be obtained from Sergeant Habbert at 1204 Niedringhaus Ave., phone 876-5225.

Dental school to get master plan

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

The SIU Board of Trustees has approved development of a master land use and building plan for the university's dental school located at Alton. Development of a plan has been recommended by the American Dental Association Accreditation Committee. Alton will be the permanent home of the dental school, which opened in 1972.

Area counties and cities have become eligible for up to $30 million in grants over the next three years under the federal government's new Housing and Community Development Act. The funds can be used for a variety of community projects including streets, sewers, drainage, acquisition of property and planning activities. Receipt of the funds requires no matching funds from local governmental units.

Madison County has approved issuance of $4 million in general obligation bonds to finance construction of a new county jail in downtown Edwardsville. The new jail will be built on land donated to the county by the city and by Edwardsville merchants.

A five-year program to upgrade and modernize the East St. Louis operations of Pfizer, Inc., has been announced by company officials. The multi-million-dollar project will include some new building additions, new equipment and new air and water pollution control devices. The project is designed to increase both the production and competitive position of the plant. About 400 persons are employed at the East St. Louis facility, which produces iron oxide for various uses.

May Department Stores, Inc., is considering development of a second Illinois shopping center, to be located at Alton. Company officials have asked the city to aid in development of a proposed $8.3 million center by providing up to $1.5 million in public road and sewer improvements. The center is proposed to be located on a 55-acre tract along Alton's Beltline. The two-story facility would be anchored by two major department stores.

An offer to build a $1.5 million recreational complex at Belleville's Citizens Park has been made to the city officials. The proposal calls for construction of a regulation sized hockey and ice skating rink, an Olympic sized swimming pool, and an administration building on ten acres of the 57-acre site. The facilities would be financed by a citizens' committee which owns the park. Facilities and land would be leased to the city and deemed over to it upon retirement of the financial obligation.

Central Hardware will open a newest Illinois store at Granite City's Crossroads next March. The store, containing 67,000 square feet of space, will be the largest of the firm's 13 stores in the metropolitan area.

CHEVROLET FOR 1975. CARS THAT MAKE SENSE FOR TODAY.

Nova LN Sedan

Monza 2+2

MONZA 2+2 The small car of tomorrow will probably be a little more powerful, handy and comfortable than ever. The 1975 Monza 2+2, shown above, offers this today. It has advances like rectangular headlights set in a soft front end, fold-down rear seat, and a new 4.3-liter V8 engine available.

CAMARO Our sensibly sporty compact. It looks like a million and drives like it looks.

IMPALA America's favorite car continues to provide the room many families need plus plenty of quiet and comfort. Still the great American value.

WAGONS Big ones, small ones, in-between ones. Practical wagons that make sense for America. And you.

CHEVELLE Mid-size, easy to drive, room for six, mid-priced, strong reputation for value. America's most popular intermediate.

MONTÉ CARLO Its special ability: making you feel good. About the way it looks and drives. About your own taste and judgment.

CHEVROLET'S NEW EFFICIENCY SYSTEM FOR 1975

It's the key part of a program aimed at helping our new cars run leaner (more economically), run cleaner—and save you money every mile.

The Efficiency System is standard on all 1975 Chevrolets with V8 or 6-cylinder engines. It's a series of significant engineering improvements working together for the very first time.

Components include High Energy Ignition, catalytic converter, Early Fuel Evaporation and steel-belted radial ply tires. In sum, the System is designed to heighten the pleasure and lower the cost of driving a 1975 Chevrolet—to bring you a better running car in many ways, along with improved fuel economy, more miles between recommended maintenance and an engine that stays cleaner internally because of no-lead fuel.

Your Chevrolet dealer will gladly give you the details and answer your questions. See him and the sensible 1975 Chevrolets starting September 27.

GC girl named poster child

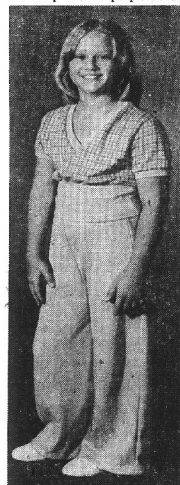

Elaine Koesterer, 50 Cambridge Drive, has been selected the 1974 poster child for the Human Growth Foundation, Greater St. Louis Chapter, to serve during Human Growth Week Sept. 28 to Oct. 5.

Elaine, 11, and a sixth-grade student at St. Elizabeth School, will help tell the people about the importance of being aware of the growth of their children. She has a growth problem as hypopituitary dwarfism, a hormone failure of the pituitary gland which controls growth. Elaine has received help since she was 2 through investigative research at Washington University School of Medicine with injections of human growth hormone which is extracted from donated pituitary glands. This has enabled her to grow 21 inches in nine years.

Human Growth Foundation is a national, volunteer organization concerned with growth problems, particularly dwarfism. It sponsors medical research in the field of growth and engages in medical and public education programs and counseling to families where growth problems exist.

In addition, it solicits donations of human pituitary glands. More information about growth problems may be obtained from Human Growth Foundation, Box 9569, Kirkwood, Mo. 63122, or by calling Mrs. Koesterer at 931-2225.

DAMAGE FUNERAL HOME Officials of Davis Funeral Home, 2800 Cleveland Blvd., said late last week that someone had broken in and apparently had tried to drive an ambulance. They said the door facing around the overhead door was broken and the ambulance was not straight in the garage. The right front door handle was broken off the vehicle. Four hammers were taken from a tool box in the garage.

School sets meal policy

St. Margaret Mary School has announced its policy for free meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs.

School officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility for families of one to 12: Family income for free meals, $2,910, $3,830, $4,740, $5,660, $6,480, $7,310, $8,060, $8,810, $9,510, $10,190, $10,860, $11,530. For each additional family member income rises $670.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional companies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. In certain cases foster children, are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, or national origin.

Granite City participation in the Alton Area Vocational School program the beginning of next school year was termed unlikely by the Granite City Board of Education last week. The board was told by Harold Davis, board representative to the vocational school planning group, that strikes and other delays have jeopardized the opening of the school next fall.

Davis said his discussions with administrators of the vocational school indicated to him that the Alton officials "expect us, as the largest district except Alton, to just jump right in with students when they open."

The board agreed it could not give any commitments to the school until more information is known.

It was indicated that working the vocational program into the full curriculum plans of students should start as much as two years before the student actually attends the vocational school.

"We might just wait for the school to open and watch to see how it does, before we commit anyone to attend," George Moore Sr., school board member commented.

The board heard a report on possible future curriculum changes from Owen Humphrey, curriculum coordinator for the school district.

Humphrey said plans still are being discussed, but that a half semester hour elective course in basic business law is being considered for the fall of 1975, and a more comprehensive junior high school health program, required by the state, may go into effect in the fall of 1976.

The board took under advisement a request that it officially recognize the new Parents Association for Gifted Education.

A tentative date of Oct. 27 for dedication of Granite City High School North was given to the board for consideration. A firm date will be set by the board at its next meeting Oct. 1.

Gilbert Wainley, GCIS North principal, told the board he is planning dedication ceremonies, followed by an open house, on Sunday, Oct. 27, which also is the beginning of National Education Week. Numerous staff members have offered to donate their time for the event, he said.

The school board approved a schedule calling for teacher inservice training on conferences with parents and on public relations Nov. 4, followed Nov. 5 and 6 by parent-teacher conferences. The second set of parent-teacher conferences was set for April 1 and 2. The dates must be approved by the county educational superintendent before becoming official.

Parent-teacher conferences were ordered reinstated by the board last year after having been halted for a year.

The board accepted gifts of soccer jerseys for North and South soccer players from Mendoza Sporting Goods. Permanent plastic folders costing a total of $132, donated by the McKinley School Parent-Teacher Association for the learning center there, also were accepted with gratitude.

Trip approvals were given to:

William Schmitt for the National Wrestling Coaches' Assn. executive committee meeting Oct. 6 to 8 in Orlando, Fla.; to 14 administrators to attend teacher evaluation seminars of the Education Services Bureau Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 with fees of $100 per person paid by the school district; to Superintendent J. J. Davis to attend the American Association of School Administrators meeting in Dallas, Tex., Feb. 21 to 24; and to Al Wilson to speak at the International Reading Assn. convention May 12 and 13 in New York City.

Also receiving approval were: William Rotter and Lawrence Grabowski to attend the Southwestern Area Convention of the National Science Teachers' Assn. Oct. 3 to 5 in Memphis, Tenn.; Monte Kessler to attend an IBM workshop on scheduling in New York City Oct. 16 to 18; Board President Donald Stude to attend an Illinois Association of School Boards leadership conference in Des Plaines Sept. 27 and 28, and to Board Delegate

A.L. "Pete" Metcalf and Board Alternate L. Monroe Worthen, to attend the joint Illinois Association of School Administrators conference in Chicago Nov. 23 to 25.

All board members were invited to attend the Southwestern Division of IASB fall dinner meeting at Granite City High School North at 6 p.m. Wednesday. A one-hour tour of the building will be held at 5 p.m.

Permission was granted to numerous organizations to use school district facilities.

Approved activities follow:

North Booster Club, use of North for events throughout the year.

—Nameoki Township, use of Maryville School as a polling place Nov. 5.

—Miss Eulalia Hotz, county clerk, use of the South cafeteria Nov. 2 for instruction of election judges.

The Granite City Jaycees to use Coolidge Oct. 5 for a "Save Our Sight" program; to use the South auditorium Nov. 20 for the Miss Granite City Pageant; to use the South gymnasium for a country music show Feb. 16; to use South field for a Granite City sports jamboree in May of 1975; to use bulletin boards to announce a free miniature golf tournament and for a drug abuse poster contest.

—The Granite City Park District, to use Nameoki, Prather, Coolidge, Grigby and South for fall and winter recreation programs.

—St. Margaret Mary School, to use an elementary school gymnasium for basketball practice.

—St. Margaret Mary CYO, to use an elementary school gymnasium for basketball practice.

—Emmanuel Baptist Church, to use Nameoki gym for recreation.

—Granite City Mission of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, to use Nameoki gym Oct. 21 to Nov. 4 for basketball practice.

—YMCA, to use various school fields for soccer.

Jane Kehoe, to use the Nameoki School field for the Madison County Girls' Soccer.

—Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church, to use the Prather cafeteria, Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28, for its annual fellowship meeting.

—The local chapter of the National Association for Gifted Children, to use Coolidge Junior High School for monthly meetings.

The board agreed to enter into an agreement with the park district for the use of tennis courts, baseball diamonds and grounds for various activities.

Madison schools to get exterior painting work

The Madison School Board has given permission to Ed Rhoads, maintenance supervisor, to advertise for bids on the exterior paint for all schools but the high school.

It is estimated that the exteriors of all schools can be painted before winter.

A contract for $111 was awarded to Superior Service Co. to clean carpeting in the administration building. Superior was the lowest of two bidders.

The board discussed plans for grading of a lot next to the administration building for a parking lot. Bids will be sought when plans are completed.

A letter from the state superintendent's office advised the board that all Madison school district buildings have received full approval for the 1974-75 year.

Approval was granted the administration to collect donations from school employees during the school year for the district's fund which makes donations to charitable organizations, including the United Way campaign.

Superintendent John Palchiff reported on the results of a survey the administration conducted into the feasibility and costs of starting a varsity golf program at the high school. The board took the issue under advisement.

Hollywood-Andrews Photography Studio was awarded a contract to take school photos this year.

Mrs. Marguerite Connole, assistant curriculum director, reported about 120 persons have enrolled in 12 junior college courses being conducted in Madison by Belleville Area College.

The board gave its approval to the administration to submit the summer school state aid claim and the Title II reimbursement claim with the state.

Madison will host the spring meeting of the Madison County Food Services Assn., April 10. Permission for the event was granted by the board.

Administrators and cafeteria workers were authorized to attend the county food service bosses' night Oct. 8.

Board member David Miskelly was named delegate and Frank Eaves alternate to the Illinois Association of School Board convention Nov. 22 to 25 in Chicago.

All board members and administrators were authorized to attend last night's Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Board meeting Wednesday evening at Granite City High School North.

MRS. MICHAEL MOTIL III, the former Miss Beverly Ann Francis who was married in an afternoon ceremony at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Francis, 2529 Edison Ave.

Sacred Heart scene of Motil-Francis wedding

Miss Beverly Ann Francis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Francis, 2529 Edison Ave., became the bride of Michael Motil III, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Motil Jr., 2948 Lincoln Ave., on Sept. 21 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The Rev. Daniel Flynn officiated at the double-ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon before an altar adorned with arrangements of natural wheat and bronze mums and pom poms.

Roger Junk, soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Miss Karen Koliste. Nuptial selections included "Trumpet Voluntary," "Wedding Song," "They'll Know We are Christians by Our Love," "Kumbaya," "The Lord's Prayer," "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother," "Why."

The former Miss Francis wore her mother's gown fashioned of embroidered tulle and satin. Long sleeves were set into a molded bodice designed with a scoop neckline. Tiers of gossamer tulle over radiant satin cascaded into a long sweeping cathedral train.

A camelot headpiece trimmed in Alencon lace and seed pearls secured her melodic veil and she held a cascade bouquet of white gamelia, babybreath, dracaena foliage and variegated pittosporum.

The attendants wore identical A-line gowns with high necklines, Empire bodices and long puffed sleeves fashioned of cascade and ivory, floral-printed organza. Their softly gathered skirts were of ivory organza and fashioned with a deep border of matching print edging the hemlines.

Each wore an apricot satin camelot hat to hold in place short bouffant veils, and held arm bouquets of long-stem apricot Abbey roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Patricia Sedg and bridesmaids included Miss Carla Francis, a sister of the bride, Miss Laura Oakley, and Miss Patricia Stener, cousins of the bride and groom.

Jennifer and Susan Little, the bride's cousin, served as flower girls. They appeared in long A-line frocks created with high necklines, Empire bodices and short puffed sleeves in the same colors as the adult attendants.

Apricot ribbons were worn in their hair and each held a basket of yellow, apricot and bronze pom poms.

Michael Gnojewski, the groom's cousin, was the ringbearer.

The groom chose his brother, Ronald Motil, as his best man. Michael and Tom Francis, brothers of the bride, Rick Mooshegan, a cousin of the groom, were groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Steve Cook and Dan Polak.

Mrs. Edgar Reynolds attended the guest book at a reception given at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Motil, hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville.

Mrs. Francis, mother of the bride, chose a full-length gown of ivory tulle over taffeta in an Empire style. A lace ruffle edged the scoop neckline, cuffed the long, sheer fitted sleeves and encircled the A-line skirt.

She carried a nosegay of bronze and apricot pom poms.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Motil, was attired in a long gown featuring a mint green Venice lace Empire bodice with a high collar and short sleeves.

Her floor-length skirt was created in chiffon over taffeta and she wore a corsage of yellow pom poms.

Lisa and Linda Oakley, cousins of the bride, distributed rice packets. Serving as altar boys were Brian Oakley and David Mooshegan, cousins of the bride and groom.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the couple will reside in Granite City.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the former Miss Francis also was graduated from Barnes Hospital School of Nursing. She now works at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The groom is a 1971 graduate of Granite City High School and is employed at Granite City Steel.

Hall-Schnefke nuptials at St. Elizabeth Church

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Sept. 26, 1974 Page 39

Urn of white gladiolus, mums and greenery and bunting white tapers in branched candelabra provided the setting at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church for the wedding on Sept. 21 of Miss Patricia Sue Schnefke, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schnefke, Rural Route One, Granite City, and Kenneth Lee Hall, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bonser, 5 Woodcliff Acres, St. Charles, Mo.

The Rev. John Savoree performed a double-ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Organist Miss Karen MacDonough accompanied Dave Harrison as he sang "We've Only Just Begun," "One Hand One Heart," "Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Schnefke escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a floor-length gown fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice, a deep-scoop neckline traced with a lace ruffle and long tapered sleeves ending with a flared ruffle at the wrists.

Lace motifs were appliqued on the A-line silhouette organza skirt designed with a gathered flounce at the hemline that extended into a cathedral-length train.

A flat satin bow secured her mantilla veil edged with a wide, lace border and she carried a cascade of white carnations encircled with pink and blue carnations.

Honor attendant Miss Cheryl Schnefke, a sister of the bride, chose an aqua-blue Empire style dress with long sleeves, enhanced with a white lace trim on the collar and cuffs.

The bridesmaids Miss Nancy Schnefke, another sister of the bride, Miss Ruth Jansen and Miss Margaret Schnefke, cousins of the bride and Miss Monica Mezzanero were gowned in identical full-length dresses in alternating colors of pink and aqua blue.

Each girl wore a white picture hat and held a bouquet of blue, white and pink carnations with baby breath to match their attire.

Flower girl Lynn Baldridge, a cousin of the groom, was dressed in a floor-length gown featuring a blue and pink floral trim to create a pinafore style. She carried a basket of carnations and greenery.

Serving as ringbearer was Thomas Schnefke, a cousin of the bride.

The groom selected Michael Viviano as his best man. Mark Schimmsur, Vince Saputo, Dave Schnefke, a brother of the bride.

The groom selected Michael Viviano as his best man. Mark Schimmsur, Vince Saputo, Dave Schnefke, a brother of the bride.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH LEE HALL. They were united in marriage at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Formerly Miss Patricia Sue Schnefke, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schnefke, Rural Route One, Granite City.

Gardenaires hold workshop

The September meeting of the Gardenaires Garden Club was an all-day workshop at the home of Mrs. John Farrell in Froberg, Ill.

Members spent the morning hours working on pine cone wreaths which will be used by the club in decorating the Granite City public library for the Christmas season.

At noon, Mrs. Farrell served a salad luncheon to Mesdames C. E. Eads, Mary Kristian, A. A. Malottki, Jerry Arbeiter, Charles Kohl and William Long of Edwardsville.

After lunch, Mrs. Kohl, the president, conducted the business meeting. Garden Center chairman, Mrs. Malottki, reported this month's exhibit at the garden center, located at the local library, featured hedges. She detailed the research that had been done in preparing and setting up the exhibit.

The Cheer Committee reported sending a card to Mrs.

ARTHUR FISCHER of Collinsville and the members present prepared a card to be sent to Mrs. Sherman Ellidge.

Orders were taken for the National Council engagement calendars, and the club voted to continue its donation to the state Blue Star Marker Fund.

Plans were completed for the October meeting which will be held Oct. 16 at the home of Mrs. Kohl. This will be a birthday party as the club will observe its 20th anniversary at that time.

The meeting concluded with each member contributing some item of information pertaining to the vegetable exhibit. This was the designated vegetable for the month of September. Before departing for home the members viewed the woods that are a part of the Farrell grounds.

TRAVEL BY HANDICAPPED. Folded wheelchairs and a smiling Father John Maronec are visible as "victim missionaries" are boarded for a religious pilgrimage to Lourdes and Rome. Thirteen residents of the Missouri-Illinois area joined with 60 others in New York for a special flight to Europe, scheduled to end Oct. 2. Members of the Victim Missionaries are handicapped people from throughout the U.S. who meet monthly at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows to assist one another. Those from this metropolitan area include Carol Foppe, Henrietta Stukenburg, Aurelia Blatz, Anastasia Corssen, Dorothy McFarland, Sister Mary Myron, Salkeld Smith, Jeanne Ledoux, Beverly Faulkner, Nancy Schuette and Patrina Clulfo.

Answer 5 fire calls

Fire caused an estimated $1,500 damage to the 1974 auto of Janet Davis, 2805 Lincoln Ave., parked in front of her home, at 2:30 a.m. Friday. A short in the wiring was believed to be the cause. Granite City firemen extinguished the flames.

Firemen also were called to Lipsett Steel, 2520 E. 23rd St., at 8:15 a.m. Friday to extinguish a fire in the insulation of an old boxcar. They were on the scene one hour and 15 minutes.

A leak in a gas pipe to a stove started a fire which caused an estimated $50 damage to the home of Ida Merfield, 2026 Meridian Ave., at 3:45 p.m. Thursday. The fire was out when firemen arrived.

The auto of Christine Fudo, 1420 Eighth St., Madison, was damaged by a fire, believed caused by a gasoline leak, at 20th Street and Edwardsville Road, at 7:45 p.m. Saturday.

Firemen also were called to the home of Lorraine Falbe, 2528 Adams St., where a furnace overheated and would not shut off. Firemen disconnected the gas supply to the furnace. There was no damage to the home.

Cyclists hurt

Two persons were injured in a motorcycle accident on 22nd Street at the railroad crossing near Adams Street at 1:45 p.m. Saturday.

Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital were the driver, Patrick Bryant, 18, of 2323 Adams St., who was treated for abrasions to both forearms and his right knee and was released, and Darlene Synder, 16, of 2823 Denver St., admitted with abrasions to her chin, the left side of her face, her right knee and her left shoulder.

7 million drivers keep state office staff busy

By MARY LOU MANNING
 Press-Record
 Springfield Bureau

Every 10 seconds, a vehicle changes ownership in Illinois. There are over seven million licensed drivers operating over six million vehicles within Illinois.

Annually, about 20 per cent of these seven million drivers move away from Illinois. What does this all mean? Lots of work for the Secretary of State's office. Specifically the title division which processes an average of 12,000 titles per day. The bulk of the title transactions, which number three million each year, are in the areas of new vehicles, transfer of titles and duplication of titles. "During the past three years, we have experienced an increase in the number of vehicles registered, reaching about four, and one-half per cent each year," William E. Price, administrator of the title and auto registration divisions, said this week.

He pointed out that corrected or duplicated titles number about one-quarter of a million per year.

"Most of these occur because the person has lost the title," he said.

One of the most difficult title applications to process involves out-of-state transactions. This stems from the fact that every state handles the transaction a little differently.

Certain application omissions, including failure to sign it or enclose the proper fee, automatically render it fatal and the application must be sent back.

Other mistakes — improper or omitted Social Security number, drivers license, etc. — used to result in an automatic return. However, with investigation of a "phone first" program, the division is saving both time and money in the collection of needed data.

"In our new 'phone first' program, we take the applications needing more information — not those that are fatal — look up the phone number of the applicant and telephone him in the early evening hours for the needed information," the administrator said.

It is estimated that 15 per cent of all applications contain a mistake.

"On test cases, we have experienced a 96 per cent 'hit' rate," he continued. "In other words, the person was home and the needed information was obtained."

Also in test cases, it was found that the average telephone call cost between 50 and 60 cents. It has been estimated that it costs approximately $3, including postage and labor, to return the application along with a letter by mail.

"Too, this procedure cuts down in delay," Price said.

After a title application is received in the 185-man office, it takes about three weeks to process, if everything is in order. The Springfield office is the only one to process the applications.

Administrator Price noted that as of last Jan. 1, the fee for a title was raised from $2 to $3, including duplicate copies.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Eastern Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois will hold its annual dinner meeting Monday, Sept. 30, at the Round Table Restaurant on Route 157 at Collinsville. A social hour will start at 6:45 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. Max Ruby, St. Louis television newsmen, will be the speaker.

SIUE Archeologists Salvage Lily Lake Artifacts Before Destruction

Prehistoric sites near Cahokia which are destined to be destroyed by a drainage system are being explored by student archeologists from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

More artifacts than were anticipated have been found in the Lily Lake site, a 90-acre field southeast of the French village of Cahokia, according to Terry Norris of St. Louis, an SIUE graduate student and field supervisor for the project.

Called an "archeological salvage investigation," the explorations have included extensive excavations, soil testing, surface collecting, mapping and photography.

The salvage work was started last year when a survey by the U.S. Corps of Engineers indicated that at least seven of 25 known prehistoric sites in the area would be destroyed by a drainage system project in the American Bottoms region near Cahokia. The archeology project was funded through a grant to SIUE from the National Park Service of the U.S. Department of Interior.

Sidney G. Denny, assistant professor of anthropology at SIUE, said artifacts being found are helping clarify the subsistence patterns of the Mississippian Indians who occupied the area.

The Mississippian culture dates back to 900 A.D. and continued in the area as late as 1500 A.D. The time of major expansion, when houses apparently were built along the ridge of Lily Lake, is believed to have been about 1000 A.D.

Norris, whose major at SIUE is behavioral science, believes outlying farms were developed in the Lily Lake area to provide food for a large concentration of Indians living at Cahokia Mounds. The Cahokians numbered as many as 40,000 at the peak of their civilization, about 1200 A.D.

Norris said the salvage crew has found evidence of other cultures in the area, including the Middle Woodland civilization which existed from 600 B.C. to 350 A.D. A garbage pit from that era contained animal bones and bits of ceramics.

But the investigation has been centered on a group of "pit houses" of the Mississippian era. Norris describes the houses as approximately 18 feet long and 9 feet wide. Pieces of tools which have been found in the structures indicate they were occupied by farm workers. Information about the buildings is being gleaned from analyses of the soils. A trained archeologist can spot the former locations of posts, walls, trenches, fire pits, refuse dumps and other facilities.

Norris is convinced from what he has found at Lily Lake that it was an agricultural community, with "permanent" houses, not just seasonal shelters.

Al Meyer, a Belleville teacher who is doing graduate work at SIUE, has assisted the salvage project by plotting on maps the exact locations of artifacts and the remains of structures. Norris said a detailed map is important in arriving at precise conclusions regarding the way of life of the prehistoric culture.

The project has been beneficial from other standpoints. Employees of the National Park Service have been assigned to the job for field training purposes, and classes from area schools have visited the site. Denny said he is hopeful the scheduled drainage system which will inundate the area can be delayed long enough to permit at least another year of archeological salvage at the site.

AN ARCHEOLOGICAL SALVAGE INVESTIGATION is under way at the Lily Lake site, a 90-acre field southeast of Cahokia, by a team of graduate students from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The project was funded by a grant from the National Park Service when it was learned that at least seven of 25 known prehistoric sites in the area would be destroyed by a drainage system project.

19th Century log cabin is being reconstructed

A log cabin at least 125 years old is being reconstructed on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Students enrolled in an historic archeology class and volunteers have been working on the project since the spring quarter. According to Dave Martini of Edwardsville, a senior in anthropology and director of the project, the cabin will be completed this fall.

Located on a wooded knoll west of the SIUE Security Office, the cabin sits among trees known to be more than a century old. The structure and grounds will be a study area for future SIUE students of early American history.

The cabin will be a composite of two structures built in southwestern Illinois between 1830 and 1860. Walls were salvaged from a cabin which was dismantled piece-by-piece on a farm south of Belleville. It had one door and no windows. Archeologists believe the lack of windows indicates the cabin was erected as quickly as possible, and it also would have been warmer without windows.

The roof and floor of the Belleville structure were not original, and SIUE students searched for another cabin of the same time period. It was learned that a log cabin in Greenville park was being razed, and parts of the roof and floor from that structure will be used in the reconstruction at the SIUE site. Martini said much of the splitwood shingle roof will have to be replaced.

According to historians, the Greenville cabin was discovered in 1959 during the dismantling of a house on East Oak Ave., fronting the National Trail. It was located on property originally homesteaded in 1825.

The final dimensions of the reconstructed one-story cabin are 10 1/2 feet by 12 1/4 feet. Logs in the original walls at the Belleville site were numbered and placed in the exact same positions in the restoration. Even the wood chips used for chinking between the logs were salvaged and used again. A mixture of mud and straw provided the final sealer. For the SIUE archeologists, it is an experience in architecture and building, as well as historical studies.

Youth named on theft charges

Leonard Cole, 17, of 2012 Illinois Ave., was arrested at 8:55 p.m. Thursday and was charged with two felony counts of theft.

He allegedly stole the El Camino of Terry Cornelison, 4076 Bruene Drive, owner of Terry's Moto Service, Jill Avenue and Nameoki Road, Sept. 17.

The vehicle allegedly was used to steal the motorcycle of Richard Demaree, Rural Route Two, Box 1155, from Granite City High School North Thursday. Both vehicles were recovered by police in the 1600 block of Courtenay Boulevard.

Police also arrested Robert Bruziatis, 17, of 4028 Gaslight Walk, apartment three, and named him on a misdemeanor charge of theft, for allegedly having in his possession two wheels and tires from Cornelison's El Camino.

MAPPING archeological investigations is important in the study of prehistoric cultures. Drawing on a map the location of artifacts found at the Lily Lake site, southeast of Cahokia, is Terry Norris of St. Louis, a graduate student majoring in behavioral science at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Norris is field supervisor of the project.

Reckless conduct, burglary charged

Steven Presley, 17, of 2725 Buxton Ave., was arrested as police stopped his car at Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road at 8:45 p.m. Sunday allegedly for speeding.

He was charged with speeding and two warrants were served on him charging burglary and reckless conduct. He allegedly was one of two youths who burglarized the home of John Lasky, 2721 Buxton Ave., Sept. 11, taking a chain saw and a clock radio.

Another youth, age 16, was charged that day in connection with the burglary.

The reckless conduct warrant against Presley, officers said, stemmed from a Sept. 17, incident in which an auto drove into David Elmore, 2571 E. 27th St., an attendant at the Clark Service Station, 20th Street and Madison Ave. Elmore was not seriously injured.

STEAL SADDLES

Three saddles and a pair of boots, all worth $140, were stolen in a burglary at the home of Marlin Chance, Box 1308 Slough Road, it was reported during the weekend. Entry was gained by opening a bedroom window.

DAR Chapter marks 50 years

Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution celebrated its 50th anniversary and honored the only living charter member at the first meeting of the 1974-75 season in the home of Mrs. Ruth McCarty, the current chapter regent.

Mrs. Louis (Dorothy) Buenger of Belleville, formerly of Granite City, was presented with a 50-year certificate from the National Society of the Daughters of American Revolution for her service to the organization.

The honored guest presented a check to the chapter as a memorial to her mother, Mrs. Clara H. Needles, who was the organizing regent for the chapter in 1924.

In keeping with the golden observance of the group, Mrs. McCarty read congratulatory greetings from Mrs. Henry Jones, president general of the NSDAR, and from Mrs. Cleland Loaman, Illinois state regent. Other communications were read from Mrs. Mary Uzzell of California, Mrs. Addie Henderson of Texas and Miss Margaret Bucher of Mascoutah, all members of the chapter who were unable to attend the festive meeting.

Mrs. Janet Wilson read the president general's message and Miss Ella Ray Smith presented national defense topics of interest.

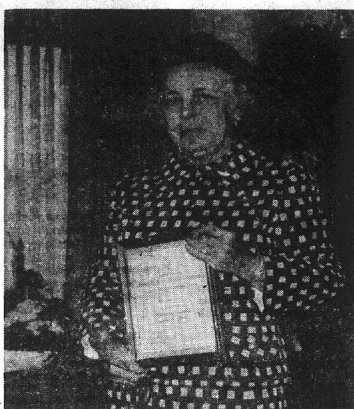

During the meeting, Mrs. Eva Meier, chaplain, conducted a memorial service for the late Mrs. Mary Connel, another charter member of the chapter. Mrs. Wilson announced she had donated an American flag to a newly organized Boy Scout Troop sponsored by the chapter.

The regent gave a brief summary on two state meetings which she and other officers attended, and Mrs. Emma Schoen, past historian, presented the scrapbook of the club's activities for the past two years.

Mrs. McCarty also distributed year books to the members and informational materials to the chapter committee chairmen.

Also present at the meeting were Mesdames Jane Ann Vanseler, Helen Gantcheff, Grace Johnson, Mamie Frohardt, Mildred Whyers, Margaret Bell, Thelma Moline, Ruth Mitchell, Barbara Williams and Miss Nelle Hart.

Mrs. McCarty invited any lady who is interested in joining the DAR, who believes she can trace her lineage back to the American Revolution, to contact her at 931-6037 or call Mrs. Emma Schoen, registrar at 931-1248. Assistance will be given by chapter members to those interested in preparing the necessary forms.

Mrs. Webb hostess to Lydia Circle

Mrs. Helen Metcalf gave a devotional lesson on "The Attributes of a Christian" at a meeting of the Lydia Circle of Namecki United Methodist Church. The group met in the home of Mrs. Lester Webb for a 1 p.m. dessert luncheon and meeting. Mrs. Virginia Barks, chairman, presided at the meeting and announced the Nov. 17 gathering will be hosted by Mrs. Mildred Hess in her home, 14 Del Rio Ave. Others present were Mesdames Marian Whitaker, Lucille Russell, Lucille Webb, Dan Seymour, Effie Vrenck and Harry Miller.

WHEN YOU NEED A REALTOR CALL REINHARDT

MR. AND MRS. PAUL CALLENDER whose wedding took place at St. John United Church of Christ. The bride is the former Miss Mona Brazel, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Smith, 3325 Village Lane. (Markus Studio)

Mona Brazel becomes Mrs. Paul Callender

The Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey officiated at a double-ring ceremony at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 14 at St. John United Church of Christ, uniting in marriage Miss Mona Brazel and Paul Callender. Mrs. Irene Barrick presided at the organ and played "Close To You" and the theme from Romeo and Juliet. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James O. Smith, 3325 Village Lane. The groom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Callender of Venice. For her wedding, the bride selected a full-length gown of ivory crepe complemented with a long-sleeved yoke designed with a smocked yoke and high stand-up collar.

She wore an ivory silk bow to hold in place a shoulder-length veil and carried a bouquet of fall flowers in shades of orange, brown and yellow intermingled with baby breath. Maid of honor Miss Carol Farley was attired in a formal-length dress fashioned of navy blue crepe, created with long sleeves and accented with white collar and cuffs. Her white picture was enhanced with long navy blue streamers and she held a bouquet of blue-tinted carnations and baby breath. The groom chose Steve Brasfield as his best man. Bill and Dale Love served as ushers. A reception was hosted by the bride's parents in their home immediately following the service.

The bride is a graduate of Granite City High School and her husband was graduated from Venice High School. They are both employed in Granite City where they are now residing.

Past regents host social meeting

The Granite City Chapter of the Women of the Moose held a past regent meeting at the Lodge, 19th and Adams streets, with Mrs. Virginia Severs serving as hostess.

Games were played during the evening and each member received a prize. Attending were Edith Rodgers, Helen Oberlin, Edna Miller, Verlen Volting, Jean Teller and Marian Lipscomb. The Oct. 15 meeting will be with Mrs. Rodgers.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Onal Sexton, Mrs. Pearl Schleeper, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Provene and Paul, Bob and Gary Herzing, Mr. and Mrs. George Stearns and Steve, Kevin, Rodney, Tally and Jodie, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Lewis and Darin, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schleeper and Kenny, Mr. and Mrs. Denny Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Johnson and David Phillip, Mary Lou Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stearns and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Herzing.

Entertaining chapter topic

A cultural program entitled "On Any Day" was given by Jane Yates and Linda Givens at a meeting of Theta Theta Sorority in the home of Linda Yates.

Their topic covered various phases of formal and informal entertainment, including table arrangements, place settings and music in entertaining. Group discussion then turned to hosting rural parties and showers and concluded with a surprise cradle shower honoring one of the members, Mrs. Ellen Brokaw.

Final plans also were made for a fund-raising project next month. Games were played after the meeting and prizes were won by Mesdames Sandy DeMoulin, Phyllis Talley and Vivian Wolfe, an aunt of the honoree, Mrs. Brokaw.

A dessert course was served by the hostess to those named and to Mrs. Thelma Chapman, the guest of honor's mother, Mrs. Norma Rains, member sponsor, and Mesdames Joyce Tracy, Martha Gianakos, Edna O'Master, Debbie Parnley and Jane Jakstad. Mrs. Jane Yates will host the Oct. 3 meeting and the program will be given by Mrs. Gianakos and Mrs. O'Master.

PARENTS FIND CANNABIS A 16-year-old boy was referred to Granite City juvenile authorities by his parents at 12:25 p.m. Sunday after the parents found 10 bags of what they believe was marijuana in the boy's room.

MR. AND MRS. BRADFORD BRANN whose wedding took place at St. Mark's Roman Catholic Church, Venice. She is the former Miss Diane Mangiaracino, a daughter of Mrs. Lillian Mangiaracino, Venice, and Benny Mangiaracino of Madison.

Diane Mangiaracino weds Bradford Brann

Miss Diane Mangiaracino and Bradford Brann were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony on Sept. 15 performed by the Rev. John O'Connell at St. Mark's Roman Catholic Church in Venice.

Burning tapers in branched candelabra and urns holding arrangements of late summer blossoms provided the setting for the evening service. Nuptial selections, "Day by Day," "We've Only Just Begun" and "Our Father" were played by the church organist.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Lillian Mangiaracino, 1252 Oriole Ave., Venice, and Benny Mangiaracino, 1706 Second St., Madison. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brann, reside at 105 E. Jackson St., O'Fallon.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length white organza gown designed with a mandarin collar, Empire bodice and long-tapered, sheer sleeves, accented with Chantilly lace.

Matching lace motifs were applied on the A-line skirt and long detachable train.

She wore a lace headpiece to secure her bouffant veil and held a crescent bouquet of white flowers interspersed with greenery. Miss Denise Mangiaracino, a sister and sister-in-law of the bride, served as honor attendant and bridesmaid.

They were dressed alike in chiffon over taffeta gowns created with Empire bodices accented with Chantilly trim that also formed the fitted cuffs of long, sheer sleeves. Both held bouquets of blue carnations and white pom poms.

Attending the groom as best man was Mark Kamden. Charles Tadlock was the groomsmen and Don and Dale Mangiaracino, brothers of the bride, seated the guests.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement.

The former Miss Mangiaracino is a graduate of St. Teresa Academy, East St. Louis, and is employed at International Shoe Co., St. Louis.

Her husband is a graduate of O'Fallon High School and Ranken Technical School. He now works at N. L. Industries, Granite City.

After a wedding trip the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Brann are now residing in Venice.

Coterie hears band students

Mrs. E. H. Theis, president of The Coterie, was hostess at the club's first meeting of the season at Tempel's Smorgasbord.

Entertainment for the meeting was arranged by Mrs. Clarence Boettiger who presented three girls from Granite City North High School band who had attended a seminar in Louisiana this summer.

The club had provided scholarships for Carolyn Goldschick and Carol Kinney who are the band field conductors and Jackie Paluski, majorette, to attend the summer session.

They arrived at the meeting in their band uniforms and reviewed the courses. They also told the group they make-up routines each week for the band to follow.

The club collect was given by Mrs. Alfred Pope and the pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. Raymond Horn.

Plans were made to attend Madison County fall meeting set Oct. 2. Mrs. William Cariss will serve as hostess and program chairman for the Oct. 3 meeting of the club at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Springfield bureau—Explosive shipments over aging rails create hazards

The Illinois Commerce Commission opened an unexpected Pandora's box in trying to establish more strict regulations for rail shipment of hazardous materials than now enforced by the government of the United States. But it is an area that must be opened—and carefully and fully explored by competent persons. The rail safety rules were proposed by the state as an aftermath of a spectacular tank car explosion in Decatur that killed seven persons, injured 150 and caused $17 million damage. As could be anticipated, there were public demands for action and the ICC responded with a proposed tightening of rules concerning shipment of chemicals, explosives and poisonous gases. That order, issued Aug. 8, became a target for controversy. The state ICC has the delicate job of balancing potential damage to industry with the prospect for more devastating rail accidents—and that is a very difficult mandate. As it turned out, the rail industry filed a federal suit that already has succeeded in postponing implementation of the order.

until at least Sept. 27. The rail case, simply put, is that the state does not have jurisdiction to issue the rules—and that, if allowed to stand, they would cripple the rail industry. The rail industry and several shippers warned that a state ICC ruling in Springfield that the order could force some chemical plants to close and cut fertilizer shipments to the state's farmers. We are pleased that the state ICC has opened this issue to public and legal debate. We believe the agricultural product industry has a responsibility to assist in the safe transport of its products but the state also has an obligation to police importation of hazardous materials from without its border and movement within its borders. We believe in the right and obligation of states to enforce regulations to protect their citizens—and we urge the ICC to press its case toward the conclusion of finding all the facts, then balancing the equities between safety for the individual and hardship (if in fact there may be any) for the shipper and farmer. The balance should be struck.

Tight money market, rate delays may dim power outlook for future years

In a week's time eight electric utilities canceled programs for new power plant construction in the East and Midwest. We can take this as the first warning of an energy crisis that could bring power brownouts and blackouts in the future. They will have nothing to do with shortages of oil or the whims of the Arabs. It is a shortage of money that is derailing efforts by the utility industry to provide the generating capacity to meet anticipated demand for electricity in the late 1970s and 1980s. Utilities are beginning to shelve expansion plans because of difficulty in financing new plants in the current tight money market and delays in getting their rates increased to cover higher prices for fuel.

Power shortages could occur in the more immediate future for another reason. The financial squeeze is also leading to curtailment of maintenance work by many utilities. Plant breakdowns are thus more likely, putting unusual demands on the national grid for distribution of available power. Fuel and borrowed money for plant investment are both expensive right now, but these are costs that must be reflected in the current utility rate structure if future needs for electricity are going to be met. If regulatory commissions are holding down rates for the sake of consumers, they should consider that it is the consumers who will suffer if there is not enough electricity to go around.

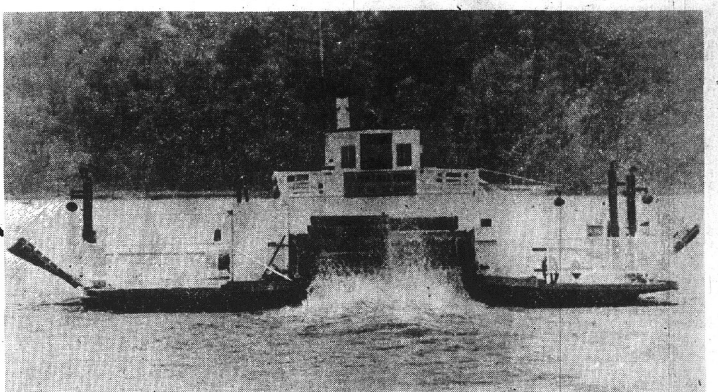

Illinois will shine brighter light on election campaign gifts, spending

Gov. Daniel Walker's signature has given Illinois an effective and badly needed campaign disclosure law, opening the doors of political financing to the public view in a way unequaled in the state's history. Perhaps there are some undetected loopholes in the somewhat comprehensive legislation passed by the summer-fall session of the General Assembly, but at least it's a start. Only the passage of time will really show the validity of Gov. Walker's optimistic statement: "The days of secret campaign financing in Illinois are over. From now on everyone giving, receiving and dispensing political funds will be living in a fishbowl. And that is as it should be." True, that is as it should be. Simply stated, one of the best ways to clean up politics is through the pocketbook—find out who is giving money to whom, and what, if anything, they hope to gain. We are less cynical than many about political campaign giving. It is our sincere belief that a citizen of the United States of America and of the state of Illinois has an inalienable right and a clear obligation under the constitution to support a candidate of his choice. And that should hold true whether the contributor is a factory-worker or a factory-owner, a farmer or a janitor. But, by the same logic, the citizens of Illinois have an inalienable right to find out the source of that money spent by candidates for their public offices. With disclosure comes caution on the part of the politician—careful accounting of his stewardship in the people's business. And that is good. The new law, which covers at least part of the current campaign for state treasurer and the state legislature, requires public disclosure of contributions and expenditures of $150 or more. It becomes effective Oct. 1 for statewide and General Assembly candidates and Jan. 1 for that is, next year—for local candidates. The only statewide race covered by the law this year is that for state treasurer between incumbent Democrat Alan Dixon and Republican Harry Page. Both have disclosed their campaign financing openly far in advance of the effective date of the law. The U.S. Senate race between incumbent Democrat Adlai Stevenson and Republican George Burditt is covered by federal campaign financing laws. So are congressional races. With this new law, Illinois becomes the 47th state to enact political campaign disclosure laws. We may be almost last, but better late than never.

Ferry operators respect the mighty Mississippi

CALHOUN COUNTY—The river ferry, once an equal standing with toll roads and toll bridges years ago, now stands on its own as the shortest but slowest distance between two points. And even though it is an obstacle in the path of motorists trying to get from point A to point B, just sit on the banks of a river and watch the faces of those whose journeys it interrupts. A father's eyes, once dim with sleep brought on by miles of boring highway, lit up with the anticipation of explaining the craft to his children. And children, bored with spreading chocolate candy on the upholstery, looked on in amazement as cars drove on and off the flat-bottomed barges. Illinois has always had a good many river ferries, since the state is nearly surrounded by water. But Calhoun County, with its small towns and rural nature, has had more ferries than any other county in the state. Located at the juncture of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, just north of St. Louis, Calhoun County has five operating river ferries. They range from the relatively new state-owned ferry at Kampsville to the old Golden Eagle at the southernmost tip of the county. Size and age are not the only things that distinguish the ferries of Calhoun County. Some have taken on the personalities of their owners while others remain pure business ventures. For some people the river,

ROLLING ON THE RIVER. The Golden Eagle Ferry churns across the river, as it has for 40 years whether it is the Illinois or the Mississippi, is nearly human in its nature and personality. For others, it is merely an obstacle and often a threat. Bud Peuterbaugh, who is in charge of operations at the Kampsville Ferry, one of two state-owned ferries in the area, has a healthy respect for the river. "You don't want to get too southern Calhoun County. Such ferries, operating a short distance north of here, are a frequent attraction for Quad-Cityans on weekend sightseeing trips.

The present situation is a far cry from a couple of months ago when the ferry, moored at its docks, sat nearly in the middle of a raging river, swollen from heavy rainfall. Peuterbaugh says the river can be a very boring place to work, and it is easy to see why. The crossing at Kampsville takes only about two minutes. Back and forth the barge and towboat travel, joined together by a swivel which enables the towboat to reverse direction after each crossing. It's a smooth operation, but a dull one too.

The dullness of river ferry life hasn't hit Fred Pullman yet, however. Of course, he's only been in the business about 40 years. Pullman operates the Golden Eagle Ferry across the Mississippi River from the southernmost point of Calhoun County.

There has been a ferry at Golden Eagle since 1922 when William Kamp first began operations there. Pullman has operated the ferry since 1933. The hull of the sternwheeler Pullman owns was built in 1933 and it began crossing the river in 1934.

Pullman comes from a long line of river people. His father ran a steamboat landing and he worked for his uncle years ago at the Deer Plain ferry, (now called the Brussels Ferry). "I don't know of anything easier to do than run a ferry," Pullman said as he leaned on a car watching the Golden Eagle cross the river. "I love being near the river. The last two years have been the worst I've seen since I've been here. But I don't know whether there is anyone to blame other than the good Lord."

Pullman's Golden Eagle has done more than just cross the river. "I've always something new happening on the river," he said. "Once during a flood I was called into service to rescue some cattle on the other side. They had been out in a field for days, knee high in water without feed. I just took the ferry right into the field, threw some feed on the deck and the cattle came running. Some of them jumped so high they cleared the gangplank all together."

What is probably Pullman's most moving experience on the river happened several years ago. It seems there had been high water in the spring which brought down a lot of sand, depositing a large sandbar right in the path of the Golden Eagle. It was a dangerous thing which the ferry had to be very careful to avoid.

"Well, one day," Pullman said, "some nuns from St. Charles were riding on the ferry and we talked for a long time. One of them said 'near the end of the crossing, 'You are a nice man, is there anything we can do for you?' Well, I said, you can get rid of that sandbar." You see, Pullman had tried to get the Corp of Engineers to do something about it, but got no results. "Those nuns got off the boat," he said, "knelt down and prayed with them. And you know, high water came, I saw a swirling over the sandbar and the thing disappeared in a couple of days. From that day on, there's never been a nun pay on this boat."

But now Pullman is slowly trying to retire. His sons think they can make the ferry pay and are working hard to do just that. But some of their new ideas aren't met with much enthusiasm by his father. "They'd be putting themselves right out of business without a paddle wheel," he said. "That's what brings people here to see the ferry." A car drove up and a man leaned out of the driver's window. "How long will the ferry be?" the driver asked. "Not long, he's coming back now," Pullman said. "Oh, I just wondered if he knew we were here."

"Don't you worry, you might not see him but he sees you," the river veteran said. Then in an aside, "He better see them, that's what're in business for."

Businesses invading residential areas

To the Editor: I am writing about the continued rezoning of residential property for commercial use which is lowering the price of residential areas. I believe this is one big contributing factor in the fast decay of downtown Granite. By permitting one residence after the other to be rezoned, once busy locations, especially on State Street, are empty and in such disrepair it gives most of the area quite a blighted look. If cleaned up and remodeled a little, many offices and businesses that are now being set up in former residences could remain downtown. Madison Avenue from the 2900 block out has quite a reputation for its offices, among others, in one nice homes. And Pontoon Road seems to be destined to go the same route. If housing is at such a premium and construction down so because of inflation, why are we allowing so many homes to be used for business and then cry and complain because downtown Granite is dying? If business didn't continue to move farther and farther out, people would have to go into the downtown area for their needs. But it is easier for them to take the line of least resistance. So long as the city fathers permit this mushrooming encroachment upon our residential areas, not only is downtown Granite lost but our residential areas will be an added eyesore.

Refunds given for pet sterilization

To the Editor: The Madison County Board deserves to be commended on its keen vision and integrity concerning a sterilization subsidy for pets which would offset the more costly liability for the public. The important point is that it was designated before the Animal Control Act was effective. Did they foresee the failure of such an act? Will the decrease of birthrate solve the problems of collecting more and more money to accelerate the death rate? I believe so. For the first time in history, an animal control program is providing a safer environment without the dangers of capturing and killing of desperate creatures. Citizens who have their pets sterilized should get their receipt from their veterinarian and collect their refund from the county. Persons who wish to receive the pet sterilization subsidy should send their receipt and request to the Animal Control Office, 212 Purcell St., Edwardsville, Ill. "Some people wonder why this is being done. Yet they never question the thousands of dollars spent by the Conservation Department to stock lakes for fishermen or to have bird preserves for hunters. This program is needed. I'm glad to see progress in this county." JANE A. HELLRUNG

Member, Humane Care and Protection Society

Lack of draft a test for Ill. Guard

To the Editor: I am writing about some very serious problems facing our Illinois National Guard. The Defense Department has designated the Guard as our first line of defense, trained and equipped for immediate deployment. The Army National Guard represents 30 per cent of the entire organized Army structure, 46 per cent of all the Army's combat elements. The Air National Guard contains 38 per cent of the Tactical Air Command's total strength, and 70 per cent of the air defense jet interceptor force. Additionally, the Illinois Guard constitutes our state military force, available to protect Illinois citizens in time of natural disaster and civil disturbance. The 49,169 Illinois Guardsmen called to state duty 42 times since 1967 (25 civil disorders, 17 floods, tornadoes, etc.) for a total of 629 days prove our need for this military protection. The recent gas-leak crisis in Chicago, an unexpected emergency of modern times, at midnight brought our Guard to their armories, prepared to meet this new problem in an organized manner. Happily, conditions improved and these citizen-soldiers were not needed. But it is a case in point. The Illinois Guard is ever alert and ready. Today, the Guard is in the throes of a "zero draft"; the units are hard-pressed to maintain required strength. They confront, too often, a lack of old-fashioned patriotism, the willingness to serve our state and country. The attitude oftentimes is, "Why should I oblige myself?" What can we do? Existing law pays tuition to residents who serve in the armed forces, who enroll in Army ROTC at state-supported universities, or who contract to teach after graduation at poverty-designated schools. "It is proposed to amend that law to pay tuition at state-supported universities, community colleges, and vocational schools to youths who join the Guard. The proposed amendment, House Bill 2118, recognizes the services rendered and about to be rendered to the state by the Illinois National Guard. I am asking your help in asking our citizens to this amendment. Admittedly, it may not in itself determine an enlistment or a reenlistment. But it supports the need for help in maintaining strength during these serious "no-draft" times. Illinois has a fine and able National Guard. With your good support we can attract quality young men and women who are so much needed during these times. Further, it will remind fellow voters to encourage their Illinois Assemblymen to support House Bill 2118. MARVIN E. ALLESEE

Senator defends plan for civic center

To the Editor: After almost half a decade of unrelenting effort let me say that I find the Edwardsville paper's position on the legislation creating the Metro-East Exposition and Performing Arts Authority more shaky than the commitment upon which Senate Bill 166 is based. It is my humble judgment that where needs are obvious, feasibility studies are superfluous. The paper shows a strange dedication to the community that supports it and that it pretends to serve. If I were that wishy-washy, I would have a very hard time getting elected to the position I now hold. If they will forgive my curiosity, (since I respect the right of the press to protect its sources, even if they are in the murkier recesses of a suspicious editorial fantasy), I would like to know who has been so sure that the location of the new civic center has already been prejudged. Let me be candid and honest; nothing would please me more than to have this facility located on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, close to the town I grew up in and now reside in. But that is a judgment to be made by the Authority, and those who consider that I wave some kind of magic wand over Gov. Daniel Walker ought to be having a better look at what is going on in Springfield. Let me also respectfully suggest that they take a good look at what might be good for Edwardsville. SAM M. VADALABENE

Cold cure quest...Although several recent clinical trials have shown that vitamin C may be effective in preventing colds, a scientist for the medical research department at E. I. duPont de Nemours Company in Wilmington, Delaware has raised the possibility that it may not be the vitamin, but a contaminant—zinc—in the tablets that produced the positive results. Bruce Korsat, Ph.D. recently reported that zinc ascorbate has been shown to inhibit the growth of 12 forms of rhinovirus, the infectious agents of the common cold.

NEWBORN CALF (picture at right) surveys its world, the dairy farm of Donald and Roger Wilkerson; the latter is shown with the seven-hour-old calf. An immaculate milking parlor is utilized for their 160 cattle, and the milk is sold to dairies and markets in this area.

CITY FOLKS (left photo) learn to concentrate on their path as they inspect the Poos farm in Madison County. The unincorporated area between the Quad-Cities and Edwardsville abounds with large, modern, scientifically operated farms that produce a wide range of needed grain and livestock. Roger Poos told the group of current farming procedures, including use of an 80-foot-tall air-tight grain silo.

Treatment plants in state being upgraded

By JOAN MURARO
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Illinois' progress in upgrading wastewater treatment facilities is moving rapidly, and the state is not likely to be hurt significantly even if President Gerald Ford continues to withhold federal anti-pollution funds impounded by his predecessor.

Dr. Richard H. Briceland, Illinois' Environmental Protection Agency director, said this week that 400 communities in the state have been notified they are eligible for funding and should begin steps one or two in the three-part process of enlarging, upgrading or building new wastewater treatment facilities.

Last June, 125 applicants in the state had been assured of priorities which guaranteed funding. Since that time, another 275 have qualified and been notified to proceed, Briceland said.

Adequate funds are available to meet the projects as they develop, he added.

Congress originally appropriated $18 billion for construction grants for sewage treatment plants. Half of this was distributed in 1973, 1974 and 1975. The remaining $9 billion was impounded by former President Richard Nixon.

Recently, federal EPA authorities were quoted as saying they believed President Ford would continue to withhold this $9 billion, at least for the present year.

Briceland said he understands that half the remaining $9 billion will be released by Ford in fiscal 1976 and the last $4.5 billion in fiscal 1977.

"Dumping the whole $9 billion on the market is no way to run the program," Briceland said.

"The best thing would be to get the money released so it can be spent intelligently."

"If it were suddenly all released at once, it would create a great demand for similar goods and services from all over the country. The result would be shortages and higher prices."

Illinois, even with half the federal appropriation being withheld, is moving "very quickly" in taking steps against water pollution by improving wastewater treatment plants, Briceland said.

Army commends Sgt. McCawley

Sergeant First Class James B. McCawley, husband of Mrs. Kelsen McCawley, 4009 Gaslight Walk, has been presented the Army Commendation Medal in Germany.

The medal was awarded for meritorious service. Such service can be over an extended period of time or for outstanding achievement in a single situation. In either case, the recipient must have demonstrated skills and dedication far above the average.

Sgt. McCawley received the award while assigned as an investigator with the 3rd Infantry Division's 3rd Military Intelligence Company in Aachenburg.

Parkview drainage plan ok'd

Plans for a surface swill drainage system to drain the Parkview Estates area of Nameoki Township were accepted by the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night and the board agreed to advertise for bids on the project.

Dates when specifications will be available and when bids will be accepted have yet to be determined.

The plans, prepared by the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab, consulting and engineering firm of Granite City, call for a concrete swill system from the intersection of Stratford and Snowbird lanes east along the road to the Alton & Southern Railroad tracks.

The railroad hopes to complete the expansion of culverts under the railroad tracks to carry the water east, but that work has been halted by a temporary restraining order and a court fight is anticipated.

Albert Bell, township highway commissioner, told the auditors the future of Parkview Estates drainage is linked with the outcome of that court case.

Farmers residing east of the railroad tracks contend drainage water from Parkview Estates now flows onto their land illegally. Township officials feel a natural watershed goes across the farm land and say the law bans anyone from blocking a natural watershed.

The township's drainage plan also includes a second proposal to drain the northern edge of Parkview Estates and unimproved land which now is a ponding area for the water.

The second plan calls for a north-south line from the ponding area south to the swill system called for in the first plan.

The auditors said the north-south system, also a swill system, would aid the owner of the unimproved land and the highway commissioner more than it would aid township residents. It was suggested the township attempt to have the highway commissioner and the landowner participate in funding for the second proposal.

The board agreed to advertise for bids on both proposals and determine whether to do all or only the first half of the plan after the costs have been determined.

The board approved bidding for the drainage project, despite a warning from the township attorney, Nick D. Vasiloff, that he felt the township was not legally able to provide drainage.

Vasiloff said he felt drainage is the jurisdiction of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District and for the township to provide drainage is, in effect, to create a drainage district within a drainage district, causing them to pay double taxes for drainage.

The attorney also said the township's stand of providing drainage with federal revenue sharing under the thin disguise of aiding the public health was on shaky legal ground.

The township also is involved in projects to drain the Harrison Avenue area and the Barnhart Subdivision.

A township resident who resides across Route 162 from Stallings School addressed the board, asking if a blocked drainage ditch behind her home could be opened. Bell said he was hesitant to go on the property because it is private property.

Auditor W. Lee Adams said he would volunteer to do the work if he could use a highway

Steel executive to speak tonight

Edgar B. Speer, U. S. Steel board chairman and chief executive officer, will be the speaker at a combined meeting of the Purchasing Management Association of St. Louis and the Steel Service Center Institute at a dinner meeting at the Chase-Park Plaza tonight.

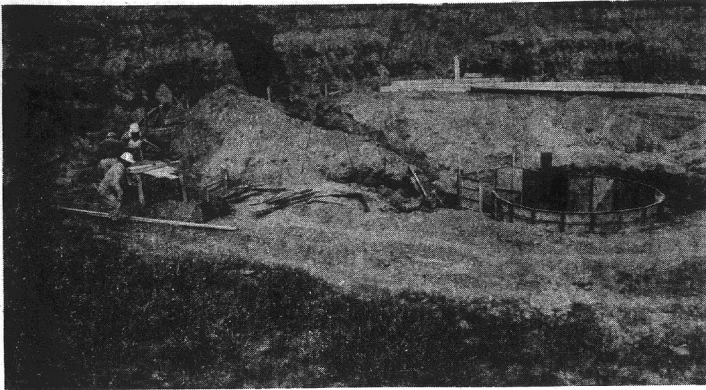

The meeting will be attended by representatives of industrial and business firms in this area. Speer is a director of the American Iron and Steel Institute and the International Iron and Steel Institute and holds memberships in the Business Council, the President's Council on Physical Fitness (business and industry committee) and the Boy Scouts of America.

department backhoe. Bell gave tentative agreement to Adams' plan, but only if permission can be obtained from all the residents involved.

The township is to contact all of the property owners involved and request their permission.

Completes advanced weapons training

Private Michael W. Watson, 18, son of Mrs. Shirley M. Watson, 2236 Cleveland Blvd., has completed nine weeks of advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Infantry Training Center, Fort Polk, La. He received general training as a light weapons infantryman and as a mortar and recoilless rifle crewman, in addition to specialized weapons instruction. He also was taught the proper use of high explosives and the placement, detection and disarming of mines. Teamwork was emphasized while he learned to work as a member of a rifle squad, mortar squad or direct fire section. Each team member qualified to perform other jobs in case of casualties. Pvt. Watson's father, John R. Watson, lives in Madison.

Motorcycle falls

Two youths were injured when the motorcycle they were riding slipped on the metal surface of the Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge and tipped over at 9:40 p.m. Friday. The driver, John Carbone, 17, of 4012 Gaalight Walk, apartment one, Pontoon Beach, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was admitted with cuts to his right knee and his chin. A passenger, John Barger, 17, of 4076 Breckridge Lane, was injured but did not require hospital treatment.

To take part directly in nation's 200th birthday, try 'above ground archaeology'

If your children all of a sudden start delving through the attic or basement, cellar or storage shed—don't be surprised. There's a good chance they are taking personal part in the commemoration of the nation's 176th bicentennial.

Should your grandchildren or great-grandchildren show a sudden interest in how life was "way back then," reminisce with them. If they want to tape record your memories, let them. You'll be contributing to the preserved history of the United States as it embarks on its third century.

Searching out "lost" documents, photographs, letters, furniture, dress and other memorabilia from days gone by, or recapturing from memories the fullness and flavor of life in earlier times are part of a nationwide Above Ground Archaeology (AGA) Bicentennial project.

Sponsored by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA), the project is one means of tapping the "grassroots history" of the nation.

By and large, ordinary citizens have left little recorded testament of their lives, but it is living history. A new effort to reach and retain these previously mute sources is being made during the bicentennial, officials pointed out today.

The ARBA has published a booklet describing the basic techniques of collecting and preserving items which can give the "archaeologist" an understanding and appreciation of what life was like in the past.

Though developed primarily for high school teachers and students, the booklet and the program are available to any interested group.

Above Ground Archaeology is available for 60 cents from: Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402 (Stock No. 2406-00528).

Text of the booklet was written by Dr. John L. Cotter, associate professor of American civilization, University of Pennsylvania. He is also an associate professor of American historical archaeology, University Museum, in Philadelphia. The text was initiated in behalf of the Society for State and Local History and the ARBA.

The booklet describes how, with patience and curiosity, one can capture the history of his or her community, and get a glimpse of how its citizens made their living, played and worshipped as the nation was growing.

It gives younger people a chance to gain personal appreciation for life before cars, planes, dishwashers, television,

The booklet carefully explains how to catalog and preserve historical documents and other items expected to be found in the nationwide search, and provides reference sources for help and advice on this and other historical projects.

In the short time since the AGA project began, attics have coughed up two major finds.

An eighth grade student in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., recovered a rare edition of the Federalist papers in his grandparents' attic.

A Kennebec River bateau, believed to be the second oldest boat built in the U. S., that is still in existence, was found in a Dreen, Ma., attic. The craft is typical of the ones used on the Kennebec River before the Revolutionary War.

The booklet also suggests making an historic base map of the community—city, township or county.

With overlays, it is possible to construct a map showing the succession of prehistoric periods, such as the earliest Indian (called Paleo-Indian) life, up through a community's earliest settlement, to a record of the development of roads, farms, industries and, finally, the modern city, town or countryside.

Historical sites and buildings would be identified, and if still in existence and threatened by new development, the amateur historian can be the first to sound the alarm.

AGA is one of the growing number—well over 2,000 at present—of local, state, regional or national programs and activities planned or already under way as part of the bicentennial commemoration.

Literally millions of people are actively involved in programs ranging from restoration of historic sites to projects aimed at improving the knowledge and understanding Americans have of each other and of the nation's multi-ethnic and racial culture.

John W. Warner, administrator of ARBA, has commented that success of the nation's bicentennial observance "will be judged on the number of participants, not the number of spectators."

Many of the players will be involved through the Above Ground Archaeology program—making an individual contribution to the history and heritage of the nation.

Workshop for school food service staffs

Harold E. Briggs, superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region, is serving as host for a regional fall workshop for school food service personnel for the counties of Madison, Calhoun, Jersey, Greene, Macoupin, Montgomery and Bond at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 2.

School food service personnel from all schools in Madison County have been invited to attend, including personnel from the private and parochial schools that are now participating in the school lunch and milk programs.

Approximately 400 persons are expected to attend.

The staff of the School Food Services Section, Office of Public Instruction, will conduct the regional workshop for school employees working with food service programs.

It will be held at the Alton Senior High School Annex, 2200 College Ave.

In order to cover as many phases of the program as possible, presentations in three concurrent sessions are scheduled for the following groups: 6:30-8 p.m., Session 1, School Food Service Managers; Session 2, School Food Service Employees; Session 3, School Fiscal and Accounting Personnel.

From 8:30 to 9:30 p.m., there will be a recap of the earlier sessions and a question and answer period.

Any schools not presently participating in school lunch and milk programs that want to be represented at the workshop may contact: Harold E. Briggs, Superintendent, Madison County Educational Service Region, 201 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville.

Fewer crimes, more solved

There were 31 fewer crimes in Granite City during August than there were during the same month a year ago, with 21 more crimes solved than there were for the same period in 1973, according to a report by Chief of Police Ronald Veiser.

The report listed a total of 247 crimes in eight categories during August, compared to 278 during the same month a year ago. Of last month's crimes, 64 were cleared, compared to 48 cleared in August 1973.

Sharpest reduction in crimes last month was in larceny offenses, with a total of 84 reported, down 36 from 120 in August 1973.

A total of 28 assault cases was reported in August, up nine, with 22 of the cases cleared, compared to seven cleared in August 1973. There were 71 burglary cases reported, down 12, with 12 cleared, down 16.

Thirty auto thefts were reported during the month, up 10, with three cleared. Up 10, with three cleared.

The report showed no fatal accidents in Granite City during the month, and none in August 1973, but 95 persons were injured in August accidents compared with 39 in the same month a year ago. Thirty-nine property damage accidents occurred, down 61 from 100 such accidents in August 1973.

August traffic accidents brought to 312 the total number of injury accidents so far this year, up from 245 for the same period a year ago, and 365 can still work, attend school, or continue doing what they are doing while in the delay program.

Persons desiring information on the Navy may contact Chief Sears at the Navy Office or phone 877-0999.

down from 905 such accidents last year.

So far this year there have been two fatal accidents in Granite City, down from five at the same time last year, and 335 injury accidents, up from 338 at the same time a year ago.

The Police Department made a total of 408 arrests during the month, up from 278 a year ago. Of these, 245 were on traffic charges and 163 on other charges.

Seventy-eight additional charges were filed, bringing total charges to 496 for last month, compared with 330 a year ago.

The report showed 15 stolen autos were recovered during the month. Sixty-nine arrests and 17 muffler vascos were made.

Study less developed countries

An experimental graduate development studies project will begin at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall, funded by a $40,000 grant from the U. S. Office of Education.

The interdisciplinary courses will combine resources of the Schools of Business, Education, Humanities, Science and Technology and Social Science.

The project involves two sequences of courses, one in social science and one in language and culture.

The social science sequence includes a team-taught colloquium, a series of short courses, and individual research on problems of less developed societies seeking to adapt and use modern technology to achieve economic growth.

The teaching team for the colloquium includes an economist, a political scientist and a natural scientist. Scholars in anthropology, sociology, planning and education will also participate.

The language and culture sequence is intended to equip the student to function effectively in a country where a language other than English is spoken. Students with no prior foreign language or limited background can enroll in intensive French or Spanish.

The language courses will introduce the student to business, current affairs and the social science vocabulary of the country at an early stage.

The developmental studies courses are planned to aid social scientists, business executives, government officials, clergy, Peace Corps volunteers and others with problems encountered in less developed countries.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Government and Public Affairs department at the university.

Early childhood center

A new program has been adopted at the Early Childhood Education Center on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with the beginning of the fall quarter.

Mrs. Ruth E. Cook, newly named director of the center, reports that children aged three to five will be accepted for either morning or afternoon half-day sessions. The program will be structured toward training for student teachers, as well as day care for children.

Children of SIUE students will be given first priority, but children of faculty and staff personnel also will be accepted if the sessions are not filled. Each session will be limited to 25 children.

Hours of the sessions are 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m. The cost is $7.50 per week for each child. Snacks and milk will be provided during each session.

Mrs. Sandra Lavern Wilson is the leader of the morning instructional program. Mrs. Rosemary Morell will head the instructional program in the afternoon session.

Mrs. Cook, who joined the SIUE faculty this fall as an associate professor of special education, is the former director of an early childhood education center in Los Angeles. She earned her doctorate in developmental psychology from the University of California at Los Angeles.

Primary purpose of the Early Childhood Education Center, an official observation facility for the SIUE School of Education, is to provide a student training program. The emphasis will be on individualization and "prescriptive" teaching for the children, based on diagnostic research.

Mrs. Cook also hopes to make the center "a more integrated part of the university," to be used by students in the various schools for research and training.

Robert Bauer has filed a suit in Madison County Circuit Court seeking $150,000 from the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis.

Bauer alleges that on Dec. 15, 1972, he was employed as a clerk and suffered injuries when he fell on an ice and snow covered railroad parking lot while walking to his vehicle. He charges the railroad with failure to remove ice and snow from the parking lot and with failure to warn him of a dangerous condition.

Data needed in applying for supplemental income

Getting information together first can save time for people applying for supplemental security income payments.

People who plan to apply for supplemental security income payments can save time by first getting together some information about themselves, according to Bill Kerr, Social Security district manager in East St. Louis.

The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 and over or blind or disabled.

"People can apply for the payments at any Social Security office," Kerr said. "When applying," he said, "it's a good idea to have with you as many of the following as possible:

A checkbook, if you have one, to show how much you have in the bank; any savings account books, stocks and bonds, life insurance policies or automobile registration cards.

Latest real estate tax statements if you own a home or any land, and last year's income tax returns, W-2 forms and evidence of all other income.

"It will save time, too," he said, "if you know how much cash you have on hand and know the value of your car, if you own one. You also should have your Social Security card."

Disabled or blind students 18

to 22 applying for supplemental security income payments should have a school identification card, tuition receipts or similar evidence of school attendance.

The supplemental security income program is run by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The East St. Louis Social Security office is at 650 Missouri Ave. The phone number is 274-2200.

33rd degree conferred

The 33rd degree of Scottish Rite Freemasonry was conferred Wednesday upon Harold G. Ewing of Fairview Heights, Jaudon S. Foster of Collinsville, William J. Hoey of Belleville and John P. Wham of Centrair.

All are members of the Southern Illinois Scottish Rite Bodies headquartered in Belleville.

The 33rd degree, an honorary degree and the highest conferred in Scottish Rite Freemasonry, is awarded for service to Freemasonry or humanity or both.

The degree was conferred in Atlantic City, N. J., at the annual meeting of the Supreme Council, George Newbury, sovereign grand commander, of Lexington, Mass., officiated.

Assisting was Myron K. Lunde of Springfield, Ill., the deputy of all Scottish Rite Masons in Illinois.

The delegation from Southern Illinois included 17 men and their wives and was led by Harold G. Baker Jr. of Belleville, the commander-in-chief.

Ewing, regional credit manager for Swift & Co., has offices in East St. Louis. He presently is presiding officer of the St. Clair Lodge of Perfection in Belleville.

Foster, a retired dairyman, is a past presiding officer of the St. Clair Lodge.

Hoey is a salesman for Hunter Packing Co. of East St. Louis. An active member of the Membership Committee of the Southern Illinois Scottish Rite, he is also a potentate aide of the Ainad Shrine Temple and is co-chairman of the Ainad membership committee.

Wham is a lawyer in Centrair. He is a former chairman of the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University. Also included in those receiving the 33rd degree were Richard B. Ogilvie, former governor of Illinois; Associate Justice Charles Davis of the Illinois Supreme Court; Associate U. S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart; and James Boggs, U. S. senator from Delaware. Over 200 received the honor.

Program for black students

The Black Student Association at SIUE will sponsor an orientation program at Tower Lake Beach tomorrow from noon until dusk.

Musical entertainment will be provided by the Black Seeds from noon until 3:30 p.m. The Sounds of Iron will perform from 5 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. Continuous entertainment including the reading of poetry, will be provided throughout the afternoon.

Picnic style food will be available from noon until the supplies run out. Full use of the lake's recreational facilities is planned. Activities will include volleyball, badminton, boating, softball and swimming if weather permits.

September 27 is the day your Ford Dealer introduces his new 1975 Fords, including the new Granada.

Automobiles built to back a challenge:

The Closer You Look, The Better We Look.

Ford honestly believes this is the finest, fullest range of automobiles we have ever offered.

And here are the facts—facts on quality, innovation and value—to back up that belief.

Granada: Ghia 4-Door Sedan. Shown with optional deluxe bumper group.

The comforts:

Granada offers a lot of pure driving pleasure. A closet look shows that this car was thoughtfully planned for passenger riding comfort and durable good taste. Both contoured front seats recline and adjust in more than one hundred positions for your individual comfort. (A feature you'll especially appreciate on long trips.)

applique, is recessed to add to front passenger comfort. Controls are within easy reach. The plush nylon cut-pile carpeting is molded for smoothness and is stain resistant.

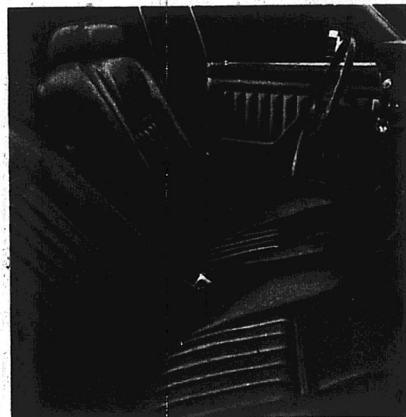

There's weatherseal around doors and windows to cut wind noise.

Granada's tuned suspension, tight body construction and sophisticated use of insulation result in a smooth, quiet ride.

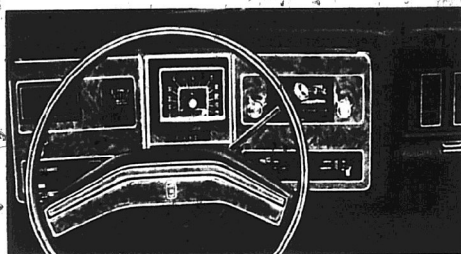

For added elegance there is the quiet luxury of the Granada Ghia in both 2- and 4-door models.

Granada Ghia 2-Door Sedan gives you a remarkably roomy interior and a wide door for easy entry. Shown with optional deluxe bumper group.

Granada Ghia. Rich look, spacious feel, full-scale comfort.

Ghia control panel is elegant, easy to read.

Ghia touches: map pockets, assist straps.

Ford's lowest-priced Granada comes with opera window. Spacious interior. Options shown: deluxe bumper group, W/SW tires, bodyside accent molding.

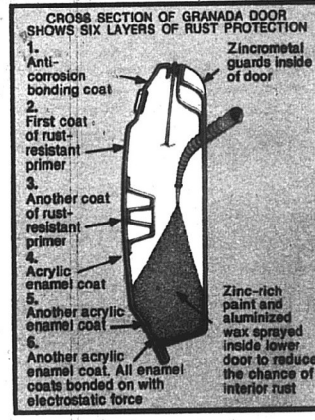

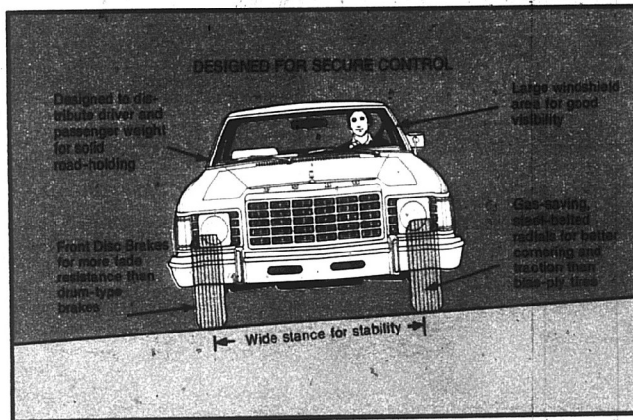

The construction:

Granada is put together to stay together. Precision machinery holds body parts in tight alignment as they are welded into a solid unit. In a separate process, the body panels are treated to help minimize vibration.

To help protect against rust, Granada's body is covered with 13 pounds of primers and chip-resistant baked enamel.

Every Granada is subjected to hundreds of inspections while it's being built so that every Granada owner will have a car with the same high level of quality.

The feeling inside Granada is solid and secure; it hugs the road. It has about the weight of a Mercedes 280.

EVERYONE SAYS COMPARE FORD TELLS YOU HOW!

Tips on how and where to look for quality and value in a new automobile.

Sheetmetal: Notice the quality of the body work. Make sure that large sheetmetal areas are not wavy. They should look smooth and taut.

Paint: A good paint job helps make a quality automobile. Be sure there are no "runs," and be sure that the texture of the paint is not rough or grainy. The color should be uniform, with all surfaces having a high gloss and luster.

Body seams: Where two panels join, make sure that the seam is even and narrow. Adjoining surfaces of metal panels should be uniform.

Vinyl top: There should be a tight fit free of ripples over the entire surface. Seams must be straight, the metal trim snug and there should be no sealer or untrimmed edges showing.

Trim: Check bright-finished areas such as bumpers and door handles closely. Surfaces should be free from discoloration. Look for a tight, even fit around windshield and windows, with no gaping joints. Exterior moldings should fit snugly and align properly.

Carpeting: It should fit snugly around seat bases, door sills, and floor tunnel. It should lie flat with no unsightly bulges and it should be thick and color-coordinated.

Instrument panel: All segments of the panel should fit precisely. Instruments must be easily readable and should be illuminated. Controls must be reachable and easy to operate. The steering column and wheel should be color-coordinated.

Windows: Raise and lower all windows to check that they move smoothly. Check for even fit all around, and full contact with weather stripping when windows are closed.

Doors: The opening line between a door and the body should be narrow and even for its full length. Door should latch firmly with a solid "clunk." A handle should not feel loose to your touch nor contain rough edges. Interior door paneling should harmonize with the seat trim, and have "scuff" protection along its bottom edge.

Your Ford Dealer invites you to see and learn all about the new Fords on his Video Network.

Granada 4-Door Sedan shown with optional bodyside accent molding, WSW tires and deluxe bumper group.

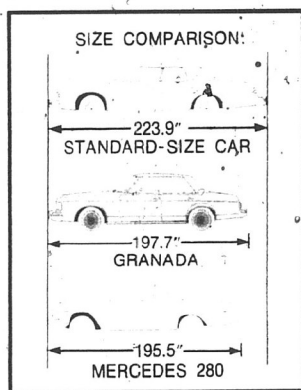

Introducing a new car designed to give you efficient use of space, fuel and money. Ford Granada: 14-18 mpg city, 18-26 mpg highway.*

The design:

Ford Granada is designed to help deal with such problems as crowded roads, increased fuel costs and maintenance. Granada is about two feet shorter and a half ton lighter than most standard-size cars. So you can expect excellent gas mileage. Yet there's family-size room inside.

Granada was designed to be functional. It has a generous glass area that doesn't slant or curve severely so visibility is good all around.

Granada's high roofline provides excellent front and rear headroom. The squared-off tail houses a roomy luggage space that can hold eight assorted pieces of luggage.

The economics:

A luxurious car today has to earn its keep. Granada doesn't back away from that fact. Its trim design helps reduce needless weight and excessive fuel consumption.

It comes with gas-saving, steel-belted radial ply tires that deliver excellent tread wear.

Granada's base engine is a 200 CID Six that's economical and easy to maintain. Along with the optional Six (250 CID) and V-8's (302 and 351 CID), it's precisely balanced to resist the vibrations that can cause engine wear. All Granadas feature solid state ignition for less scheduled maintenance than former systems.

*200 CID not available in California.

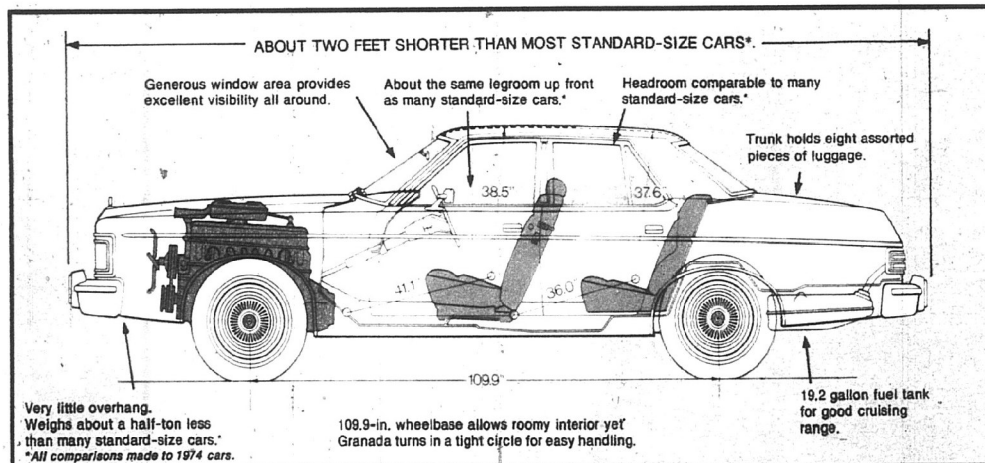

*HOW MANY MILES PER GALLON

Based on results of tests conducted by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (as of 8/9/74) using a dynamometer to simulate city and highway driving conditions, on this type of car equipped with a 250 1V engine and frequently purchased options. Your gas mileage will depend on the type of driving and driving habits, maintenance, road and weather conditions and how your car is equipped. For example, a larger engine or power-assisted options like air conditioning (in constant use) or power steering can reduce your gas mileage somewhat.

FORD GRANADA—WHAT YOU GET

In addition to standard equipment noted at left, Granada comes with:
Front disc brakes = Individual reclining seats = Deep cut-pile nylon carpeting = Burl walnut tone instrument panel = Full wheel covers.

And Granada Ghia offers even more standard features and appointments = 250 CID Six engine = Odense grain vinyl roof and matching bodyside molding = WSW steel-belted radials = Deluxe wheel covers = Remote control mirror = Deluxe sound and ride package = Deluxe interior with super-soft vinyl seats = Map pockets = Assist straps = 22 oz. cut-pile carpeting = Deluxe door panels = Quartz crystal digital clock = Luxury steering wheel, and more.

Torino: Six-passenger comfort in a solid mid-size car.

We put six seat belts in the Torino because it seats six people comfortably.

Torino gives you full-size passenger space with plenty of room for knees, heads and hips. Yet you have easy handling and mid-size economy.

Torino has the solid construction and the remarkably smooth, quiet ride that makes it such a good mid-size value. Plus a higher level of standard equipment than ever offered before on our mid-size car: 351 V-8 engine, Power Steering, Power Front Disc Brakes, Select-Shift transmission, Steel-Belted Radials. Even Solid State Ignition.

Miles and miles on one tank of gas. With a big 26½ gallon fuel tank, Torino has an impressive cruising range. So for comfort and confidence on the road with mid-size operating economy, take a good look at the '75 Torino, Gran Torino, Gran Torino Brougham and Gran Torino Sport.

Gran Torino 4-Door
Pillared Hardtop with optional WSW tires, deluxe bumper group, deluxe wheel covers.

Maverick: The proven family compact.

The one that sets the standards. Maverick—a choice of over 1,400,000 owners. Designed to be a practical car, easy to service, handle, and park. Yet very stingy on its diet of gas thanks to a standard 200 CID Six* and 3-speed manual transmission. And despite the emphasis on economy, Maverick has the luxury you'd expect in a car costing much more. If pressed to pick one word that best describes Maverick we'd choose "value." And maybe that's why Maverick has been the best selling 4-Door compact in America.

Maverick 4-Door Sedan shown with Luxury Decor Option.

You have a choice of three models: A 2-Door Sedan, a 4-Door Sedan and a 2-Door Grabber. You can add the special Luxury Decor Option (shown at left) that gives you a Maverick with all-vinyl trim, individual reclining seats, cut-pile carpeting, map light, vinyl roof, WSW steel-belted tires, color-keyed wheel covers, vinyl body-side moldings, a special Sound Package, and much more. All still at a price that's within easy reach.

*200 CID not available in California.

Three sizes from the Wagonmaster:

In all three sizes the big plus is the efficient and flexible use of cargo and passenger space. The best-selling compact Pinto Wagon carries four passengers comfortably, or with back seat folded down has almost 60 cu. ft. for cargo. All three Torino Wagons offer the economy of mid-size and 85 cu. ft. for cargo. The LTD Wagon has 94.6 cu. ft. of cargo space. And with the rear seat option both LTD and Torino Wagons can carry eight passengers.

But it is wagon conveniences that have helped make Ford Wagons best sellers, like the 3-way doorgate on both LTD and Torino Wagons. Cargo space that converts to passenger space in seconds. The optional recreation table in the LTD is designed with children in mind.

Whatever your wants or needs, Ford has the Wagon and the features to match. No wonder we say, The Closer You Look, The Better We Look.

Center: Pinto Wagon with Squire Option, optional WSW tires, luggage rack and deluxe bumper group.

Above: Gran Torino Squire with optional rear-facing 3rd seat, WSW tires, luggage rack and deluxe bumper group.

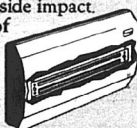

4. Nine-point Insulation Package

At least nine different locations of insulation materials are used in all Ford car lines to promote a quiet, restful ride.

5. Side door beams

Located in the doors and designed for added protection in the event of side impact collision. One of Ford Motor Company Lifeguard Design Safety Features found on all Ford-built cars.

6. Six-step paint process

Anti-corrosion bonding coat, two coats of epoxy primer and three coats of acrylic enamel for lustrous, durable, corrosion-resistant finish.

Something else you can't see.

Ford's unique Customer Service Division that stands behind any car you buy. Its job is to work with you and the dealer to keep you happy with your Ford for as long as you own it.

Ford introduces two new luxurious standard-size cars...

LTD Landau 4-Door Pillared Hardtop shown with optional Landau Luxury Group (see interior below) and fender skirts.

Ford LTD Landau: A logical alternative to longer, heavier, more expensive luxury cars.

Compare the workmanship in LTD Landau as well as its size, comfort and luxury, to much more expensive luxury cars. The main thing you don't get is hundreds of pounds of extra weight and almost a foot of extra length (compared to longer, heavier, costlier cars).

Yet you have the security of a solid full-size, well-made automobile.

The LTD Landau has all standard equipment featured in the LTD (see right). And in addition, special features and appointments of its own that make the Landau so distinctive. Compare them with more expensive cars:

- Hidden headlamps for distinctive styling
- Color-keyed vinyl bodyside moldings
- Front cornering lamps
- Flight bench seat with center armrest
- Lush knit cloth and vinyl trim
- Vinyl roof
- Electric trunk lid release
- Right- and left-hand remote control mirrors
- Automatic seat back release (2-Door).

Ford LTD: Traditional LTD Quality. Value priced.

"LTD Quality" is synonymous with a well-made, comfortable full-size car. And for 1975, LTD comes to you as the lowest-priced car in the line with a high level of quality.

Consider LTD's reputation for quiet ride. Consider its resale value. Consider that it comes with steel-belted radials and solid state ignition.

Consider the peace of mind you get from its solid construction. Designed and priced as it is, we think it offers a new level of value in a standard-size car.

What you get for your money: An impressive list of standard features and appointments.

For basic value

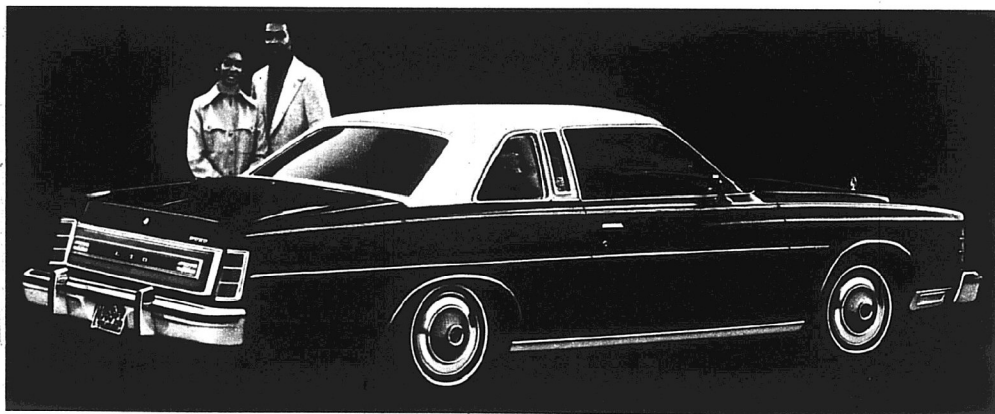

- SelectShift Cruise-O-Matic transmission
- 351 V-8 engine
- Power steering
- Power front disc brakes
- Vinyl insert bodyside moldings.

For economy and low maintenance

- Solid state ignition
- Steel-belted radials.

For luxury details that make an LTD an LTD

- Brocade cloth upholstery trim
- Color-keyed cut-pile carpeting.

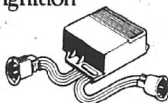

LTD 2-Door Pillared Hardtop shown with optional WSW tires, vinyl roof, full wheel covers, deluxe bumper group, front cornering lamps, paint stripes and convenience group. Note distinctive center-pillar window. An even higher level of luxury can be found in the popular LTD Brougham 2- and 4-Door models.

INSIDE STORY:

Ford shows you hidden value you can't see for yourself.

1. Solid state ignition

On all Ford car engines for 1975. It eliminates points and condenser for less scheduled maintenance.

2. Steel-belted radial ply tires

Reduced rolling friction for better gas mileage. Excellent tread wear. Standard on all Ford cars for 1975.

3. Long intervals between routine service stops

... can save you maintenance. All Ford cars, for example, are scheduled for oil changes just once every 5,000 miles and chassis lube every 30,000 miles.

Elite shown with optional WSW tires, deluxe bumper group, power-operated glass Moonroof, interior decor group, and deep dish aluminum wheels.

Ford Elite for 1975:
The tradition of Thunderbird in a mid-size car.

This mid-size is unique because Elite combines the economies of mid-size with classic styling and luxury in the Thunderbird tradition.

And in the Thunderbird tradition of value, Elite comes to you complete. Vinyl roof. Protective bodyside molding. With driving conveniences standard too: Power steering, power front disc brakes, SelectShift transmission, and steel-belted radial tires. Even an electric clock. Elite also comes with Thunderbird-inspired options such as a power-operated glass Moonroof. A luxury upholstered split bench seat and 22 oz. shag carpeting.

But with Elite it is luxury designed for the times. Along with mid-size operating economy, Ford Elite offers a 26½ gallon gas tank that gives you a cruising range you can rely on—even on long highway trips.

Personal luxury mid-size for 1975. Built by the same company that built Thunderbird. And built for the way you drive today.

Thunderbird shown with optional Copper Luxury Group, convenience group and power antenna.

The 1975 Thunderbird: Could it be the best luxury car buy in America?

Owning a Thunderbird is something very, very special. Yet most of Thunderbird's "luxuries" actually come standard. Air conditioning, steel belted whitewalls, and a whole lot more. Thunderbird 1975. Simply beautiful. And a beautiful buy.

Personal luxury in 3 sizes...

Mustang II Ghia 2-Door Hardtop shown with optional V-8 engine and bumper guards.

Mustang II: The sporty personal luxury car...now with a V-8 engine.

The success car of '74 is doing it again.

In its first full year Mustang II was a new idea that ran away from all its so-called competition.

Now for '75 we've made Mustang II even more exciting with a new optional 302 V-8 and a 2.8 Liter V-6. And to the impressive list of standard features, we've added improvements: gas-saving, steel-belted radial ply tires, and solid state ignition for less scheduled maintenance. Other standard features include bucket seats, 4-speed transmission, front disc brakes, a gas-sipping 2.3 Liter 4-cylinder engine, rack-and-pinion steering.

For '75, the luxurious Mustang II Ghia sports exciting new styling changes. From its distinctive new grille and opera windows to the classic vinyl roof, Mustang II Ghia is a small car with a high level of style and luxury. Inside you'll find plush bucket seats, a digital clock and extra-thick deep shag carpeting.

Last year's success car offers even more of a personal choice in '75.

2-Door Hardtop, 2-Door Ghia, 3-Door 2+2, and a sporty Mach 1. Which ever one you choose, Mustang II offers plenty of driving excitement for your money.

3-Door 2+2 with optional W/SW tires, wheel trim rings and bumper guards.

Mustang II Silver Ghia features Cranberry crushed velour seating. Shown with optional Moonroof, cast spoke aluminum wheels, convenience group, bumper guards, V-8 engine and Silver Luxury Group.

Pinto 3-Door Runabout shown with optional WSW tires, deluxe bumper group and exterior decor group.

Pinto: Still a leader in basic transportation.

Check out Pinto's price for 1975. It's very competitive. Check out Pinto's gas mileage. It's great. Then when you discover how well-made it is (see column at right), you understand why Pinto remains a leader.

Lots of room, too. Open up a Pinto 3-Door Runabout and you'll find a surprising amount of luggage space. Sit inside a Pinto and you'll enjoy the design efficiency that makes for real riding comfort.

Important features. Pinto is the only American-made subcompact from a major manufacturer to offer rack-and-pinion steering for precision handling. Pinto has a 4-speed transmission standard, not a 3-speed. And a 2.3 Liter engine. New this year is an optional 2.8 Liter V-6 engine on the Runabout and Wagon models. You can even order power steering and power front disc brakes on all models.

With three kinds of Pintos to choose from—2-Door, 3-Door, and Wagon—is it any wonder Pinto's outsold every other subcompact in America since its introduction.

Pinto, like all Ford cars—well made at any price.

The Pinto is built up to Ford standards not down to a price. Because a small car has to offer the same thing as a big car . . . value for the money. Here are some of the common features:

1. Big Car Safety Features. All Ford Life-guard Design Safety Features in an LTD are found in the Pinto.
2. Solid state ignition. For less routine scheduled maintenance.
3. Full immersion electrocoat body primer. Electrical attraction forces rust-proofing primer into nooks and crannies of the Pinto body.
4. Long scheduled maintenance intervals. Pinto's long intervals between service help make it economical to own.
5. Self-adjusting front disc/rear drum brakes. Pinto's disc brakes that resist heat and moisture are combined with long-wearing drum brakes for good stopping power.
6. Rubber-insulated suspension components. Road noise and vibration are greatly reduced with Pinto's front and rear rubber-insulated suspension system.
7. Steel-belted radial tires. They give excellent tread life and also help gas mileage.
8. Six-step electrostatic paint process. Anti-corrosion bonding coat, two coats of rust-resistant primer and three of acrylic enamel are applied to the steel body shell by an electrostatic process for a tough, beautiful finish.
9. Double-wrapped aluminized muffler. Saves money on the service life with a muffler that resists corrosion.
10. Corrosion-protected under body parts. Galvanized sheet steel and zinc-rich primer protect vital areas.

You haven't seen anything yet.

We can't show you everything here. There's just too much to see.
In value. In features. In exciting new models. Both cars and trucks, too.
So go to your Ford Dealer. Above all, get set to look close.

How to look close at pickups

Ask your Ford Dealer for this new free book. It covers tips on how to check pickup quality, durability, operating economies, resale value, and more.

Everyone says compare. Ford tells you how. When you're about to buy a new car or truck, you'll probably look around for the model that you feel will give you outstanding quality and value. How can you be sure what you look at measures up?

To help you decide, Ford asked its technical experts for suggestions on what to look for in judging any size car or pickup. Their helpful tips have been compiled in two books available free at your Ford Dealer's.

"The Closer You Look Books" cover tips on how and where to look for quality and value. For example—how to look for extra precautions taken to ensure durability—like careful workmanship and the quality of materials used. Body fit and finish. How well the interiors are tailored. How easily windows work. Small details, but all together they tell the story of quality and value.

Now that you've had a brief look at the well-made '75 Fords—Thunderbird, LTD Landau, Elite, Torino, Ford's new Granada, Mustang II, Maverick, and Pinto—you can recognize some of the innovations that are a hallmark of Ford. But we urge you to take an even closer look—to see, drive and experience our new cars for yourself. If we're right about them, you won't be disappointed.
